DICKY BAYLESS WILL STAY WITH HAPS FOR REMAINDER OF YEAR

Manager Hogan Says Sending Star Batsman to Chicago Would Wreck Club.

HARKNESS COMES NORTH

Speckled One Is Making His First Trip Home of Season: Venice Leader Says All Men Are in Shape.

"There's nothing to the press article to the effect that Dick Bayless will be sent to the Chicago White Sox in the next six weeks. We couldn't afford to weaken our team right now. Bayless is the most valuable player in the Coast league right now, and it would almost be suicide to have him off our club."

That was the statement this morning of Happy Hogan, manager of the Venice club, which arrived this morning for a seven game series with the Portland Beavers, who reach town this afternoon on the Shasta Limited from Los Angeles. Several reports have been started from Los Angeles that Bayless was going east, and President Eddie Maier of the Venice club was quoted as saying that if President Co miskey does not change his mind he will exercise the option taken when he turned Doc White over to the Hap's Majer has just returned from the east where he had a conference with Co

"Mr. Maier would rather win the Pacific Coast league pennant than find $100,000 in the middle of the street." continued Hogan. "This year we have our best chance to gather the champlenship and we are not going to weaken the club at this stage. Bayless is just as big an asset to us as Buddy Ryan was to McCredie in 1911. t is cut and dried for Bayless to throughout this year he will remain with us. He has driven in more runs by far than any man in the league and if he continues his good work we will win the pennant.

Manager Hogan brought along his first trip of the season to his adopted home, Portland, "Speck" was not in good shape on the last trip and he left the spotted one behind, much to his
