STATE-WIDE "DRY" PETITION BREAKS ALL RECORDS FOR NAMES

The Proposed Constitutional Amendment Filed by Mrs. F. S. Myers at Capital.

OTHER MEASURES OUT

Every County in the State Represented in Signers of Prohibition Bill.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)

Salem, Or., June 30.—Carrying the largest number of names ever presented on an initiative petition in Oregon, the proposed constitutional amendment for statewide prohibition was filed yesterday afternoon by Mrs. F. S. Myers, wife of Postmaster Myers of Portland. Mrs. Myers was accompanied by Arthur Houck, assistant secretary of the committee of one hundred, which was tentatively organized for carrying on the preliminary campaign for a dry state.

The measure proposes an amendment to article I of the constitution, and provides that "from and after January 1, 1916, no intoxicating liquors shall be manufactured or sold within this state, except for medicinal purposes upon prescription of a licensed physician, or for scientific, sacramental or mechanical purposes."

Those initiating the measure are Joseph H. Albert, Salem; G. H. Billings, Ashland; P. J. Brix, Astoria; Leslie Butler, Hood River; Dr. R. C. Coffey, Portland; Mrs. Frederick Eggert, Portland; William T. Foster, Portland; Mrs. Lois P. Myers, Portland; Alfred C. Schmitt, Albany; J. R. Wilson, Portland.

Petitions were circulated and names secured in every county in the state by the Anti-Saloon league, W. C. T. U., Prohibition party and persons working independently. The W. C. T. U. secured 8085 names, the Anti-Saloon league 12,155 names, and the Prohibition party 13,858 names.

This is the seventh completed initiative petition to be filed with the secretary of state. Twenty-four other proposed measures, which have been submitted to the secretary of state for approval as to form, are still out. Next Thursday is the last day that initiative petitions may be filed in time for submission to the voters at the November general election. The proposed measures still out are as follows:

Graduated sur-tax amendment, by H. D. Wagnon et al.

Land condemnation amendment, by C. S. Jackson.

Law taxing all land that is not public property, by C. S. Jackson.

To prohibit paid circulation of petitions, by Jonathan Bourne Jr.

Prohibiting conduct of business and amusements on Sunday, by Washington County Christian Endeavor union.

To abolish state senate, Oregon State grange et al.

For proportional representation, State Federation of Labor et al.

Abolishment of death penalty for crime in Oregon, by Paul Turner.

To simplify the introducing of initiative measures by abolishing the circulating of petitions, by A. M. Crawford.

To vest authority in the governor to veto single sections or items in legislative bills, by A. M. Crawford.

Colsolidating and abolishing certain offices and commissions and limiting appropriations, by William A. Carter.

To establish department of industry and public works, by the Socialist party of Oregon.

Licensing itinerant dealers and peddlers, by Retail Traveling Men's association.

Franchise qualifications amendment, by the Socialist party of Oregon.

Consolidating the office of corporation commissioner with that of state insurance commissioner, Ernst Kroner et al.

Empowering governor to remove from office district attorneys, sheriffs and constables, etc., by Oswald West, governor.

An act to provide for revoking the franchises of the Portland Gas & Coke company, by J. I. Tucker et al.

Equalizing terms of county officers, by R. P. Rasmussen et al.

Fixing the compensation of county officers of Hood River county, by Park Grange, No. 501.

Law to provide for a commission to draft a tax code, by Non-Partisan league.

Authorizing 5 per cent differential in favor of Oregon manufactured products on public contracts, by Manufacturers' Association of Oregon.

To require a two thirds vote to enact unequal taxation amendment, by David M. Dunne et al.

Supplementary primary act, by David M. Dunne et al.

To regulate the practice of dentistry, by John T. Cochran.

"Jump-Off Joe" Protected.

Salem, Or., June 30.—Jump-off Joe, well known and popular rock near Newport, is the property of the state, so far as Attorney General Crawford can ascertain, and the state, through the state land board, has the right to prohibit the placing of advertising matter upon the rock, according to the attorney general's opinion, given today to A. L. Thomas of Newport. The rock belongs to the state by virtue of the fact that it is within the three mile limit of the coast.

Watson Goes East.

Salem, Or., June 30. — Corporation Commissioner R. A. Watson has left for Atlantic City to attend the meeting of the National Association of State Supervisors of Banks, at which it is proposed to frame a model bluesky law.

Studying the Water Law.

Salem, Or., June 30.—Anticipating that California will adopt a new water code at the general election next fall, Miss Josephine A. Patton, secretary of the conservation commission of California, spent the day here yesterday conferring with State Engineer John H. Lewis about the operation of Oregon's water laws. The proposed water law in California has been subjected to the referendum, and will be voted on at the next eelction.

Corporation May "Come Back."

Salem, Or., June 30.—A corporation dissolved by proclamation of the governor may be reinstated in the state without the consent of the governor by paying not less than the amount of fees due the state at the time of the dissolution, according to an opinion of the attorney general given to J. F. Hall of Marshfield.

Proposed Troop Held Up.

Salem, Or., June 30.—In a telegram to his secretary, Governor West, who is in the east, requested that the organization of cavalry troops in this state, which was started some time ago, be deferred pending a more definite understanding with the war department. He says he wishes no further action taken which will create any national expense until the several matters he now has under negotiation with the war department are settled.

May Move School House.

Salem, Or., June 30.—A school district building a schoolhouse on government land is taking chances, as the attorney general advised State School Superintendent J. A. Churchill today that a person filing a homestead on the land can force the removal of the schoolhouse.

No More Bounties.

Salem, Or., June 30.—James Watson, county clerk of Coos county, was advised today by the attorney general that county clerks should not issue any more warrants for scalp bounties on wild animals, as the state's fund for paying half the bounty is exhausted, and the law does not contemplate having the county pay all of the bounty.

NURSES IN TRAINING RECEIVE THOROUGH INSTRUCTION IN DIETETICS

Class in dietetics, Good Samaritan hospital.

The special course in dietetics for nurses in training which was inaugurated at Good Samaritan hospital in November has proved highly successful. The course covers three and a half months and consists of 12 lectures alternated with 14 lessons in a perfectly appointed laboratory or cooking class kitchen. Miss Laura Beatrice Houghton, a graduate of the State college of Kansas, is the teacher in charge of the classes. Already two classes have been graduated and the third class had its ninth lesson Thursday afternoon.

Up to a few years ago the only instruction a nurse in training received in cookery was that gleaned from two or three hours a week spent in the diet kitchen helping the diet cook prepare food in large quantities. Fanny Farmer, an authority on cookery, was the first to institute special classes for nurses in the hospitals and so popular did these prove that similar classes are now being made a part of the training in the large hospitals throughout the country.

The theory and scientific part of the work is gained through the lecture course while the actual practice, the experience of personally preparing food is gained in the laboratory, where the lessons are classified as follows: Water and beverages, fruits and how to serve them, sugars, starches, fats, meats, soups, gelatine, poultry, leavening agencies, salads and sandwiches, desserts, therapeutic cookery and final examinations.

The classes are greatly enjoyed by the girls and that their products are par excellence is attested by their patients, who are occasionally favored with an especially tempting tidbit. Aside from the knowledge of how to prepare food, the girls are carefully instructed in food values, the relation of one food to another and the effect of food on the human system, as well as the special kinds of food to be served to persons suffering from different diseases.

Victrola Selections for July Excellent

Unusual Variety of Dance Music Offered as Well as Some Admirable Numbers by World Famous Artists.

Beachgoers who anticipate dancing to their Victrola while at the seashore this summer will find an admirable selection of dances in the list of Victor records for July which has just appeared.

The Victor Military band contributes "Sympathy Waltz Hesitation," "Swanee Ripples Rag," a one step, a new hesitation by F. Henri Klickman and "Who Paid the Rent for Rip Van Winkle," a one step. The Castle House orchestra which plays for Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle, popular exponents of modern dancing, plays two new maxikes, "Bayo Baya" and "Creole Girl."

Outstanding among the July records are a number of Red Seal records introducing new stars or old stars in new combinations.

Among the renditions may be mentioned the old German favorite, "Du, Du Liegst mir im Herzen" by Alma Gluck and Paul Reimers, a duet between Caruso and Emmy Destinn singing "Am Indomitable Force," from Gomez' Portuguese opera, "Il Guarany," and the first duet by Frieda Hempel and Pasquale Amato from the second act of "Traviata."

Margerete Ober, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan, sings "Star of the Mariner," from Gioconda, making her Victor debut as an exclusive artist. Amato, Julia Culp, McCormack and Kreisler and Paderewski are only a few of the other stars.

A feature of the month is the presentation of two marches by the United States Marine band, commonly called the president's own, and some dainty duets by Margaret Romaine and George McFarland, co-stars of the New York success, "The Midnight Girl."

State Publication Devoted to Drainage

June Number of "Mineral Resources of Oregon" Discusses Exhaustively All Phases of Subject.

The June number of "The Mineral Resources of Oregon" published by the Oregon Bureau of Mines and Geology is devoted entirely to the subject of farm drainage. Under the head of "Drainage of Farm Lands in the Willamette and Tributary Valleys of Oregon," Ira A. Williams discusses drainage fully.

Mr. Williams starts in by telling what drainage is, points out the drainage problems, shows where land is poorly drained in the Willamette and other valleys and tells the effect of drainage on soils.

He further points out the way under the Oregon law to establish drainage districts and gives a brief resume of the Oregon drainage laws.

Mr. Williams also writes at length respecting the design and construction of drainage systems, the proper kind of tile to be used and goes into the question of costs and profits. The publication is copiously illustrated.

Douglas Bids Too High.

Roseburg, Or., June 30.—Receiving only one bid in answer to advertisements for the improvement of certain sections of the road in Douglas county, and that one double the engineer's estimate, the Douglas county court has decided to improve the roads by day labor under the supervision of the county road supervisor. Bids were asked for the improvement of the road near Rice Hill, Ruckles and Canyonville, and the grading and planking of about 8000 feet of road on Camas mountain.
