BUSINESS BRISK TODAY ON FRONT STREET WITH HOLIDAY NEAR AT HAND

Poultry Market Clears Up in Fine Shape as Result of Heavy Buying for Seattle Consumers; Watermelons Are in Good Demand.

Business was brisk on Front street this morning, grocers buying heavily to supply the trade for Saturday and Seattle against maximum temperatures of about 75 degrees; northeast to Spokane, 95 degrees; southeast to Boise, 95 degrees; south to Ashland, 92 degrees. Maximum temperature at Port-Saturday, the Front street merchants will remain in their stores emerchants will remain in their stores only long enough to take care of what stuff comes in by express and then close for the day. Perishable goods therefore are not wanted by the end of the week as under existing weather conditions they would not hold over.

Because of Saturday being a holiconditions they would not hold over.

Because of Saturday being a holiday the berry trade has been somewhat dult this week. That housewives do not feel inclined to put up fruit with the holiday coming on, the volume of trade indicates. Next week, it is expected there will be a good demand for berries in season, particularly logan-berries. In order to move some stock last night reduced prices were made. last night reduced prices were made loganberries selling as low as 50 cents. This stock would not hold and so the price cannot be taken as a governing quotation, the top price being $1 per

TOMATOES MORE PLENTIFUL

Hearing In Case Against House" Saloons Brings Out Some Interesting Testimony.

That the liquor laws are being con-tinually violated and their is no con-lodge, No. 150, of Rebekahs, has certed effort toward their enforcement, was the statement of George Thacher.

"If the liquor dealers were required Best shorn yearlings ....$4.50@5.00 to live up to the provisions of the Best shorn ewes ...... 4.60@4.25 liquor laws," said Mr. Thacher, "and an made to understand that violations 5.25@5.85 would result in revocation of licenses, there would be a stop put to the prac-tice of drunkenness. While I am not in favor of prohibition I am in favor of 7.00@7.50 regulation and stringent laws." Says Liquor Is Inferior.

Mr. Thacher was responsible for bringing the case of Margulis before the city council. He charged that liquor was sold to drunken men, and that the liquor which was sold was of an inferior quality and sold to those who were "down and out." Testifying as to the reputation of the place, John H. Stevenson, municipal judge, said that in cases brought before him of vagrancy and drunkenness the "bottle house" saloons were Molalla grange, in its hall here. "If you would put a drop of the liquor sold at the places on a rabbit's tongue," said Patrolman John Wellbrook," he would fight a bull dog. We call the stuff sold there, paint. A few drinks of the stuff would cause a man to go out on the street and bark, and even cause the best man in the world to fight his closest friend." Depositions were read from W. G. Canada Enforces Rigid Inspection Secretary A. A. Prince of the North-vestern Fruit Exchange of this city has made a personal canvass of the Canadian markets, and is strongly impressed with the fact that there is very indication that the Canadian quarantine law is going to be enforced more rigidly than ever. The newspapers have been agitating "Buy British Columbia Products" and much pressure has been brought to bear on the government that the law shall be administered in its full technical requirements Mr. Prince makes the following de-liberate recommendations: Inspection of all fruit intended for Canadian destination should be un-usually rigid, and every single box bearing even the slightest trace of coddin moth or any disease should be cars the cars should be swept thor-Before loading the fruit in railway Funigate each car before loading.
