BODIES SENT TO VIENNA

Violent Expressions Reard Against Servians; Police Had Difficulty in Suppressing Outbreak.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Trieste, July 2.—The Austrian battleship Viribus Unitis arrived here today bearing the bodies of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, asmassinated Sunday at Serajevo, Bosnia.

Not only was Francis Ferdinand hated for having maneuvered the Austrian annexation of the strongly Servian provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina, which Servia thought it should have had when they passed from Turkey's control, but he was also blamed for having prevented the Servians W. M. from getting their fair shar ritory from the recent Balkan war and suspected of having designs against the rest of their country as

News of his death was received here with outspoken rejoicing and Prinzip's act was generally regarded not as a crime, but as a deed of high
