

CONDITION OF BANKS REPORTED AS GOOD; SOME SHOW A GAIN

Generally, Reserves Are Strong and Resources Increase.

BUSINESS IS IMPROVING

Returns Made to Comptroller of Currency for Status at End of Business on June 30.

Of 20 banks in Portland responding today to the call of the comptroller of currency for the condition of banks at the close of business June 30, five of 13 reporting up to noon today show increases in resources, five increases in deposits and six increase in loans and discounts.

Available figures, however, indicate that deposits are less than at the corresponding period last year, June 4 when a call was issued. At that time the deposits totaled $74,628,952.74; total resources of all banks aggregated $98,240,232.50, and loans and discounts were $47,188,154.

At the present time deposits are under $70,000,000, according to available data, and loans are materially less.

Smaller Banks in Good Shape.

One thing particularly noticeable is the deposit showings made by the smaller banks as compared with the larger institutions. The major portion of them show either increase in deposits or very little loss in deposits.

That business is on the upgrade in securities is shown by the fact that the last few weeks are a general thing. One of the medium sized banks, for instance, reports an increase of approximately $112,000 in deposits since March, a showing which reflects conditions in other institutions as well.

The amounts on deposit in 13 banks reporting today follows:

Table with 2 columns: Bank Name, Deposits. Includes First National, United States National, Lombard's National, etc.

The major portion of business is carried in these banks and their condition reflects the general situation, which is improving.

BLOODHOUNDS PUT ON TRAIL OF THE BANDITS

(Continued From Page One.)

he believes, he is convinced that the dead bandit is his son.

A better picture and more detailed description of Whitney are expected this afternoon from Pocatello.

With blood hounds, Sheriff Taylor and Chief Agent Woods left on this morning's train for the scene of the robbery. Tracks leading down from the railroad embankment are plainly visible and the hounds will be tried for the scent there.

Deputy Sheriff Hughes yesterday found a trail leading to Kamela and the hounds will also be placed on it. The theory that the man seen in an automobile is still held by some of the officers while others reject it.

Deputy Sheriff, George McDuffee, slayer of the dead bandit and hero of the robbery, is still in the hospital today. His wife and baby arrived yesterday by auto from Heppner.

Through a young man he has six children. He is the Republican nominee for sheriff at the fall election.

May Be Charles Whitney. (Special to The Journal.)—That the dead train robber at Pendleton may be Charles Whitney, a brother of Hugh Whitney, the famous outlaw, is the belief expressed by F. W. Flowers of this city, who lived with the Whitneys at St. Anthony and Star Valley, Idaho, for some time. He knows the Whitneys well and is certain that it is not

Power of Word 'if' Is Again Demonstrated

Short Line Agents Had Not Shown Favor; Traffic Manager Miller Would Have Been Obeyed Train.

That little word "if" is causing Traffic Manager R. B. Miller of the O. W. & N. Co. no small satisfaction since the train robbery near Meacham early yesterday morning.

If the car service agent of the Oregon Short Line had not thought to accommodate Mr. Miller, his private car would have been part of the ill fated train. If it had been, it would have been on the rear, and it had been on the rear, the robbers would have boarded it instead of the Pullman of the robbed train.

As it was, however, the car service man offered to put the car on No. 9 the first main train, which gets into Portland at 7 a. m., five hours ahead of No. 9, although it would have the limited passenger. The officials had not looked for this courtesy, expecting to have their car put on the regular passenger train accepted a however, it was found upon reaching Portland that they had escaped the onslaught of the bandits.

As it was, however, the car service man offered to put the car on No. 9 the first main train, which gets into Portland at 7 a. m., five hours ahead of No. 9, although it would have the limited passenger. The officials had not looked for this courtesy, expecting to have their car put on the regular passenger train accepted a however, it was found upon reaching Portland that they had escaped the onslaught of the bandits.

Hugh, but admits there is a resemblance between the picture and Charles, a less famous bad man.

That he is George Chandler is disputed. The horse and auto theories have been abandoned.

BREWER DISCOVERS TRAIN HOLD-UP IS NO JOKE OF FELLOW ELKS

Pendleton, Or., July 3.—H. B. Royce, a Walla Walla brewer, was probably the heaviest loser by the train robbery Thursday morning in this county. Besides some small change the bandits secured from Royce a howler ring valued at $700. Royce had been in La Grande on business and late in the evening had attended "The Days of '49," an entertainment given by the La Grande lodge of Elks. A rule of the entertainment forbade anyone with white collars in the hall and a couple of Elks had men had ejected him at the point of empty revolvers.

Soon afterward, he boarded No. 5 and was soon asleep in the second chair car. The next he knew he was prodded into wakefulness by a couple of six shooters and very naturally thought it was a bunch of Pendleton Elks coming home. When they requested him to remove his ring, he "kidded" them until they gave him a couple of more vicious jabs with the guns. "What do you think this is, a picnic?" the leader said and at the same moment seized his hand and roughly shoved off the ring. "Get you will be a fat one," he said, "Come through with the roll." Royce pulled out $2.45 in change he had and threw it in the sack but kept his purse in which was $40. They cursed him and ordered him to produce the remainder but finally in their hurry, decided not to bother him more.

The testimony of a chemist who had examined the liquor was also taken. Later samples were passed around and several whiffs taken by the mayor and commissioners. None of them touched them with their lips, however, except Commissioner Dieck, and he only took a sip.

Owing to the fact that Commissioner Bigelow is leaving for Astoria tomorrow, the adjournment was continued Tuesday morning.

REWARD OF THOUSAND DOLLARS OFFERED FOR CAPTURE OF ROBBERS

Vice President and General Manager J. P. O'Brien of the O. W. & N. company today issued formal notice that a reward of $1000 will be paid by the company "for information resulting in the arrest and conviction of anyone and each of the persons who feloniously held up its train No. 5 between Kamela and Meacham, Or., on the morning of July 2, 1914."

Today's official reports from the scene of the robbery were meager. Beyond the fact that posers are still searching the hills in every direction, with no trace so far of the bandits, the dispatch contained nothing bearing on the holdup.

General Manager O'Brien started in his office car toward the scene, but it is said his mission had nothing to do with the holdup, though he probably would visit the spot.

Owner Puts Up Bond. Ella Stephens this morning put up a $5000 bond for the use of a street will be used in the future for public purposes. The bond follows the filing of abatement proceedings in which she was named as owner and Jennette Du Bois as lessee of the property.

Abatement Proceedings Begun. Abatement proceedings against Ada Wilson, as defendant, and Jacob Ecker, as agent, were begun yesterday by District Attorney Evans. The property involved is located at 349 Flanders.

COUNCIL LISTENS TO ARGUMENTS FAVORING 'BOTTLE HOUSE' MAN

William Margulis Resists Proposed Ordinance Revoking His License.

ACTION IS POSTPONED

Reformed Man Charges Intoxicants Repeatedly Sold Him and Other Intoxicated Persons.

After listening for more than two hours to the defense of W. Margulis, proprietor of the "bottle house" saloon, Second and Burnside streets, whose liquor license is in danger of being revoked, the city council today postponed action until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. More than a dozen witnesses were called in defense of Margulis, including employees, special patrolmen and frequenters of the place. The city has as its principal witness Frank Frisky, formerly a habitual drinker, who underwent reformation about six months ago.

In the ordinance introduced by Mayor Albee it was provided that the license held by Margulis for a "bottle house" on First and Madison streets, also, be revoked, but on the motion of Commissioner Daly, at Mayor Albee's suggestion, this was omitted and the question confined to saloon on Burnside street.

Prinky in his testimony said that he had been arrested so many times for drunkenness it was impossible for him to give an accurate number. He said that for three years more than three quarters of his time was spent at the rack.

"That old bottle house, gentlemen," said Prinky, "was responsible for me going to jail. They sold me whiskey and wine when I was drunk lots of times. I have stood at the bar with other drunken men and drank the stuff."

W. G. MacLaren, superintendent of the Portland Commons, testifying for the city, told of men he knew to be habitual drunkards who had been served in the place. George Thatcher also testified for the city.

Mayor Albee's testimony stated that he was trying to obey the law in every particular and that the liquor sold was just as purchased, all bearing the government stamp. He presented statements to substantiate his declarations. He said strict orders were in force at the place never to sell liquor to anyone who was drunk. His employees also testified that this was enforced.

The testimony of a chemist who had examined the liquor was also taken. Later samples were passed around and several whiffs taken by the mayor and commissioners. None of them touched them with their lips, however, except Commissioner Dieck, and he only took a sip.

Owing to the fact that Commissioner Bigelow is leaving for Astoria tomorrow, the adjournment was continued Tuesday morning.

ADOPT RULES FOR MARKET

Council Takes Action on Commissioner Bigelow's Suggestion. As a result of a conference held yesterday afternoon between representatives of the Producers and Consumers' Exchange and the city council, the council at its meeting this morning adopted the commissioner's report on a set of rules and regulations for the operation of the market.

Mr. Bigelow recommended that the city charge 10 cents per day rental for each stall in the public market used by individual producers, and 25 cents a day for stalls occupied by associations or organizations. An assessment of 10 cents a day is proposed to be charged for each additional clerk employed by producers exclusive of members of its immediate family.

In an ordinance introduced and to be acted upon early next week it is provided that each stall holder must sign an affidavit to the effect that he is a bona fide producer. The measure created the position of market master at a salary of $100 a month and an assistant at $50 a month.

During the discussion on the market question C. B. Ellis, representing a number of small independent market men and grocers, protested to the council that some of the dealers were not bona fide farmers, but purchased their stuff from commission men and

MUST TAKE EXAMINATIONS

Ruling Affects Police Sergeants and Detectives Alike.

Instead of being political appointees as they have been in the past, sergeants of police and the detectives are to be required to take civil service examinations to hold their positions, according to a decision of the Municipal Civil Service board yesterday when it ordered that an examination for sergeants be held immediately, which means that all of the holding the positions will have to take the examination.

According to the ruling of John F. Logan, member of the board, the charter does not provide for the positions of sergeants and those who have held their positions in the past have done so at the pleasure of the head of the department. The men holding the positions have always been appointed from the ranks and in many cases for political purposes. It is marked in the history of the department that change of administration always meant a change of sergeants, but hereafter this is to be entirely discontinued, so that those who are holding the positions will have to take the examination.

This examination for sergeants will be the next examination held and will be immediately followed by one for detectives. It is expected that applications will begin to flood the office of the board in a few days.

BROTHERS-IN-LAW DISAGREE

One Asks to Build Barn, Other Strongly Opposes. Brother-in-law vs. brother-in-law was the title of a stirring little melodrama acted in the council chamber this morning when the council decided to be allowed to rebuild his three stables recently destroyed by fire, at Third and Burnside streets, and A. Lipman, his brother-in-law, in defense of the street, pleaded equally as hard with the members of the council not to heed the supplications of the other. Lipman even went so far as to threaten to call on the council not to grant the necessary permission. It was given, however.

Oswald west, governor of Oregon; James J. Hill of St. Paul, Minn.; H. R. Hiram, mayor of Portland; Hon. Will Linn, secretary of the state; Hon. Hiram Johnson, governor of California; Hon. John M. Haines, governor of Idaho; W. L. Mason, Oregon Journal; Hon. Ernest Lister, governor of Washington; H. L. Pittcock, president Oregon Publishing company; Professor W. L. Kerr, president Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis, Or.; L. C. Moore, president Pacific International exposition, Seattle, Wash.; J. B. Baker, president Portland Chamber of Commerce; J. B. Baker, president Portland Commercial club; Mark A. Mayer, Portland Evening Telegram; Charles D. Minton, Portland; George R. Fisher, president of the Wenatchee Association; J. B. Baker, president Oregon Business men's club; J. B. Dean Vincent, president Portland Realty Board; J. B. Baker, president Oregon Merchants' and Traders' Association; J. B. Baker, president Northern Pacific; F. H. Hoyt, president Oregon Farmers' Association; J. B. Baker, president Oregon Retail Merchants' Association; J. B. Baker, president Oregon Progressive Association; J. B. Baker, president Oregon State Agricultural Society; J. B. Baker, president Oregon State Horticultural society.

TO WAGE WAR ON RATS

City Health Officer Marcellus announced this morning that with the cooperation of Harbormaster Jacob Spauler, one-half of the health department on waterfront rats in order to ascertain whether Portland was in any danger from bubonic plague from this source. One-half of the health bureau force will be used in the campaign.

DEPUTY MEAT INSPECTOR NAMED

E. E. Chase, of 248 Front street, was appointed deputy meat inspector by the city council this morning, the appointment to take effect July 10 under the ordinance which provides for a chief meat inspector and two deputies. The other name and the other deputy have already been named.

Eugene Franchise Is Not a Franchise

Postal Superintendent Plans to Attend Council Meeting Monday Night When Question Will Be Gone Into Fully. Eugene, Or., July 3.—J. A. Forehand, superintendent of the Eugene Post Office, has announced that he will be in Eugene from Seattle Monday to meet with the city council to discuss the franchise question. The company has been operating in Eugene for years without a city franchise, claiming that the government grant, given in the sixties, was sufficient. When the question of a franchise was brought up several months ago, the city officials to their surprise discovered that the company had no franchise at all. The request was made to the city officials to apply for a franchise at once, but the mayor says no reply has been made. Two weeks ago the council directed the city attorney to draw up an ordinance to compel the company to take its poles off the streets. The ordinance has not yet been passed, but will probably come up this evening. The telegraph company expects to be here.

Property Holders Join in Love Feast

Railroad Commission Decides That Oregon Electric Shall Follow Lines and Not Out Across Lands. A record in satisfaction was made by the railroad commission this morning, when the Oregon Electric company, residents of Maplewood, residents of Fiske's addition and the commission themselves drew up a decision of the commission. Complaint had been made about a roadway to the new site of the Maplewood station, factions contending about the route. The commission, as a board of arbitration, decided that the road should follow property lines instead of cutting at angles through certain properties, and following the decision the road was laid out. The opposing factions acted more like turtle doves than like opponents.

LARSON'S WILL IS FILED

Seven sons and daughters and a granddaughter are named as heirs in the will of William Larson, filed this morning for probate. The estate is estimated at $22,000. Mr. Larson died June 26. The heirs are: Gustaf E. Larson, McMinnville; John R. Larson, Charles E. Larson and Henry W. Larson, all of Lewis and Clark; Josephine C. Pickard, Theodore Larson and Emma M. Larson of Portland and Evelyn Walker of Milwaukie, a granddaughter. Charles E. Larson was named executor of the will.

Suit Over Laundry Route

A laundry route is the bone of contention in a suit now pending before the Union Laundry company against a former employe, Charles Sager. The company asks that Sager, now employed by the Oregon Laundry, be reinstated in his former route for the benefit of himself and his new employe.

Named Assistant Forest Ranger

Washington Bureau of the Forest Service, July 3.—U. S. King of Dixonville has been appointed assistant forest ranger at Roseburg.

OREGON PROGRESS TO BE DEMONSTRATED AT PRODUCTS SHOW

Prominent Men to Facilitate in Publicity Campaign in Portland.

THE LIST IS ANNOUNCED

President Dunne Selects Leaders Who Will Lead Aid in Making Exhibition Real Success.

How the state has developed during recent years will be one of the strong showings to be made in the Manufacturers and Land Products Show to be held in Portland from October 28 to November 1. President David M. Dunne has invited a number of men prominently identified with this development to serve as an honorary advisory board and facilitate this feature of the exhibition.

In addition, President Dunne probably will name another list of men to supplement the interests already enlisted. The list as announced today includes:

Oswald west, governor of Oregon; James J. Hill of St. Paul, Minn.; H. R. Hiram, mayor of Portland; Hon. Will Linn, secretary of the state; Hon. Hiram Johnson, governor of California; Hon. John M. Haines, governor of Idaho; W. L. Mason, Oregon Journal; Hon. Ernest Lister, governor of Washington; H. L. Pittcock, president Oregon Publishing company; Professor W. L. Kerr, president Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis, Or.; L. C. Moore, president Pacific International exposition, Seattle, Wash.; J. B. Baker, president Portland Chamber of Commerce; J. B. Baker, president Portland Commercial club; Mark A. Mayer, Portland Evening Telegram; Charles D. Minton, Portland; George R. Fisher, president of the Wenatchee Association; J. B. Baker, president Oregon Business men's club; J. B. Dean Vincent, president Portland Realty Board; J. B. Baker, president Oregon Merchants' and Traders' Association; J. B. Baker, president Northern Pacific; F. H. Hoyt, president Oregon Farmers' Association; J. B. Baker, president Oregon Retail Merchants' Association; J. B. Baker, president Oregon Progressive Association; J. B. Baker, president Oregon State Agricultural Society; J. B. Baker, president Oregon State Horticultural society.

Blackhand Found Praying at Home

Miss Mary Shuff, 35 Years Old, Robbed of All She Had, Tried to Extort Money From a Neighbor. Los Angeles, Cal., July 3.—A pitiful effort to raise money betrayed her into the hands of the police, who have her in custody today, pending a further investigation of an attempt to extort $500 from M. B. Ray, start an attorney, to which they say she has confessed.

According to the story the police say Miss Shuff told, she stayed away from her home for several days, and returned the first time in quarters of a century to complete her plan. Finally, they say, she wrote an anonymous letter to Mrs. Bailey, warning her to burn his house unless he left $500 in a can in an alley behind their homes.

Meyers went to the police and a trap was laid, Mrs. Bailey was arrested, and the money, the officers say she found five men waiting with sawed off shotguns. She fled into her home, where the officers found her kneeling in prayer. Satan, she testified, had possessed her and forced her to act as she did.

Miss Shuff was robbed of her fortune by hand sharks, her friends say, and was almost penniless and alone. Meyers was not expected to prosecute her.

U. S. Home Trade Far Exceeds Foreign

Former Estimated at $40,000,000,000 and Latter at but $4,000,000,000. Possibilities Are Great. Washington, July 3.—After a study of the statistical abstract of the United States, made public today, officials of the department of commerce concluded that although the United States exports more than $10,000,000,000 of its foreign trade is far short of its immediate possibilities.

At present, the American home trade is estimated at $40,000,000,000 while its foreign trade is valued at only $4,000,000,000. The present American export trade of $200,000,000, abstract shows, represents about 1/2 per cent of the total. A per capita basis, the abstract shows, equal to that of Argentina would raise American export power to $100,000,000,000 an output of that of Belgium would bring it up to $16,000,000,000 a year.

After Many Years Relatives United

Mrs. Priscilla Stephens, Portland, and Her Cousin, Jesse Knight, Meet for First Time in Over Half a Century. Forest Grove, Or., July 3.—After 51 years of separation, two cousins, Mrs. Priscilla Stephens of Portland and Jesse Knight, an old soldier of this city, met in this city for a pleasant reunion. They lived side by side in Iowa. Fifty-one years ago Mr. Knight went to Nebraska and from there to Oregon, where he met Mrs. Stephens in Forest Grove. Mrs. Stephens has lived in Oregon for many years. Another reunion was celebrated today by Henry Ott, expressman for the Southern Pacific in this city, and his sister, Miss Victoria Ott, of Cornland, Ill. met here for the first time in 27 years. Miss Ott has another brother, Toyn Ott, in this city.

Fuel Company Sued by United States

Alleging Conspiracy to Defraud, District Attorney Files Suit to Recover Value of Total Cargo. San Francisco, July 3.—United States District Attorney Preston today sued the Western Fuel company for $861,674.95, the entire value of about 3500 tons of coal sold to the government since July 1, 1911, and it is charged, fraudulently weighed by the company's agents.

The law authorizes the government to confiscate such cargo where it can prove a conspiracy to defraud it. The coal being in, this case unvaluable, its value is asked instead. Dues and drawbacks being also involved, more suits will be filed. Preston said, to the amount of nearly $2000. Transactions earlier than July 2, 1911, he explained, cannot be brought up on account of the statute of limitations.

Election Officials Late With Books

Court Action May Be Taken Because of Delay in Obeying Order in Season-McNary Case. Although a week has passed since Circuit Judge McGinn ordered all duplicate tally books brought in in preparation for the election, the Season-McNary contest for the Republican nomination for supreme judge, two of the books are still out and court action may be taken to bring the delinquent election officials to heel. When all are in the vote in the precincts involved will be counted and the corrected totals will be certified by County Clerk Coffey to the Secretary of State. Owing that the nomination question may be settled.

Man's Sanity Questioned

Wandering freely dressed in the rags of a pauper, a man named King was arrested yesterday and is being examined for his sanity. He was sent to the asylum last December, but returned to his home last week ago. Ten days ago he left home and he had been found. His wife said that he had been threatened with death that he might marry a young girl.

To Kill Half Million Rats

New Orleans, La., July 3.—Surgeon General Blue announced today that he expected to exterminate 5,000,000 rats here and at 30 other gulf ports within the next few weeks. No new cases of the plague were reported today, and all surviving patients were recovering.

New School House for Wheeler

Wheeler, Or., July 3.—Wheeler is to have a new school house to cost $3900, which was the amount bid by the contractor who was awarded the contract. It is to be a two story frame structure and up to date in every respect. The building is to be completed early in August.

ONLY ONE "BREMEN QUININE" To get the genuine, call for full name, L. A. X. BRAND, 211 N. W. 2nd St., Astoria, Ore. E. W. GROVE. Cures a Cold in a Day, 2c.

Combined Bands to Give Public Concert

Musical Entertainment to Be Feature of Fourth Program on Park Blocks After Big Electric Parade Is Over.

After the Fourth of July electrical parade tomorrow night, all the bands participating in the pageant will mass on the Park blocks for a concert, the musicians forming a big party for the entertainment.

The Musicians' Mutual association today notified Frederick Hyskell, chairman of the Ad club's home industry committee, that the musicians would be allowed to donate their services for the concert, which will be composed exclusively of patriotic airs. W. L. McElroy will be the leader.

City Commissioner Brewster today recommended the use of the park block rather than the postoffice block, the place previously agreed upon. The Musicians' union has made the same recommendation and the Ad club this afternoon finally indorsed the change.

Queen Anne IV of Salem, lady monarch of the cherry festival, who was killed Mrs. William D. Bailey, who was shot to death while consulting with Dr. Edward Carman in his office here Tuesday night, and that he expected an arrest would be made today, District Attorney Smith announced this afternoon that he had changed his mind, that there probably would be no arrest for several days, and that when one was made it might be that of a man, a woman or perhaps both.

Before the coroner this afternoon Dr. Carman recited the circumstances of the murder. It was stated that Mrs. Carman also would testify.

Dr. Carman's wife declared openly that she realized she was suspected. She denied, however, that the conversations she heard between the doctor and his woman patient by means of the dictaphone she had concealed in his office and connected with her bedroom, had aroused her jealousy.

Complete harmony existed in our home," she said today. "I was not jealous and I am willing to testify at the inquest or at any other investigation. I never saw Mrs. Bailey until after she was dead."

Viewing the dead woman's corpse at the morgue, Mrs. Carman expressed her sympathy but showed not the least emotion or alarm.

Early today the tragedy was reenacted for the benefit of the police, Dr. Carman showing how his office window was broken by a blow from a pistol muzzle as Mrs. Bailey was arising to leave, how a hand, holding the weapon, was thrust through the hole; how he dodged behind his operating table; how the shot was fired, the bullet striking Mrs. Bailey in the back and piercing her heart, and how she fell dead on the floor.

It was understood that the doctor himself took his own part in the reconstruction of the scene by which Mrs. William D. Bailey was shot, the police today finished a minute search of the grounds about the Carman residence. They found nothing.

Fourth Trial May End This Afternoon

Juries in First Three Trials Disagreed; Deputy District Attorney Insists on Acquittal or Conviction. The fourth trial of Edward Ruby on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 9-year-old girl is expected to end this afternoon. Ruby took the stand this morning in his own defense. He is acting as his own attorney. The first three trials resulted in disagreements by the juries and Deputy District Attorney Collier refused to drop the charges, saying Ruby must be acquitted or convicted before he would be satisfied.

Old Soldier Gets Verdict

Forest Grove, Or., July 3.—Captain George W. Peters, a Grand Army man of this city, has been awarded $710 damages by the circuit court for alleged damages sustained from a fall caused by a defective sidewalk several months ago. Peters sued for $4000.

Bar Mayor For Play

Los Angeles, July 3.—Mayor Rose attempted to attend a "women's only" matinee of the play "Damaged Goods," but the door was barred to him.

Hotel Stewart San Francisco

Geary Street, above Union Square. European Plan $1.50 a Day. American Plan $3.50 a Day. New Zealand concrete structure. Third addition of hundred rooms just completed. Every modern in equipment. Moderate rates. Center of theatre and retail district. All carriages conveniences trains and steamers.

Hotel Cornelius

The House of Welcome. Park and Alder Streets, Portland, Or. In the theatre and shopping district, one block from any carline. Rates $1.00 per day and up. With bath, $1.50 per day and up. Take our Brown Auto Bus. C. W. Cornelius, President. H. E. Fletcher, Manager.

Hotel Corneliuss

The House of Welcome. Park and Alder Streets, Portland, Or. In the theatre and shopping district, one block from any carline. Rates $1.00 per day and up. With bath, $1.50 per day and up. Take our Brown Auto Bus. C. W. Cornelius, President. H. E. Fletcher, Manager.

Hotel Corneliuss

The House of Welcome. Park and Alder Streets, Portland, Or. In the theatre and shopping district, one block from any carline. Rates $1.00 per day and up. With bath, $1.50 per day and up. Take our Brown Auto Bus. C. W. Cornelius, President. H. E. Fletcher, Manager.

Hotel Corneliuss

The House of Welcome. Park and Alder Streets, Portland, Or. In the theatre and shopping district, one block from any carline. Rates $1.00 per day and up. With bath, $1.50 per day and up. Take our Brown Auto Bus. C. W. Cornelius, President. H. E. Fletcher, Manager.

Hotel Corneliuss

The House of Welcome. Park and Alder Streets, Portland, Or. In the theatre and shopping district, one block from any carline. Rates $1.00 per day and up. With bath, $1.50 per day and up. Take our Brown Auto Bus. C. W. Cornelius, President. H. E. Fletcher, Manager.

Hotel Corneliuss

The House of Welcome. Park and Alder Streets, Portland, Or. In the theatre and shopping district, one block from any carline. Rates $1.00 per day and up. With bath, $1.50 per day and up. Take our Brown Auto Bus. C. W. Cornelius, President. H. E. Fletcher, Manager.

WOMAN FIRED SHOT AT MRS. BAILEY, BELIEF OF FREPORT POLICE

But Man, Also, Is Thought to Have Been Concerned in the Murder.

ARRESTS ARE EXPECTED

Doctor's Wife Admits She Is Suspected But Asserts Her Innocence and Denies She Was Jealous.

(United Press Lined Wire.) Freeport, N. Y., July 3.—After announcing that he was sure a woman killed Mrs. William D. Bailey, who was shot to death while consulting with Dr. Edward Carman in his office here Tuesday night, and that he expected an arrest would be made today, District Attorney Smith announced this afternoon that he had changed his mind, that there probably would be no arrest for several days, and that when one was made it might be that of a man, a woman or perhaps both.

Before the coroner this afternoon Dr. Carman recited the circumstances of the murder. It was stated that Mrs. Carman also would testify.

Dr. Carman's wife declared openly that she realized she was suspected. She denied, however, that the conversations she heard between the doctor and his woman patient by means of the dictaphone she had concealed in his office and connected with her bedroom, had aroused her jealousy.

Complete harmony existed in our home," she said today. "I was not jealous and I am willing to testify at the inquest or at any other investigation. I