President's Brother-in-Law Says Present Stomach Trouble Is Not Uncommon; General Realth Good.

Reports which have gained nationwide circulation during the past year that President Wilson is in poor health were emphatically denied this morning by Professor Stockton Axson, the president's brother-in-law, who is a week-end guest at the Portland hotel "I stopped off at Washington last month on my way out to the coast," said Professor Axson, "and during my 30 years' association and acquaintance with the president I never saw him looking better or in better general health. I noticed in the papers this week that he was suffering from indigestion, but that is not uncommon, as his stomach is his one weakness. "Rumors to the effect that the president is ill or in poor condition are absolutely false. Dr. Grayson, his personal physician, sees to it that he has his daily exercise, and as their relations are splendid they have their game of golf each day without fail." Teaching at Summer School.

Mr. Axson was professor of English at Princeton for 15 years, and, as a brother of Mrs. Wilson, has been associated with the president from the days when Mr. Wilson was a college he is connected with Rice institute of his home at Princeton, N. J. He is in Oregon this summer teaching at the Oregon at Eugene. This is his second summer at the university, and the third on the coast, teaching in 1912 at chance of success. the University of California.

Rice institute," he said this morning, "is similar in aims and scope to Traveling Man Reed college. It has a large endowment, and we are trying to adapt the Yale-Harvard-Princeton idea to condi tions in the southwest. We are making a success of it, too. I like my new work, for it is a change after the east, and immensely broader. Political Discussion Avoided.

Professor Axson spent a portion of June at the White House, hearing the Flag Day addresses of both President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan. He also attended the Wilson-McAdoo wedding.

"I am a college professor and a private citizen," he remarked, "and so can't speak on politics with any authority. We are going to have great crops, however, although they will not be as good in Texas as expected, due to heavy rains in the spring; traveled over a large portion of the state as a part of my work, and the most of the time the train was run-ning through water."

Find No Clue to the Lynchers' Identity

District Attorney Godwin Pollowing Inquest Over Bemains of Unkown Says Little Chance of a Capture.

Baker, Or., July 18 .- "There is absolutely no clue to the identity of the men who lynched the unknown assailant of Grace Hardman," said District Attorney Godwin, when he returned last evening from Whitney, where an inquest over the remains of the victim was held yesterday. The coroner's jury found the man came to his death by hanging at the hands of persons unknown. His identity was not established, not a scrap of paper or anything being found on his person. The remains were burled at Whitney. "There is nothing in the report that marks on the grain bag around the victim's feet would identify him, as many bags are similarly marked, and professor himself. At the present time as for the brass ring on the rope used for hanging, it is an equally Houston, Texas, althought still making meager clue, as many such ropes are used," said Godwin.

While authorities will continue their summer session of the University of investigation in an effort to identify the lynchers, they admit that they have little to work on, and have little

WOMAN HELD IN JAIL AND DETECTIVES ARE INVESTIGATING DEATH

Mrs. Johanna Dawson, Lents, Taken in Custody as Material Witness.

Pamily Quarrel Over Children Said to Have Taken Place; Detective Is Assigned to the Case.

Unexplained circumstances surround ing the death Wednesday morning of George B. Dawson, Southern Pacific laborer, living at Lents, today are being investigated by the district attorney's office and coroner.

Indications so far are that the man died from the effects of strychnine. A quantity of this drug was found by a chemical analysis of the dead man's stomach. How and why this poison was taken by Dawson are question the officials are trying to answer. An inquest has been decided upor but the date has not been set, as the officers are not through investigating. Mrs. Johanna Dawson, the wife, is everything indicated a new recordcoroner as a material witness for the ing 100 at 11 a. m., while yesterday

Wednesday morning Dawson arose and ate his breakfast as usual, preparing for his day's work. Within 15 minutes after leaving the table, relatives report, he complained of abdominal pains. Died in Convulsions.

These pains grew so intense that he decided to not work that day. Within a few minutes the man is reported to have been in convulsions and died before medical aid arrived. On Tuesday evening, a family quarrel occurred over the step children. Ruth, daughter of Dawson and stepdaughter of Mrs. Dawson, left the home during this quarrel and went to the home of a married sister at Lents for the night. A. D. Kenworthy, undertaker at Lents took charge of the body Wednesday. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon with Rev. John Riley of Lents officiating.

Previous to the funeral, relatives of Dawson talked of the sudden death and other circumstances, which they asked be investigated. These requests reached the coroner, who ordered the removal on the subject between King George of the man's stomach before burial and Premier Asquith was what caused an analysis of the same. Dr. Pernot made an analysis of food used for breakfast. Further inquiry led the coroner to ask for the custody of Mrs. Dawson until the matter is cleared up and relatives satisfied,

Bids will be opened at 2 o'clock (Pacific time) August 25. Bids may be made for the entire amount to be is-sued within 20 days of the awarding of the bonds or for $250,000 of the bonds in 20 days, $200,000 worth October 1 and $175,000 December 1. Interest 41/4 Per Cent. The option is given because the entire amount of money is not needed at once and it is hoped a higher bid may be received for the deferred delivery.

Bonds will each be for $1000 and will bear 4% per cent interest. Payment must be in cash and bids must be at least par and accrued interest. Certified checks for five per cent of the bid The bonds will be payable in series of $25,000 each, the first series to be taken up July 1, 1918, and each succeeding series on the same date of succeeding years. All will be dated to the other fellow. A drug user by July 1, 1914. The bonds are designated to the other fellow. A drug user by the name of Williams this morning nated as coupon bonds. Copies of the option of Storey, Thorndike, Palmer & Dodge, the Boston bonding attorneys, and of the supreme court decision in the test case will be sent to prospective bidders that they may be satisfied as to the legality of the issue. Owing to the fact that Multnomah county has no bonded debt and that the recent semi-annual statement of County Auditor Martin shows the county to be in the best of financial condition the commissioners feel that the bonds will bring a record price. George M. Hyland questioned the board as to franchises on the bridge and District Attorney Evans answered that he believed it would be necessary for the next legislature to make proision for granting of franchises as the bridge becomes the property of the state on completion. Rights Not Exclusive.

He said that unless some such action were taken it would mean that the county must tie up the bridge before the state had any opportunity to say a word as to franchises or that all companies desiring franchises must wait until the bridge was completed. Mr. Evans also called attention to the fact that it would be no more tha right for Clarke county to be considered as that county controls the Washington end of the bridge. The matter was left for future action. All agreed that no exclusive rights should be

Hyland also called attention to the fact that the Union avenue approach which was selected would work a hardship on all companies other than the Portland Railway, Light & Power company because that company controls right-of-way on Union avenue and en-tered a plea for the Vancouver avenue approach but no action was taken on the question as the majority of the commissioners had already designated the Union avenue approach,

Union Engineers Will Hold Picnic

Members and Their Pamilies Will Visit Columbia City on Sixth Annual Excursion Tomorrow. Planned as special pleasure trip for the women and children, members of Operating Engineers, Local No. 87, their families and friends, will hold their sixth annual excursion and picnic tomorrow at Columbia City. The excursionists will leave the foot of Washington street at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning on the steamer Kellogg and plan to make the picnic the most successful in the history of the organization. No liquors will be sold on the boat or on the grounds and the day will be devoted to a good time and sports. Local supply houses have donated prizes for the events. One of the chief sources of amusement will be hitting the "nigger babies" or "Aunt Sallies" the union having made arrangements to give ice cream cones and pop to the children while the men will set the customary cigar. They promise that the cigars will be Oregon-made of good vegetable food and drugs act,

LABORER KILLED AT WORK

John Olson, laborer employed at the Oregon Paper & Pulp mill at St. Johns, died this morning on the way to the hospital from injuries received at 7 o'clock when caught between two logs at the plant. The man is 64 years old, lives in St. Johns, and has no relatives as far as could be learned by the authorities. Olson was assisting in drawing a log into the plant, when it made a sudden jerk, striking him. The Am
