

MRS. DAWSON SAYS ARREST WAS MADE TO TEST FAITH IN GOD

Widow of Southern Pacific Employee, Who Died Suddenly, Explains.

COURTS INVESTIGATION

Authorities Are Convinced That Death Was Due to Strychnine Poisoning; Woman Held in Jail.

Convinced that George B. Dawson, employed by the Southern Pacific railroad as a laborer, died at his home in Lents Monday from strychnine poisoning, city and county officials made an exhaustive search yesterday in an effort to discover where the drug was purchased.

Meanwhile Mrs. Johanna Dawson, his widow and the only person present at the house at the time of the death, which ended in his death, sings hymns in the county jail, where she is held by orders of Deputy District Attorney Ryan as a matter of course.

She courts the fullest investigation, she says, and looks upon her incarceration as an act of God to test her belief in the goodness of the Creator and a means of bringing her children into the church, which she joined about two months ago.

The fact that liquids found in the stomach of her husband responded to the tests for strychnine and a small dose of it killed a guinea pig after giving every indication of strychnine poisoning does not seem to trouble her at all.

Knows She Is Suspected. "I know I am suspected," she said last night. "But I look upon this all as a test given by God to see how strong my faith is. Everything will come out all right, and since they placed me in jail I feel that I could show them from the house that the Lord is good and will care for his own."

Mrs. Dawson is a plain looking little gray haired woman of 45 years, with snapping black eyes which denote a heavy and strong nose, something she admits she had until very recently when she declares religion gave her control over it. She is the mother of seven children, three boys and four girls, two, her youngest, who are 12 years old and twins.

She has been married three times. First when she was 17 years old she married a railroad man, who died after and for 15 years lived on Ferns prairie, near Camas, Wash. At the time of her marriage he was 60 years old. Five children were born to the union.

Divorced Second Husband. A year after his death she married a man named Ira Welch, who it is understood, lives at Vancouver, Wash. After about two years of marriage, which means she divorced him. That was about ten years ago. He was the father of the twins.

She married Dawson September 11, 1912, at Newberg. He had been a widower for 11 years, was 57 years old and had four children. The youngest, Ruth Dawson, then 15, lived with them.

"They came to Portland about a year ago and resided in South Portland and then moved to Lents, where Dawson died so mysteriously Wednesday.

They quarreled a number of times ever since according to Mrs. Dawson, the last quarrel occurring Tuesday evening when the girl left home in a huff and went to the house of a neighbor, Miss Ruth, who lives in the forenoon of Tuesday, after Mrs. Dawson had insisted that she wash the dishes and she refused.

Woman Suspected Family. "My husband had only made $5 since we went to Lents and he was spending money I received for a little farm I had owned for years and only sold this spring for about $500, said Mrs. Dawson. "He was working for the Southern Pacific and they hold back pay for 20 days. He was making only $1.50 a day and ten cents of that went for carfare."

"On Tuesday he ate a lot of cheese, about a pound, I guess. That evening we quarreled about Ruth, but afterward we went to bed and he said he was wrong to interfere in the case. He slept all right and I gave him some medicine. At breakfast he ate some more cheese, three fried eggs and drank two cups of coffee.

"He started off to work but came back his head ached and he was turned the third time and said he was too sick to go to work. He complained of pains in his stomach. I got a hot water bottle and tried to phone for a doctor but I was so scared I ran outside and screamed. Several women answered and came to the house. I don't recollect whether he was conscious then or not, but he died, as you could but he died before the doctor got there.

Says Conscience Is Clear. "I want the officers to make a thorough investigation and I want to know anything was wrong I would spend every bit of the small savings I have put away to aid them. My conscience is clear and I am only glad that God has found an instrument by which I may be able to bring all my children to Christ. They are good children, but they do not believe as strongly in religion as I would have them."

Dawson's daughter Ruth apparently was the central pivot around which family disturbance was kindled about three months ago, when he was working on the government locks on the Columbia, he wrote a letter to his daughter, which Mrs. Dawson testified to in which he spoke of some scheme by which he would be able to raise some money, and that he would be able to send her east, after which he would follow.

This so incensed Mrs. Dawson that she immediately filed suit for divorce charging cruelty. Later he returned and peace was reestablished and after living apart in Portland for a couple of weeks they took up their home at Lents.

About the same time she got possession of her trunks and a letter in it is said she joined the Quakers at Lents and since then her activity in a religious way have been very marked. Dawson was also a Quaker of deeply religious nature and frequently testified at the meetings.

Inquest Was Postponed. The inquest was to have been held yesterday, but in the light of developments of Friday it has been indefinitely postponed pending a more thorough analysis of the stomach by Drs. Pernot and Huntley. The investigation is being directed by Deputy District Attorney Thomas Ryan, Deputy Coroner Dunne, and they are being actively aided by Detective Swensen.

Mazamas Discuss Trip to Mt. Rainier

Registrations Late Yesterday for Hike Which Will Begin August 1 Already Number 70.

The largest attended pre-outing luncheon the Mazamas have ever had occurred yesterday afternoon when 125 members, prospective members and friends gathered at the Mt. Rainier hotel to listen to speakers who told of the trip to be taken next month to Mt. Rainier.

The total registrations late yesterday of those who intend to make the trip number 70 and in the next two weeks enough registrations to make a total of 100 are expected.

The Mazamas leave Saturday, August 1, for the national park, and will not return until August 16. During that time the highly difficult climb from the north side, which less than 250 people have ever accomplished, will be attempted.

At the luncheon yesterday Miss Mrs. Shannon Monroe, who climbed Mt. Rainier in the autumn of 1905, gave some sidelights of that trip. General Hazard Stevens, the first white man to climb the mountain 33 years before, was a member of that party.

Frank Branch Riley, charter member of the Mazamas, humorously discussed features of former Mazama outings. E. C. Sammons detailed the route that will be followed and the equipment required by members of the party.

Francis Benefiel and W. P. Hardesty Ryan as a matter of course. G. L. Brown gave several readings.

Miss Anne Dillinger was signally honored by members of the party from whom she took the top of Mt. Hood July 5. Guiding the crowd single handed, Miss Dillinger piloted 117 persons, mostly novices, including her aunt, Mrs. C. E. Dillinger, 67 years old, safely to the summit and back again. She was presented with a ring, bearing the Mazama emblem and a small diamond set in the center.

Sheriff Returns to Sacramento in Auto

Brings Back Percy Gregg; Trip Feature by Breakdown and Delays on Long Ride.

Sheriff Word, dust-begrimed and face tanned to the hue of the proverbial berry, arrived in Portland from Sacramento, by auto, last night, with Percy Gregg, wanted for issuing checks without funds. Sheriff Word, who is the lot of the motorist on a long and tortuous journey. His machine broke down in the Siskiyou and at Medford for parts, and he was compelled to wait three days for parts to reach the car from San Francisco. On the last day of his dash he covered 240 miles.

The trip was made in the car that young Gregg had taken from his father, said to be a wealthy resident of Spokane. The parent, who is expected to reach Portland soon, has arranged to repay a losses which have been sustained through the disappearance of the son, it is said. The sheriff and Multnomah county will also be reimbursed for the financial outlay included in the trip and return.

Washington county carried off the palm for having the worst roads encountered on the way, said the sheriff.

Women Complain In Divorce Suit

Alleging that her husband cursed her when she was driving an automobile and collided with a streetcar, Nellie Gliesy, who is suing for divorce against O. R. Ball, she asks for $1500 alimony, $50 a month for support, $500 attorney's fee and $150 costs. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Alleging that her husband cursed her when she was driving an automobile and collided with a streetcar, Nellie Gliesy, who is suing for divorce against O. R. Ball, she asks for $1500 alimony, $50 a month for support, $500 attorney's fee and $150 costs. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Alleging that her husband cursed her when she was driving an automobile and collided with a streetcar, Nellie Gliesy, who is suing for divorce against O. R. Ball, she asks for $1500 alimony, $50 a month for support, $500 attorney's fee and $150 costs. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

MEAT COMPANY IS SUED

For severe burns to his foot received when a slip projected that member into a vat of hot lard Frank L. Robinson yesterday sued the Frank L. Meat company for $10,000 damages. He alleges that some years ago he lost a portion of his hand while working for the company and in science is clear and I am only glad that God has found an instrument by which I may be able to bring all my children to Christ. They are good children, but they do not believe as strongly in religion as I would have them."

Dawson's daughter Ruth apparently was the central pivot around which family disturbance was kindled about three months ago, when he was working on the government locks on the Columbia, he wrote a letter to his daughter, which Mrs. Dawson testified to in which he spoke of some scheme by which he would be able to raise some money, and that he would be able to send her east, after which he would follow.

This so incensed Mrs. Dawson that she immediately filed suit for divorce charging cruelty. Later he returned and peace was reestablished and after living apart in Portland for a couple of weeks they took up their home at Lents.

About the same time she got possession of her trunks and a letter in it is said she joined the Quakers at Lents and since then her activity in a religious way have been very marked. Dawson was also a Quaker of deeply religious nature and frequently testified at the meetings.

Inquest Was Postponed. The inquest was to have been held yesterday, but in the light of developments of Friday it has been indefinitely postponed pending a more thorough analysis of the stomach by Drs. Pernot and Huntley. The investigation is being directed by Deputy District Attorney Thomas Ryan, Deputy Coroner Dunne, and they are being actively aided by Detective Swensen.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

PENDLETON ROUNDUP THIS YEAR WILL BE A RECORD BREAKER

Show To Be Bigger and Better Than Ever Before, It Is Announced.

Spreading the welcome news that the Pendleton Roundup will be a bigger and better show than ever before in history, Jack Robinson and Leon Cohen, prominent business men of the bustling city with the buckaroo slogan, have completed an automobile tour to Crater Lake and will leave Portland this morning on the last leg of the return trip. They are accompanied by Mrs. Cohen.

They arrived in Portland Friday morning from Crater Lake and at the Portland registered from "The Roundup, September 24-25-26," thus letting all who look upon such records know the dates when the "big broncho busting" exhibition in the bustling "burg" will come off.

And it will be something that the wide, wide world won't forget in some time," they chorused. "We've got the wildest outlaw horses that safely to the summit and back again. She was presented with a ring, bearing the Mazama emblem and a small diamond set in the center."

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

Margaret F. Giesy filed suit for annulment of her marriage to Morton L. Giesy, alleging that when she married him at Vancouver, Wash., May 9 last, he was not free to marry as he had not been divorced from Edna J. Giesy, the six months' period required by law. The divorce was granted April 11, last, in Portland.

CURTIS GUILD ADVOCATES A SCHOOL FOR DIPLOMATS

Officers for our army and our navy and have therein achieved success which stands alone in the world.

"The necessity for permanent buildings for the housing of American diplomatic offices, and, perhaps, residences, abroad, is indisputable. We have begun the practice of buying properties for this purpose, but the appropriation is so small that it does not usually admit of adequate purchases."

"Embassy Quarters Inadequate. Our embassy at Constantinople is the finest in our list; we own our own buildings at Peking and Tokyo, elsewhere, I think, we are mere tenants, our offices for the most part situated in the residences of our diplomatic representatives, which principally reflect the private wealth of the incumbents or their lack of it."

"Within two years the embassy of the United States in an important European capital was located in a few shabby rooms above a livery stable. This is wholly wrong. We are among the richest nations of the world and we shall benefit if this is made generally manifest."

"Other nations have considered this important. One of the most beautiful squares in Berlin is named after the French Embassy; the German Embassy at St. Petersburg is a beautiful building; the foreign embassies in Washington to some extent suggest the wealth and power of the nations which have established them."

"I shall put the necessity of a consular and diplomatic school fourth in the list of needs. Entrance to it should be through appointment by senators or representatives, or both. American Centers Abroad."

"Fifth, there should be established American centers in all large foreign cities where there is various American representation, as where there are diplomatic, consular, military, and naval representatives; at least, their offices should be housed beneath one roof."

"At present our diplomatic corps includes 13 ambassadors, 29 ministers and some 80 consuls. We have about 300 consular agents."

"It cannot be denied that the world's diplomatic services, outside of ours, are based at present principally upon the section of the world which we call the European diplomatic corps."

"In the European diplomatic corps family is nine points in the game of ten. In the American diplomatic corps family is ten points in the game of ten. In such a diplomatic corps as we should speedily build up, under the influence of a school such as is suggested, training and fitness would count 10 points out of 10."

"And not without good reason, we boast that we are the best educated nation in the world. We have adopted to eliminate the mal-fitting of glasses."

Indiana Spiritualist Meeting. Anderson, Ind., July 18.—The annual camp meeting of the Indiana Association of Spiritualists, which is the largest yearly gathering of its kind in the country, opened at the assembly grounds at Chestfield today and will continue until the end of August. Many well known mediums and lecturers are scheduled to address the gathering.

Hammond'sport, N. Y., July 18.—Disappointed over the showing of the Brazilians in Seattle and Will H. Daly, president of the council, is spending the time at the coast. The mayor left Friday night and Commissioner Daly left yesterday afternoon. Commissioners Erewater and Dieck are also at the seashore.

Brings Suit for Damages. Emil Swanson yesterday started suit for $25,594 against F. C. Striegl for damages resulting from the fall of a brick from a wall of the Arcade theater on June 20, when he was working under Striegl last April.

Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

Review by King George. Portsmouth, England, July 18.—The mightiest war fleet ever assembled in British waters was reviewed today at Spithead by King George. Four-hundred warships of the First, Second and Third Fleets, including 25 great dreadnoughts and between 40 and 70 submarines, were drawn up in long lines stretching into the Solent, and presented a magnificent spectacle as the royal yacht Alexandra, steamed slowly through the squadron.

WATER BUREAU MAKES NEW REGULATION TO SAVE WATER SUPPLY

Hours and Rules for Sprinkling Are Both Changed by Order of Commissioner.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.

Hours and rules for sprinkling for all users of Bull Run water have been formulated by Will H. Daly, commissioner of public utilities, and go into effect today. The new rules are made necessary because of the excessive use of water in the low districts causing heavy shortages in the high districts throughout the city.