BEAR STOPPED BY CRUISER OFF SAN FRANCISCO

Portland Passenger Liner Is Halted by British Cruiser Rainbow Seeking for German Cosmos Liner.

(Special to The Journal.)

San Francisco, Aug. 7.—The British cruiser Rainbow early this morning in a light fog stopped the steamer Bear 15 miles from the Golden Gate and bound from Portland with 275 passengers. The British ship had been on watch outside the heads all night presumably for the German Cosmos line steamer Alexandria, laden with a valuable cargo of merchandise from Hamburg which had last reported leaving Champerico, Central America.

The Rainbow did not fire a shot but steamed close to the Bear, causing the American passenger ship to come to a sudden stop. As soon as the warship recognized "Old Glory" floating from the Bear's mast, she drew away and the latter proceeded on her voyage to this port.

The Rainbow came into port this morning at 9:15, and just two hours later the Alexandria wirelessed to the Merchants' Exchange that she was five miles out. The British cruiser had missed a rich war prize by a two hours' margin.

BELGIAN FEINT DRAWS GERMANS INTO RANGE OF FIRE OF FORTS

zers at the town of Huy, about 15 miles southwest of Liege.

Germans Mass on Frontier.

German forces also were massing on their side of the Belgian frontier, the Gazette stated, evidently with a view to increasing the strength of their attack.

A German raid on the village of Cornesse, it was said, had been repulsed.

The 19-year-old son of Count Von Adnim, a high German official, was mentioned as having succumbed to his wounds.

The Gazette also told in detail of the blowing up of several battalions of the German Tenth army corps while crossing a Belgian mine field Thursday night as they charged on a fort.

Mine Kills Many.

The attacking party consisted of a strong force of infantry and artillery, with advance and rear guards.

The mine exploded after the cavalry advance guards had passed over it and before the rear guard of horsemen had arrived.

The infantry and artillery was tossed high in the air, however, a mass of mangled and bleeding human flesh. The number of killed ran into the hundreds, and 1200 wounded were afterward picked up on the field. One battalion was practically annihilated. The disastrous effect of the explosion broke up the charge.

BELGIAN ENGINEERS STRENGTHEN FORTS ALONG MEUSE RIVER

Nancy, France, Aug. 7.—Belgian engineers were still engaged today in strengthening their fortifications at Namur, according to advices from across the frontier.

The town was already strongly fortified and with the additional defenses provided since the attack on Liege began, it was declared it would prove an even more formidable obstacle to the German advance than the one they already face.

Military men here expressed the opinion that Liege itself will continue indefinitely to make good its resistance against the kaiser's troops, but should it finally fall, it was stated the Belgians would simply retire to Namur and there would be a repetition on a still larger scale of what has already transpired.

German Defeat General.

Not only at Liege, but all along the Belgian-German frontier, it was learned today, have the Germans been checked. At Liers, to the north of Liege, they were completely beaten. From Spa, to the southward, they were driven back to Pepinster.

Everywhere their losses have been enormous. The Belgians were heavily outnumbered but their defenses were impregnable, and, fighting behind them, they have suffered but little, while raining lead and steel into the invaders' ranks.

Many Small Encounters.

Along the Franco-German frontier, from the Luxemburg to the Swiss border, there have been dozens of petty skirmishes between French and German scouting parties. In the aggregate, the number of casualties has been considerable, but no single engagement has been of much consequence.

At Nancy, lying so close to German territory, considerable alarm was felt when the war first broke out. So effective has the French and Belgian resistance proven thus far, however, that uneasiness has passed and the townspeople are full of confidence.

The streets are full of soldiers and the hospitals with French and German wounded.

Lemons and Sugar Advance in Price

Cutting Off of Sicilian Citrus Product Causes Jump of 10 to 25 Cents; Sugar Is Up 50 to 75 Cents.

Lemons jumped on the Portland market today because of the war in Europe. While the normal price is 25 cents per dozen, quotations range from 30 to 50 cents, according to size and quality. This is because the supply from Sicily, which ordinarily takes care of much of the demand on the Atlantic coast, can not be secured because ships' sailings have been annulled and California and the gulf coast are called on to fill the whole domestic demand.

But the lemon isn't the only food product that is feeling the pressure of war. Sugar today made its most sensational leap in the history of the market. Advances have been going on steadily, but the latest quotation by one refinery showed a rise of 55 cents per 100 pounds, while another advanced the price 75 cents. Indications point to still greater rises.

Imported olives and canned goods of all descriptions brought in from abroad are vaulting in price because wholesalers have to pay more and are passing the buck to the retailers, who do the same to the ultimate consumer, who pays.

Coffee, tea and spices—all of which depend upon the ships—have undergone a sharp advance also.

Druggists report advances in the price to them of all the alkaloids and basic drugs. It is believed this will have its effect presently at the prescription counter. Most of these drugs are manufactured in Europe.

American Ships to Patrol Both Coasts

Czar Has Not Yet Received President Wilson's Mediation Offer, Because He Is Traveling About Russia.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt and other officials of the navy department conferred this afternoon with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, and prepared plans to enforce strict American neutrality during the continuance of the European war. It was understood that warships and revenue cutters would patrol and inspect the entire American coast line.

It was learned this afternoon that President Wilson's modification offer had not reached the czar, because of his absence from St. Petersburg. The czar was said to be traveling about Russia, arousing his countrymen to enthusiasm for war.

Secretary Barclay of the British embassy submitted a communication to Secretary of State Bryan. It was not known whether this was England's reply to the mediation offer.

AUSTRIANS ARE RETIRING AFTER LOSING BATTLE

the war's outbreak and showed no signs, up to today, of any military designs beyond certain quite justified steps toward protecting its own frontiers against an overflow from the mighty conflict raging in its vicinity. Weakened by the recent Balkan war and certain that they would be attacked by Roumania and Greece if they should strike at Servia, opinion here was veering to the view that the Bulgarians will keep peace if they can.

Turkey was still suspected of hostile designs against the Servians, but the Sultan was not actually acting and has seemed thus far to stand by his declaration of neutrality in the pending struggle.

As a precaution, however, the Greek mobilization was progressing in readiness to rush to Servia's aid at the first move on the Turks' part.

Austria Formally Declares War.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The Russian ambassador here officially notified Secretary of State Bryan today that Austria had declared war against Russia.

Austria's declaration of war against Russia, issued Thursday night, was considered a mere formality, the two countries having already been in arms against one another.

PERSONS HERE CAN TRANSMIT CASH TO FRIENDS IN EUROPE

Advantage of Relief Scheme May Be Taken by Depositing With Government.

TELEGRAPH MAY BE USED

Remittances Can Be Made by Western Union to Treasury or Any Sub-Treasuries.

Interruption of the foreign money transfer service of American telegraph companies, making the transfer of funds by cable to stranded Americans abroad impossible, the United States government will endeavor to relieve the situation by sending a war vessel laden with gold to Europe today.

Those desiring to send money to friends and relatives abroad may take advantage of the government's relief scheme by making deposits for the benefit of American travelers with the treasury department at Washington and with the sub-treasuries at San Francisco, Chicago, New Orleans, Baltimore, Boston, St. Louis, New York, Cincinnati and Philadelphia. These fiscal agencies will issue receipts for the funds so deposited and on arrival of the warship in Europe government officials will endeavor to the best of their ability to locate the beneficiaries. Money not turned over to those to whom it is consigned will be refunded after the government has reimbursed itself for the expense of the operation.

Due to the limited time before sailing Vice President Belvidere Brooks of the Western Union Telegraph company has called the attention of W. A. Robb, manager of the Portland office of the company, that those desiring to take advantage of this means of helping people abroad may make telegraphic remittances to the treasury department or one or another of the sub-treasuries through the domestic money order service of the Western Union.

Mr. Brooks adds, however, that patrons should also wire the treasury officials, giving full names and address for whom such money is intended.

British Troops to Help the Belgians

Plans Completed for Sending Help Against Germans; Running Sea Fights Numerous Off British Coast.

London, Aug. 7.—Despite the denial by First Lord of the Admiralty Churchill that there had been any serious sea fighting yet between Great Britain and Germany, little doubt was felt here that Admiral Callaghan, the British home fleet commander, was harassing the German fleet on the east side of the North sea.

It seemed certain, too, that there had been several running fights between scout cruisers.

Plans, it was understood, had been completed for rushing British troops to Belgium.

Health Depends on Condition of Kidneys

You cannot obtain life insurance unless the doctor makes an examination to determine the health of the kidneys. Outside of the few questions he may ask, this is considered one of the vital points upon which your physical condition is determined. Yet many people think that because they passed this test successfully, months or even years ago, there is nothing the matter with their kidneys today. A similar test might prove them to be in a diseased condition. The cause of backache, headache, swelling of the extremities, dizziness, etc., may be directly traced to improper kidney action. Persons suffering from diseases caused by failure of the kidneys to perform their office should take Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy at once. It gives strength to the system by building up these organs, which are often considered the weakest in the body. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy is an exceptional medicine and is worthy of your consideration. It is sold by all druggists in 50c and $1.00 sizes. A free sample and other valuable information if you write Warner's Safe Remedies Co., Dept. 388, Rochester, N. Y.
