BETTER QUALITY IS DUE TO INSPECTION BY BIG MARKETERS

Finest Carload of Tomatoes Ever Sent Out of Willamette Valley Reaches Portland Market; Uniform Quality Pleases Trade.

That the entrance of the North Pa vance in the price of foodstuffs in cific distributors into the Williamette the United States was due to the con- valley means added profits to the prosumer himself, is the opinion ex- ducers of this section is now acknowlpressed today by some of the leading edged generally by the trade, although the public will be compelled to pay the The first advances in the prices of foodstuffs printed by the various publications are charged to be responsible for most of the subsequent advances in the quotations.

The receipt of the carload of Umpqua valley tomatoes through the distributors yesterday afternoon was an eye opener to the trade groundly. eye opener to the trade generally. While that section of the valley has buyer, seeing that prices were moving upward, wanted to get in on a "good thing" himself, and the result was an extraordinary increase in the demand, which itself forced the market still higher.

This is said to be appositely to: This is said to be especially true as regards the sugar market. Whole-salers report that they have sold more sugar during the last two weeks than in any previous month in their history. Stocks of sugar, which were extremely heavy extremely heavy previous to the advance, soon melted when everyone seemingly wanted to buy before the price reached too high a figure. At this time wholesale grocers hold less sugar in their warehouses than for many years. While most of them purchased heavily from refiners recently, little of this late purchase has as yet reached the market here.

sipsing methods of packing and snipping are about to give way to the better system through which only superior quality will be sent out. This will mean that there will be more uniform much of the former gluts in the trade because of the receipt of too much poor stuff, will be eliminated.

The Umpqua valley tomatoes sold generally at 60 to 65c a box. Most of generally at 60 to 65c a box. Most of the stock looked as if it had been grown in a hothouse.

> reme value for quality. Celery market is again steady with best offerings at 75c. For the better grade cantaloupes the market is slightly better at $1.35 today. Others from 75c to $1.25. Butter market is holding firm at yesterday's advance.

SHIPPERS' WEATHER NOTICE

An advance of 1/2 c a pound is today being generally quoted for Tillamook cheese in the local market as a result of a similar rise in prices forced in the Chreese city. The market for Wisconsin Swiss has shown an advance of about 4c within a few days.

HOP GROWERS ARE IN NO HURRY TO SELL YIELD ON CONTRACT

OUT FOR

Offers of 16c Are Confirmed but Reports That 161/2c Has Been Offered and Retused Are Credited by the Trade Here.

Strenuous efforts of buyers to secure supplies of hops of the coming crop on contract are unavailing because growers are not inclined to let go. It is stated that several dealers were freely offering 16 1/2 c a pound on contracts in the Willamette valley during the last 24 hours but were unable to interest growers in their offers. It is interest growers in their offers. It is fully confirmed that 16c offers had been made but were not accepted.

Julius Pineus, the local buyer, was out in the country yesterday and reported today that the crop was not showing improvement in the Willam-order valley, in fact the general opinion seems to be that the crop is going backward. Most of the trade here is now figuring upon 95,000 to 105,009 bales for the state crop this season.

No advices are being received regarding the German crop but information regarding English conditions is hourly expected.

The report follows:
The last week was hot and dry, except the last two days, which were cooler. The protracted dry spell has been beneficial so far as harvesting the grain crop and curing the hay is concerned, both of which have proceeded rapidly. It is estimated that there fourths of the grain crop. ceeded rapidly. It is estimated that nearly three fourths of the grain crop has been cut and nearly half of it has been threshed. Notwithstanding the and warm weather, the kernels plump and the heads well filled. hay crop is practically all harvested and stored in good condition. Rain is badly needed for hops, corn, potatoes and pastures, and unless it falls soon, hops, corn and potatoes will not yield nearly so well as ex-pected earlier in the season. Apples pected carrier in the season. Apples are maturing rapidly and this crop will be ready for harvest earlier than usual. Irrigation water in Baker county is diminishing, but so far the shortage has not been seriously felt. Forest fires are spreading and the smoky condition of the atmosphere is increasing.

No Sheep for Market.

While there was a rather good run of mutton in the local yards overnight none of the stuff came forward for the open market. The arrivals were confined to the thoroughbred class, which will be sold at auction.

General trend of the sheep and lamb trade remains in a very good condition at North Portland, but prices are unchanged generally.

At Chicago there was a weak tone in the sheep market for the day.
