Circular Is Issued by State Immigration Commission and Development League, FERTILITY IS DESCRIBED

Soil Is Declared to Be Good for Forage Crops; Prices Wamed Are Reasonable.

A pamphlet describing irrigated lands open for settlement on the Tumalo project and giving prices of privately owned lands on the project and in the vicinity, is being published by the Oregon state immigration commission and the Oregon Development League.

which has been condemned, on condition that he assume all responsibility. John Gantenbein of Gresham was allowed $225 indemnity for nine cows slaughtered because of tuberculosis, the county to pay one half and the state the remainder.

Muts Arrange for Show for Children

Youngsters at Various City Institutions Will Be Made Happy at the Marcus Loew Empress Theatre.

Under the auspices of the Muts, 2000 of the poor children of the city are to see the show at the Marcus Loew Empress theatre some afternoon early in September.

H. W. Pierong, resident manager of the Empress, has made such an offer to W. P. Strandberg, chief mut, and it has been accepted. Matinee performances on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons of some week to be selected are to be thrown open for the youngsters.

TURNED OVER TOO OFTEN

When Kenneth McDonald, 14 months old, awoke yesterday afternoon, the first thing he did was to turn over on the bed where his mother had placed him. One good turn apparently delivered another, for the child was soon at the edge of the bed, from which he fell to the floor. The mother heard him cry and ran into the room. A physician was later called and found the right leg broken. The boy was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital. The McDonald family lives at 236 East Tenth street.

PAPER MONEY TO BE MORE EXTENSIVELY USED ON THE COAST

Bankers Say Change Will Come as Result of Reserve Bank.

EAST PREFERS CURRENCY

San Francisco Banks Are Now Paying Largely Greenbacks and Silver; Reasons Explained.

Paper money, which has never been used to any great extent on the Pacific coast, is to become more and more the medium of exchange here, according to the opinions of leading bankers.

This change in the medium of exchange, say the bankers, will result from the establishment of a federal reserve bank on the coast, as then the banks will be able to keep supplies of fresh currency on hand.

Already the banks of San Francisco, according to an announcement made by James K. Lynch, vice-president of the First National bank of San Francisco, and president of the San Francisco Clearing House association, are paying out paper money and silver almost exclusively.

"Paper is going to be used a great deal hereafter on the coast and the banks are merely putting it into circulation now so as to accustom their tellers handling it and overcome California's proverbial suspicion of paper money," stated Mr. Lynch. "The war is hastening the advent of paper money, that is all."

A. L. Mills, president of the First National bank and president of the Portland Clearing House association, said that when the federal reserve bank is established at San Francisco he expected paper money to come into more general use than gold. So far, however, he said that the Portland bankers are making no particular effort to accustom the public to the use of paper money.

"There is no reason why one section of the country should have a different general medium of exchange than another," said Mr. Mills. "Paper money is used almost entirely in the east, but we have always been a 'gold coast.' This has been due largely to the fact that we are so far from Washington, where the currency is issued.

"In the east the banks are able to keep supplies of fresh, crisp currency on hand at all times. As soon as a bill becomes slightly soiled it is sent to Washington for exchange for a new bill. But here we are so far from Washington that when currency gets into circulation it is usually kept there until it becomes soiled and filthy and no one likes to handle it. With a reserve bank at San Francisco we will be able to keep fresh currency on hand.

"Currency is more convenient to handle than gold. It is easier to carry. It will also be better for business, as in times of stress when we have to use paper money anyway, there will not be the resentment against it that is now felt when we are required to use it."

Company Files Articles. Articles of incorporation of the Portland Mercantile Produce company, capitalized at $10,000, were filed with County Clerk Coffey yesterday by M. E. O'Connor, Katherine O'Connor and Rose Houston.

For the Golf Player. For indoor practice by golfers there has been invented a box on which is mounted a ball so connected with a spring that when it is struck it registers the distance it would have gone had it been free.

FIRE NEAR CANBY IS FOUGHT BY ALL MEN WHO CAN GET AWAY

One Hundred Acres of Timber Land Brush Cleared Out by Flames.

SITUATION IS IN HAND

Settlers by Diligent Effort Save Homes and Cordwood—Other Fires.

(Special to The Journal.) Canby, Or., Aug. 18.—About 100 acres of timber land underbrush have been burned on the banks of the Willamette river about three miles north of Canby by a forest fire that has been burning there for the last week. The fire seems to have started at J. F. Beale's place and from there it crossed over on to Obyran and Stefani's woods. Late Sunday night 200 cords of wood owned by E. Stefani was burned and later the fire started towards his house. It was feared that the people present would be unable to stop the flames, but by back firing and working the rest of the night it was driven off towards the river.

Ora Slyter also has much cord wood near there and it was feared that the fire would go in that direction. The wind is now favorable, however, and it is thought that all danger has passed. Fighters expect to have the fire under control soon.

George Koehler, the fire warden for this district, is on the job instructing the men.

All the men from Canby and the surrounding country that can possibly get away are lending their efforts to quench the fire.

New Fire on Grouse Creek. Ashland, Or., Aug. 18.—A fresh forest fire broke out Monday afternoon on the headwaters of Grouse creek, 12 miles from this city. A call for fire fighters was sent to Ashland and 12 men were taken out. Grouse creek heads in the vicinity of Mount Ashland and should the course of the fire change to the north the Ashland water shed would be greatly endangered.

Green Point Fire Out. Hood River, Or., Aug. 18.—The forest fires that have been raging in the mountains near Green Point and that caused the burning of the large sawmill plant of the Stanley-Smith Lumber company valued at $125,000, are now under control. The wind having turned to the east and north caused its own back fire and with the help of a large crew of men the other sawmill plants in this section are now safe. The atmosphere is practically clear of smoke in the Hood River valley today.

Big Jump Is Taken In Postal Deposits

The largest increase in postal savings deposits ever made in connection with the operations of the local postal savings bank has occurred within the past 15 days, according to the statement of Postmaster Myers. The net gain since August 1 has been $36,000, or more than $2000 a day over the deposits for the same period a year ago.

This increase has been due to the fact that persons are withdrawing their money from the privately owned savings banks. The withdrawals on the other hand in the past 15 days have been very small; much under the normal withdrawal figure, Mr. Myers asserted.

CIRCULATE PETITIONS FOR RECALL OF ALLEN, MARSHFIELD MAYOR

Executive's Stand on Street Speaking and Police Conduct at Issue.

MAY OFFER COMPROMISE

F. E. Allen Chosen by Big Majority at Last City Election.

Marshfield, Or., Aug. 18.—Petitions are being circulated for the recall of Mayor F. E. Allen of Marshfield. So far the matter has been kept somewhat quiet. It appears that there are two objections put forward by those opposing the mayor, his position regarding speaking on the streets, and the men who are serving on the police force. When members of the I. W. W. were deported from this city some time ago, the trouble started on account of public speaking on the streets, which was ordered stopped by Dr. Straw, who was then mayor.

Lately a Prohibitionist has been holding public meetings on the streets and many have objected. Mayor Allen said he could find no law to prevent the speaking. Opposing factions object to this stand. Recently when a woman was tried for keeping a disorderly house as a part of a vice crusade, the woman gave testimony detrimental to the members of the police force, claiming that they were frequenters of her place. It is understood that those circulating the petitions for recall will present the matter to Mayor Allen and offer to drop the whole proceedings if he will discharge the entire police force, but that otherwise they will go ahead with the recall. It is believed that Mayor Allen will refuse to discharge the force.

Bears Out Furniture Until Shoes Burn

A. L. Blue Awakened After Midnight to Find His House Ablaze; Furniture in Storage Burned.

A. L. Blue, 1094 Francis avenue, carried out furniture last night from his burning house until his shoes took fire and burned his feet. The blaze was discovered by Blue shortly after midnight, the origin being unknown.

One glance at the blaze and Blue knew the home could not be saved, so he began to carry furniture. Blue is an automobile man, and as such has accumulated considerable oil on his shoes, which caused them to burn faster than otherwise. Others in the home were awakened and escaped without injury.

Furniture stored at 373 East Oak street was damaged to the extent of $3000 yesterday afternoon by fire. The Johnson Storage and Express company had charge of the building. The furniture belonged to several patrons. The cause of the blaze is not known.

Sentry Kills Millionaire.

Gyongyos, Hungary, Aug. 18.—Eugene Goldschmidt, a millionaire, and nephew of Baron Rothschild, attempting to Budapest, was shot dead by a Hungarian sentry today. The soldier called on him to stop. Goldschmidt did not understand him, and the sentry fired and killed him.

Several Remember Portland as Village

Surprising Number Who Were in This Vicinity When City in Infant Stage and Vancouver Trading Post.

The request of the Columbia River Interstate fair management for the names of pioneers who clearly remember the early days of Vancouver, as published in The Journal, has brought many responses. A surprisingly large number of people are living who remember Vancouver as a trading post and Portland as less than a village. Those who remember the Vancouver that came in existence 90 years ago this year, of course, very scarce. Among the pioneers who tell interestingly of the old Vancouver are Mrs. Margaret McLaughlin, of Port Plains, A. B. Roberts, who is 82 years old and has lived in Portland and Vancouver 60 years; Michael Danphoffer, who will be 100 years old next January, and his son, Michael, Jr., who is 70; Mrs. Augusta Ebert, Mrs. Mary L. Abbott, Mrs. A. E. Wintler, Mrs. Anna Wortman. Another who was here when Fort Vancouver was founded, who claims to have been alive when Lewis and Clarke came west, is old Indian Nancy, who lives up on Lewis river, and is said to be an Indian of age so great that no one knows just how long she has lived.

COUNTY COURT NEWS

A meeting is to be arranged between the county commissioners, City Commissioner Dick and W. M. Whidden of Whidden & Lewis, architects of the courthouse, to determine the possibility of placing openings in the sidewalk by the courthouse to ventilate the courthouse engine room. H. E. Plummer, city building inspector, called attention to the fact that a special ordinance by the council or ruling by the board of appeals, when necessary, as the county is bound by city regulations. The commissioners have notified the city that the county desires to appeal from Mr. Plummer's ruling. A limit of $225 was ordered placed on the cost of correction of acoustics of the various courtrooms. Permission was given to C. W. Crews of Oswego to cross the Tylon creek bridge on the Boone's Ferry road.
