FIVE KILLED WHEN AUTO LEAVES BRIDGE NEAR NORTH BEND

Bluford Davis, Well Known Ranch Owner, Lost Control of Machine.

North Bend, Or., Aug. 21.—As J. Bluford Davis, driving an automobile with six passengers, neared the Pony Point bridge late last evening, he lost control of the car, which plunged through the railing and dropped 20 feet, killing Davis and four of the passengers. One other, Alvin Bourne, was seriously injured, and George Wasson was unhurt.

With Davis, who was a leading rancher, the dead are: O. W. Wirth, ranch owner; Chris Peterson, owner of a saloon in Marshfield; James Wasson, pioneer and deep sea fisherman, and John Negaton, a homesteader.

The men were pinned beneath the car and though help was rushed to them quickly none could be revived The party was on its way to South Inlet on a pleasure trip. Wasson held Bourne's head above water until help The others were either killed by the weight of the car or drowned. There was about two feet of water in the stream, the tide being in at the point where the bridge crosses Pony Inlet parrows.
