

POULTRY PRICES DROP ONE CENT WITH HEAVY OVER SUPPLY AT HAND

Chicken Market Far From Steady at Quotations of 14 and 16c; Weakness Develops Early and the Decline Is Steady.

The overloaded poultry market finally broke under the strain today and prices for the spring crop dropped off a cent. Poultry dealers along the street report that the supply of chickens coming to the market yesterday was the largest they have seen, with the exception of holiday periods when the demand is good, in a long time. Many crates have been stacked overnight and the market opened with the greatest weakness this morning. The 15c and 16c prices began to break at once to 14c and 15c, and at noon the market was far from steady at 14c and 15c. Further price declines were expected before the close of the day. One of the large Portland packing houses has been buying heavily from local commission houses each night since the weather has been so good that if this concern should drop out of the field now, the chicken market will go to pieces.

LEMON TRADE SHOWING WEAK

Portland's lemon trade shows considerable weakness, and prospects for lower prices are said to be good. Although the prevailing price is $39.50 per box, a small amount of fruit is being sold today at $35.00. Naturally, with the high price, the quality is very light. The first big break, however, is expected from the shipping end. California holders, it is asserted, have been figuring that the Sicily supply would be shut off from export on account of the war. It is a fact, however, that this supply is coming as usual. As a result the gradual easing off is noticeable everywhere.

SMALL APPLES NOT WANTED

Local dealers in apples are advising the producers that small and inferior apples are a drug on the market. That such a condition exists can be seen in a walk along Front street. The call for any kind of apples right now is very limited, and the best Gravenstein and Red Delicious more than $1.25. The foreign demand is entirely shut off apparently, and the small variety that exists is only for the choicest stuff.

SUPPLY OF HALIBUT SCARCE

A temporary scarcity in the supply of fresh halibut was noticeable today, and the minimum quotation of 4 1/2c yesterday was expected to be maintained. The supply of halibut is very light. The arrival of several schooners Monday increased the supply is anticipated for early next week.

POTATO MARKET STIFFENS UP

Ranchers seem to be holding firmly to their potato supplies, and the market has a stiff tone. It is said the potatoes are not expected to be sold in large quantities. The market is not ambitious to sell, and commission buyers are saying the farmers are holding.

CAR LOCAL ONIONS ARRIVES

The first straight car of local grown onions reached this market today. The onions were shipped from Beaverton, and are of the Yellow Danver variety. A good many smaller shipments of onions are expected to arrive in the near future. Shipments from Walla Walla are said to be about over, although the supply of Walla Walla onions is large.

LAST CALIFORNIA CANTS IN

The last California cantaloupes are now in the market, although the supply on hand will probably last another week. The cantaloupe prices are in standard sizes and the crate price is $1.25.

VEAL TRADE SHOWS HEALTHY

The run in good veal has been the best this week for some time. The quality has been better, and while supplies are large, the demand has been good. The prevailing price for choice stuff seems to be 13 1/2c to 14c.

GROUND CHERRIES PLENTIFUL

Large quantities of ground cherries are now on hand here. They come from eastern Oregon mostly, and the box price is 30c to $1.

HUCKLEBERRY MARKET DRAGS

The huckleberry supply is coming freely and the market is dragging because of the reluctance on the part of

WAR HEADS OF EXPORT AGENTS ARE HOPEFUL

European Operator Advises London Shipments, if Continental Markets Are Closed; England Said to Be Buying Little.

A promising view of the export situation in connection with the European war was given in a report to the Northwestern Fruit Exchange, just submitted by the war prominent European fruit operators who is now in the United States. The advocates of this utilization of the London market this year, even if no business can be transacted in continental Europe. His explanation in this respect is based upon the promising view in regard to shipping. In part he says: "The other side of the shipping situation is presented in reports the Exchange has received from London and continental offices. One dated August 10 from London says: 'The situation in the fruit market is not so bright as it was a few days ago. The English hothouse grapes are being sold at 10 cents a pound, and there is very little demand. English plums can be purchased at 35 to 40 cents a bushel. The English market is very light. The first big break, however, is expected from the shipping end. California holders, it is asserted, have been figuring that the Sicily supply would be shut off from export on account of the war. It is a fact, however, that this supply is coming as usual. As a result the gradual easing off is noticeable everywhere.'
