RIVERS-HARBORS

Steamer Jesse Harkins for Camas Senior Senator Will Not Return to Oregon Until Congress Passes Important Act

DUTY TO STATE IS FIRST

Firm Response Made to Friends Wh Are Anxious to Have Him Give Time to His Campaign.

Placing his duty to Oregon and the country at large far above his personal interests, Senator George E. Chamberlain declares in a letter to George R. Mokel, 310 Commercial building, that he will stay in Washington and will oppose any adjournment of congress Respect of Person before the rivers and harbors bill has been disposed of by congress.

Many of Senator Chamberlain's friends have been anxious to have him return and give some time to his campaign for reelection, as the state is being thoroughly combed by his oppothe rivers and harbors bill, which car-A pair of trousers | ries greatly needed appropriations for the continuance of the work on Oregon's rivers and harbors, is paramount to his personal welfare and he is going to stay in Washington at his post of duty.

In his letter to Mr. Mokel, Senator Chamberlain says: "Let me assure you of one thing, however, that I do not propose to leave here until the rivers and harbors bill has received the attention of congress, in some way or other. The passage of this bill is more vital to the intion, and I propose to fight to the last ditch to have this measure acted upon. In fact, I will oppose any adjournment of congress in order to accomplish the consideration of this bill."
