

THE JOURNAL
AN INDEPENDENT PAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) and every Sunday morning at the Journal Building, 225 Fifth Ave., Portland, Or.

spreading in other Southern cities. The purpose is to purchase 8,000-000 bales, store them and have the cotton ready when Europe gets through fighting and resumes the arts of peace.

financial prestige that may change the world's money center to America. There is another phase to the question. The chances are that as soon as Europe knows that American gold is available there will be a greater demand for commodities.

A FEW SMILES
If there is one thing a commercial traveler dislikes more than another it is elaborate ceremony.

PERTINENT COMMENT AND NEWS IN BRIEF
SMALL CHANGE
A man is living the simple life if he has no kick coming.

OREGON SIDELIGHTS
Wasco county has another newspaper, the Maupin Times, published by W. H. H. Davis.

THE PROGRESS OF THE WAR IS TOLD IN PICTURE FORM
Four pages of photographs just received from the European war zone constitute a most compelling feature of THE SUNDAY JOURNAL for next Sunday.

BEAT IT
ON THE November ballot there is a proposed eight-hour law. It prescribes a universal work day of eight hours for everybody in the state.

WHY BE AN ASS?
THE trouble with the Oregonian is that it thinks the people who live in the country or in small towns are suckers.

A WAY TO WEALTH
OREGON waters abound in inexhaustible supplies of the best food fish in the ocean. But they are marketed from Seattle and Tacoma.

Letters from the People
(Communications sent to The Journal for publication in this department should be written on one side of the paper, should not exceed 200 words and should be accompanied by the name and address of the writer.)

THE Ragtime Muse
With respect let all men speak. Of the egg; In its presence be most meek.

"ON THE JOB"
From the Omaha World-Herald. The Democratic party needs to better campaign government affairs than the letter of President Wilson to Chairman Doremus explaining why he cannot go campaigning.

FICTION FEATURE
Another installment of Louis Joseph Vance's thrilling narrative, "The Trey O' Hearts" will be a magazine feature next Sunday.

Under its terms, no employ in any capacity can work more than eight hours a day. A dairy farmer could not run his business without employing two sets of hands.

There is a similar status with Nehalem and Tillamook salmon. It is a product that could be shipped fresh to the East.

McMinnville, Or., Sept. 8.—To the Editor of the Journal—Under date of September 5, I received a letter from the pen of Curtis P. Coe, from your community.
