Methodists Meet in Conference Tuesday

Examination of Undergraduates Will Be Preliminary to Opening of the Session.

With the examination of undergraduates who are preparing for the Methodist ministry, the preliminary sessions of the annual Oregon conference of the Methodist church, which is to be held at Centenary church, East Ninth and Pine streets, this week, will start tomorrow morning.

Fifteen or 20 young men, a number of whom are already engaged in preaching, will be put through the tests that are to last all day.

The official conference reception takes place at Centenary church tomorrow evening. Mayor H. R. Albee will make the welcoming address and Bishop R. J. Cooke, who is to preside at the conference, will respond. It is expected that most of the ministers of the conference will be here for the reception. The Centenary choir of 40 voices will give a program of musical numbers. A social hour in the church parlors will follow. The reception is a public one. Business sessions of the conference start Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.
