OREGON CONFERENCE AND PLAN FOR RALLY RELIGIOUS FEATURES

Visiting Methodist Ministers Are Occupying Local Pulpits Where Possible.

Chief activities among the churches this week are divided between the Oregon conference of the Methodist hurch, and the preparations that are being made in virtually all the thurches of Protestant denomination for Rally Day. Rally Day is the grawing together of the church forces, with as many additions as possible, for the heavy work of the winter following the summer vacation period.

In every possible instance the visiting Methodist ministers are occupying the pulpits of the regular Methodist churches of the city and the invitations to the visitors have not been confined to their denomination.

At the Third Presbyterian church, East Thirteenth and Pine streets, the pastor is advertising, as something new, a "Methodist Day." Rev. H. S. Wilkinson, pastor of the Eugene Methodist church, will speak in the morning, and Rev. R. M. Avison, pastor of the Salem Methodist church, will deliver the evening sermon,

Will Occupy Pulpits.

Rev. Edward Gittens, who in point of service in the Oregon conference, ranks next to "Father" John Flinn, will preach at the Central Methodist church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. M. B. Parounagean, a native of Armenia, now a member of the Oregon conference and the Sunday school missionary of the conference, will lecture at the evening service on subject, "From Armenia to

Bishop J. W. Robinson of Southern Asia, who is here on a furlough and business visit, and who is attending the Oregon conference in a lectural capacity, will fill the First Methodist church pulpit at the morning service, and in the evening, Dr. Loveland, the regular pastor, will deliver his sermon "European Cathedrals."

At the South Mt. Tabor Presbyterian day school services, and the church meetings and sermon topics will be in evening will give a tableau representing the mission fields of the world.

Canvass Being Made.

A canvass of the territory about the South Mt. Tabor Presbyterian church is being made for the purpose of getting a line on Sunday school work, and it is believed that the . Sunday school enrollment tomorrow will be increased by one fourth. The Sunday school is being placed on a thoroughly organized basis with department superintendenets and with names for each class.

All services will be in line with Rally Day at the South Mt. Tabor United Brethren church at Sixty-seventh street and Thirty-second avenue goutheast. Rev. J. B. Parsons will speak in the morning on the subject, the Gospel Making Good?" the evening of "Some Lessons from an Ideal Employer."

The Millard Avenue Presbyterian Sunday school Rally Day services tomorrow will take the place of regular church services. There will also be observances of Rally Day in the Sunday school of St. James Eng-

Monthly Meeting of Conquerors Is Held

The monthly meeting of the Conquerers, the adult Bible class of the Millard Avenue Presbyterian Sunday school, was held last Monday at the residence of C. K. Butters, 4938 Seventy-second street southeast, approximately 80 attending. The men of the class provided the program, and the refreshments, and did the serving. Rev. W. H. Amos presided over the coffee pot

One feature of the evening's program was a contest in which the women expressed their political preferences, after being blindfolded, pinning tails on the elephant, donkey or bull moose sketched on a canvas on the wall, or by putting a cork in the prohibition jug.

The class has accepted an invitation to meet for a Hallowe'en party at the ing he will speak of "The Childhood residence of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Gilbert, 4928 Seventy-first street S. E., or. Monday evening, October 18.
