

RECORD COMPARISON SHOWS UP SOLELY IN FAVOR OF SENATOR

Correspondent Presents His Views in Relation to Sen. Chamberlain and Opponent

Portland, Sept. 26.—To the Editor of The Journal—Your paper deserves much credit because it is always on the side of all the people, especially in demanding that Astoria shall have the same railway rates that Tacoma and Seattle have; also, for the great fight for the Chamberlain rivers and harbors bill. In so doing, The Journal is boosting for Astoria, Portland and the great Inland Empire. But the Oregonian is doing all it can against Astoria, Portland and the Inland Empire by its editorials and its cartoons. One is compelled to believe it is more interested in Seattle than it is in Astoria and Portland.

The Oregonian for years has done all it could for Seattle by fighting Astoria. It has caused millions of all the export business to go to Seattle. If the Oregonian can beat the rivers and harbors bill, that will enable Seattle to retain all the business it now has, that belongs to Portland and Astoria. If the bill is beaten, Oregon directly and indirectly will lose billions of dollars. Seattle will gain what we lose.

Comparisons as to Efficiency.

It appears that the Oregonian is willing to beat this state and the Inland Empire out of billions, for no other reason but to elect Mr. Booth senator. All the voters know that George E. Chamberlain has done and will do more in the senate for Oregon than any other man in the state. Mr. Booth never held an office, hence has no experience, except that when he was state senator he voted against the direct primary law. Senator Chamberlain has held all kinds of offices and always has made more than good. He has always been elected and reelected by intelligent, sane Republicans, and will be again. We want the man that knows, and who has and always will get Oregon more from the government than any other man or men in this or any other state. Mr. Booth has made millions in the past few years by getting his poor relations and friends to file on timber claims and tied them over to him. He is a very generous man, according to the Oregonian—so very generous with his poor, helpless relations, that he actually paid them as high as $100 for timber claims that are now worth from $5000 to $20,000 each. Mr. Booth is too generous to send away from Oregon, he could do much more for his poor relations by posting them how to get him some more timber claims at one-thousandth part of their true value.

Mr. Hanley says he voted for Woodrow Wilson, and will be a good, true Democrat (if elected).

Mr. Hanley knows how to raise calves; he knows that he will not get over $900 votes in the state; he also knows those votes will come from Chamberlain's side.

A Discredited Adviser.

If Woodrow Wilson had taken the advice of the Oregonian and the interests, thousands of our brave sons would now be in Europe and now be fighting us as they are Germany. We would be in debt billions of dollars and the pension list would be enormous. Mr. Booth has one chance in a million. He will have to get the Oregonian to boost for Chamberlain, because over half of all the voters always vote just opposite to the Oregonian's advice.

Senator Chamberlain is being lied about and all kinds of dirty jobs are being hatched against him.

One of them is that he is and always has been against woman suffrage. The fact is he has always been in favor of giving the women the ballot.

University to Give Extension Courses

Work of Short Story Writing Will Be Taken Up at Public Library This Winter.

The university extension division offers two courses at the Portland public library for this coming winter to be given by Mrs. Mable Holmes Parsons, associated professor of English. In addition to a course in short story writing which proved a most successful feature last winter, Mrs. Parsons will give a course in "Principles of Appreciation of Literature and Art." This class will meet for organization in room B of the library Friday evening, October 2, at 8 o'clock. The work of the short story writing class will not be a continuation of the work of last year but the class will begin with the simplest forms of story writing and gradually develop the more advanced. The necessary work on Saturday evening, October 3, at 8 o'clock, in room B of the library to meet on alternate Saturday evenings thereafter. There are no examinations nor entrance requirements for these courses. The university will welcome all who are interested.

Can Divorce U. S. Citizens in China

Recent Decision of Judge Lobinger in Shanghai Has Important Bearing on the Divorce Problem.

Shanghai, Sept. 26.—American citizens residing in China may now obtain divorces there. The necessity of citizens of the United States residing in China taking a 10,000 mile trip to a state court in order to institute divorce proceedings has been obviated by what is considered one of the most important decisions handed down in the United States court for China. The decision, made recently here by Judge Charles S. Lobinger, in the case of Tahaim Hashimoto Cavanagh vs. S. D. Worden, overrules that of the former judge, who has declared the court, which ranks as a United States district court, lacked jurisdiction.
