GERMANS HAMMER AWAY AT LEFT WING OF FRENCH FORCES

Deadly Fighting Prevails Between Roye and Lassigny and East of Amiens.

LOSSES ARE ENORMOUS

In Heavily Proceedings Are a Series of Independent Engagements—Killing Fire Is Constant.

By William Philip Sims. (United Press Special Wire.)

Paris, Oct. 3.—All day today the German right has hammered away at the French left wing in the region between Roye and Lassigny and east of Amiens toward Douai. All reports agree that the fighting is of the most deadly nature, with the losses enormous. But according to the latest reports obtainable at the headquarters of General Gallieni, the military governor of Paris, the French and British lines are holding fast. The Germans are simply reducing their effective fighting force without being successful in any single attack. Series of independent engagements. In reality the proceedings are in the nature of separate and distinct engagements, more independent battles than anything else. The Germans have been very heavily reinforced, but so have the allies. The result is that the most part of a draw, with the advantage to the allies, in that for every individual killed or wounded on their side the Germans are losing two or three. From Rheims to the Argonne district the artillery holds the center of the fighting stage. The fire is so constant and deadly that neither side has attempted any infantry assaults since last Tuesday, excepting on the extreme east of this line. There the army of the crown prince attempted to penetrate the forest of Gurris, but was driven back on its Varennes base with heavy losses.

German Engineers Destroyed. The Germans continue their attempts to gain a foothold on the west bank of the Meuse and to reduce their Verdun fortified line extending along the river. The forts are reported to be holding out, although details are withheld by the war office. Wherever the German engineers have tried to construct pontoons they have had their product literally shot to pieces by the French batteries, whose gunners are developing wonderful marksmanship. The French army, which is operating from the Toul-Nancy base, is reported making steady inroads on the army's strength.

Railroads Choked With Wounded. While no estimate of the losses is obtainable, the railroads leading from the north are choked with trains bearing British and French wounded. Passenger cars, ordinary freight cars, horse and cattle cars—all are in use, and still there is not enough. The French have been obliged to call on the British for railroad men to help operate the railroads. Doctors and nurses are also badly needed, as not only have the French their own and the British wounded to care for, but there are also hundreds of helpless German wounded prisoners. The roadbeds of the railroads are declared to be literally running red with blood which has trickled through the car doors.

Cornelius Pioneer Dead. Cornelius, Or., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Milliea Noland, age 65, and over 50 years a resident of Cornelius, died here last night after an illness of one year and a half. She is survived by her husband, Nathan, and the following children: Mrs. Alice Berry, Mrs. Emma Strard, James S. Noland and Frank Noland of Portland, and Mrs. Lulu Merrill and Claude Noland of Cornelius. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock from the family residence here.

County Registration Compiled by Precincts. A complete copy of the registration in every precinct of Multnomah county has been compiled by the Oregon Multiplying company of this city, located at 211 Stock Exchange building. The list is alphabetically arranged by precincts, giving name and address, party affiliation, occupation, age and where born. Men and women voters are entirely separated. The list also shows whether they voted at the last primary election. They also have the registration in other counties of the state. (Adv.)

Tag Day Brings in Excess of $2000

Largest Amount Secured by Any One Person Was $102; Window Fall of Babies Feature of Exhibit.

More than $2,000, by conservative estimate, was raised by the sale of tags yesterday for the Albertina Kerr nursery and the Louise home. Mrs. E. Russell Jehu, whose husband was in general charge of the day's work, sold the largest number of tags, making a return of $12. Mrs. Samuel H. Upton brought several workers with her from Newberg and altogether they sold $150 worth of tags.

J. B. Yeon donated the first floor of the Yeon building for headquarters during the day. Babies in groups of five were released from the nursery to the headquarters at intervals of a few hours and were on exhibition in Fifth street windows. They were healthy, cheerful children, and the crowds in front looking at them were three deep most of the time.

There were 150 persons engaged in selling the tags during the day. Persons in charge were much pleased with the success of the sale, and say the result is much better than it was last year. The Fox Motor company donated three machines in transporting the workers around and for carrying the babies between the home and headquarters.
