Magnates Have Lost Thousands of Dollars Through Big Payroll and Poor Attendance

the past year, due to the large infederal invasion and the lack of attendance, has caused the magnates to lose thousands of dollars.

Judge McCredie stated yesterday that this has been the worst year in the history of the Coast league baseball and some balance must be struck. His payroll was hunched up some $800 a month by Beavers who demanded more money on pain of jumping to the Federals. That means about $5600 more a year in salaries than was paid last season. The attendance has been poor all season and rain hit the box office hard the last three weeks of the season, which, invariably are the best of the year in Portland.

Several high priced men who didn't deliver as expected this year, will see their salaries shaved when the contracts are sent out in January. It is their privilege to jump to the Federals if they can secure positions, the Coast league simply can't pay the salaries and remain out of bankruptcy, the magnates say

Judge McCredie figures on losing four or five men from the 1914 Beavers, inclinding Kores, drafted by the New York Nationals, and Rodgers, sold to Cleveland. Their places will be filled by promising youngsters.

Outfielder Naughton, the youngster who came from Pendleton to the 1914. Beavers, signed up yesterday for next year and will be taken to the spring training camp of the Beavers. Naughon had a long conference with Judge McCredie and then departed for his home in Seattle. Owing to the liability of the Beavers to reach Los Angeles until to-night, the first game of the hard series 1913, with the Naps will not be staged until [1914, ### tomorrow and the Tuesday game will probably be made up next Monday or played off in a double header.

Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Oct. 6.—That the state game law needs amending is the score. opinion of many sportsmen of the state, according to reports reaching the Roscoe Fawcett, referee; Martin T. State Game and Fish commission's de- Pratt, umpire, and Grover Francis, partment here. One of the biggest kicks is over the clause of the law forbidding the killing of female pheasants. According to sportsmen, the male members of the family are greatly in the minority and it is a great mistake to kill them off and permit the female majority to grow out of all proportions. Sportsmen are finding great difficulty tinguishing the male from the female, especially when the birds are young. Owing to the clash of the state and federal laws in regard to the shooting of migratory birds, the legislature will be asked to amend the state Collie Wheeler's law to conform with the federal law. The federal law prohibits shooting except between October 1 and January 1, while the state law says ducks and geese may be shot between September 15 and February 15. As the federal law supersedes the state law. State Game Warden Evans and his deputies le Mack to sign him. Plank is five are anxious to have the legislature make them conform so that confusion may be avoided by the hunters.

The federal law says that migratory game cannot be killed before sunrise and after sunset, while the state law says they may be killed half an hour before sunrise and half an hour after sunset. This apparently needs fixing. The game preserve feature is causing protests in Marion county. A preserve eight miles long and seven miles wide surrounds the capital. It was created by the legislature and many of the farmers never consented to the A preserve, but are barred from hunting even on their own land. They assert Born in Brainerd, Minn., in 1893. "I am going to enforce every section of the game law, and if the majority 486 of the sportsmen of the state think some features are wrong they will have to take it up with the legislature," said Mr. Evans. "I have been told that about 90 per cent of the smen are opposed to the law foroidding the killing of female pheas-I also know that the placing of the property of several Marion county residents in the capital preserves is declared unfair.
