BERLIN PAPERS SHOW HOW NEAR GERMANY CUT OFF FROM NEWS

News From Outside World Is Confined to Dispatches From Rome, Amsterdam.

THEATRES ARE RUNNING

One Paper Advises Mothers to Take Children to "Kino" Shows to See Patriotic Views.

Copies of Berlin newspapers just re ceived in Portland-Das Kieine Jour na) and Berliner Tageblatt-reveal how completely Germany is cut off from her old sources of news. With the exception of official statements given out by the government, all dispatches concerning the movements of the allies and of international politics are dated Rome or Amsterdam, these being neu-space is given in both papers to a notice of the arrival in Berlin of Major John A. Ryan, U. S. A., and of the establishment of an American relief

Despite the war the Berlin theatres are apparently running, for advertisements are contained in Das Kleine Journal of patriotic dramas. At the Royal opera house "Fidelio" and "Cof-

Patriotic Motion Pictures Shown. The motion picture houses apparently are showing some war pictures as the Journal advises mothers to see the Servians run, the troops of the Fatherland under arms, "and the French are also interesting."

There are many ways of giving comfort to the soldiers even though Berlin is far from the firing line, for one theatre management announces in black type "Military persons will be made welcome with free admittance."

All the war stories printed in America up to date tell of the extensive use of the cigarette among the allies for eemingly it smacks of greater bravado to go to battle with a cigarette dang-ling from the nether lip. Apparently the same is true in Germany, as war photos show priests and Red Cross surses administering cigarettes along with gauze and lint. But these tales are naught compared with the patriotic emonstrations of well known Berlin cluarette factories where the women and children workers are turning out paper tubes by the thousand for the soldiers in the field. One establishment alone, the Salem Aleikum Ci garette factory, donated 1,000,000 cigarettes for distribution by the Red ross, according to Das Kleine Journal,

Proposed Dental Bill Is Attacked

Meeting Held Under Auspices of the Oregon Society for Dental Education Yesterday Moon. As part of the statewide campaign being waged against the proposed den tistry bill which would abolish the present board of dental examiners and reduce the requirements for admission to practice in this state, a luncheon was held at the Commercial club yesterday noon under the auspices of the Oregon Society for Dental Education to further the cause of those opposed to the bill. About 75 dentists, social workers and educators were present, Dr. William Trufant Foster, president of Reed college, opening the discussion. All agreed that it would be a serious mistake to lower the present standards for dentists in this state,

'Persons may ask," said Dr. Foster, "what business is it of ours what is done in the dental profession? But any other person's business is our business when it affects the health of our chil-dren and of the community at large. To pass this bill lowering the requirements of admission to practice in this state would make Oregon the laughing stock of the nation. It would lower the standard of a most important profession and ultimately of all professions, for when one profession is dragged down the others must suffer,

President Foster turned the meeting over to William F. Woodward of Woodard, Clarke & Co., who introduced Dr. Herbert C. Miller, dean of the North Pacific College of Dentistry and Phar-

Mr. Miller outlined briefly the present laws of Oregon and described fegis-lation in other states. Dr. Miller was followed by J. Sloan Brennan, who spoke on "The Dentistry Bill From the Standpoint of a Naturalized Citizen.' Other speakers were Mrs. Margaret C. Thoroman of the Associated Chariies who had as her subject "Social Service and Mouth Hygiene," and Dr. Millard C. Holbrook, who described the
