

NIGHT REGISTRATION PLAN TO COMMENCE ON NEXT SATURDAY

Office Will Remain Open for Five Nights to Hasten Work of Registration.

BOOKS CLOSE OCTOBER 15

Yesterday's Figures Totaled 709, Bringing Grand Total Last Night Up to 79,764 Voters.

For four nights, beginning next Saturday, the registration office will remain open until 9 o'clock.

One week from tomorrow night the registration office will close for the November 3 election.

Those who have not registered since last January will be compelled to have their names on the books before the books close to save trouble for themselves and election officials.

One of the interesting features of yesterday's registration was the qualification of a man who was entirely shy one arm and had but half of the other.

The registration clerk was puzzled for a moment as to how the man would sign the proper cards and books.

Among those registered yesterday was a widow 67 years old who had lost one limb and was paralyzed in the other.

Yesterday's registration totaled 709, bringing the grand total to last night to 79,764 and making a certainty that the mark would pass 80,000 today.

Men yesterday numbered 483 and women 226, which makes the total for each sex 80,064 and 39,700 respectively.

Party totals were: Republicans, 50,475; Democrats, 18,234; Progressives, 3,498; Independents, 3,182; Prohibitionists, 2,047; Socialists, 1,338.

Registration is necessary for only two classes, those who have not registered since January 1, and those who, since registering, have changed their addresses.

Those who are registered and who are living in the same places as when they registered do not need to re-register.

Commission Wants Crossings Closed

Salem, Or., Oct. 7.—It is announced here that a bill will be introduced at the next session of the legislature to increase the powers of the state railroad commission so as to make it possible for them to close railroad crossings which are dangerous and for which there is very little necessity.

In some counties the county courts insist on maintaining crossings close together, sometimes not more than 200 yards apart, when one would serve just as well. In other instances the wagon roads are permitted to cross the railroad twice within a space of a quarter of a mile, when both crossings could as well be done away with and the road built on an easy grade in a straight line.

According to the railroad commission, it is in the interest of the people at large to have crossings as safe as possible and, if possible, do away with an unnecessary number. The commission is powerless, under the present law, to make a number of crossings and giving his views thereon, attempts to have the county courts act have been futile, according to the commission.

California Registration. Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 7.—At the secretary of state's office it was estimated California's registration for the fall election will total 1,125,000.

Joseph Citizens at Capital. Washington, Oct. 7.—W. C. Wilson, candidate for postmaster at Joseph, Or., and his son, Hugh, called on Senator Chamberlain last week on the way back home to Oregon after visiting for the first time in 28 years, his old home in Danville, Pa., where he was given a warm welcome by his old friends, who manifested a great deal of interest in what he had to tell them about Oregon. Mr. Wilson higher power than you and Dr. Withycombe and I, and their interests should be consulted. They will determine and have a right to determine the issues by which the worth of candidates is to be weighed.

"However, I agree to your plan of having Dr. Withycombe discuss the tariff and my legislative record as it stands to all vehicle traffic. When I will discuss them with him, reserving only the right to present such additional views as I may think the people concerned in, such, for instance, as why taxes are high and why state business should be conducted like private business.

"I not only hope, but I desire, to submit my views to the people, believing as I do that their judgment is sound and their decisions intelligent, and at any time on two or three days' notice I will gladly join Dr. Withycombe in a joint speaking tour of such towns as you or Dr. Withycombe may name.

"Sincerely yours, DR. C. J. SMITH."
