

ONE FATAL ACCIDENT REPORTED DURING THE WEEK TO LABOR HEAD

S. D. Studley Killed at Mill City While Working on a Railroad Train.

FIFTY MISHAPS IS TOTAL

Records Show That Number of Injuries Fewer Last Two Weeks.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., Oct. 12.—Fifty accidents, one of them fatal, were reported during the week to Labor Commissioner Hoff. The fatal accident occurred at Mill City, where S. D. Studley was killed while employed in the operation of a railroad train. Railroad accidents were the most numerous, 17 being reported. There has been a falling off in the number of accidents during the last two weeks. For several weeks in the neighborhood of 70 accidents were reported. The following is the list during the week:

- A. C. Batchelder, Portland, thumb cut, lumber yard.
Henry Brown, Portland, foot bruised, printing mill.
Mike Miller, Clatskanie, toe nail lost, logging.
Arthur Schneider, Clatskanie, leg bruised, logging.
Julius Carlson, Clatskanie, face and shoulder bruised, logging.
Pete Noel, Marshfield, foot bruised, logging.
John Lambert, Marshfield, shoulder and neck sprained, logging.
C. C. Chamberlain, Marshfield, toe bruised, saw mill yard.
H. W. Olson, Marshfield, body bruised, dock.
C. Jorgensen, Marshfield, side and arm bruised, saw mill.
A. E. Slevoris, Astoria, blood poison in hand, box factory.
Charley Merritt, Oregon City, arm bruised, paper mill.
Ed Laylor, Oregon City, nail in foot, paper mill.
M. E. Douglas, Oregon City, two fingers cut, paper mill.
G. W. Clarke, Oregon City, finger burned, paper mill.
J. W. Garner, Oregon City, hip bruised, paper mill.
Clarence Edmund Sanderfer, Portland, side injured, railroad yard.
Harvey Harrison, Halsey, arm bruised, carpenter.
Walter Bahalt, Portland, finger bruised, boiler shop.
C. H. Stevens, Springfield, two ribs broken, saw mill.
Leslie Kilbuck, Silverton, lip cut, logging.
Alex Kemus, Silverton, chest bruised, logging.
Joe Ruel, Oregon City, wrist injured, bridge construction.
T. Hartness, Portland, head bruised, machinist.
A. E. Coker, Roseburg, ankle sprained, railroad yard.
Frank Shaffer, Portland, hand bruised, railroad train.
John Matthews, Wendling, finger lost, saw mill.
R. H. Phoenix, Astoria, finger bruised, door factory.
John Putnam, Portland, hand cut and arm bruised, railroad yard.
R. Cunningham, Portland, body bruised, railroad yard.
John Kokovox, Linton, three toes crushed, planing mill.
W. W. McCallum, Kamela, knee cap broken, railroad train.
R. J. Reidell, Pendleton, side ruptured, railroad train.
R. L. Lewis, Quartz, foot sprained, railroad train.
William E. Patterson, La Grande, wrist cut and bruised, railroad train.
William E. Love, Portland, ear injured, boiler shop.
S. D. Studley, Mill City, fatal, railroad train.
Henry Peterson, Eugene, foot bruised, railroad section.
Joe Reinhardt, Portland, hip bruised, lumber yard.
W. Lumbstrom, Portland, foot bruised, lumber yard.
J. V. Patton, Portland, leg bruised, railroad train.
H. F. Osborn, Portland, knee sprained, railroad train.
W. Schwabauer, near Beaver creek, finger cut, railroad construction.
C. Stanley, Eugene, foot bruised, railroad yard.
John Kishman, Eugene, finger bruised, railroad construction.
John Covrea, Portland, body bruised, saw mill.
E. Zimmerman, Portland, toe cut, saw mill.
Joe Lehman, Portland, knee bruised, lumber yard.
Jim Colwell, Portland, wrist torn, lumber yard.
G. P. Johnson, Corvallis, finger bruised, railroad train.
Sam Matson, near Sheridan, body bruised, carpenter.

SAYS IT LOOKS AS IF THIS IS TO BE THE FINISH OF HAWLEY

Writer Shows How "Well" Congressman Is Serving Interests of the People.

Salem, Or., Oct. 12.—To the Editor of The Journal.—The campaign for representative in the First Oregon Congressional district is becoming highly interesting, and judging from some of the remarkable methods and arguments adopted by Mr. Hawley and his manager against Frederick Hollister, Democratic candidate, they are greatly alarmed. For this they have a good reason, for it begins to look as if this is to be the finish of Hawley. We notice that Mr. Hawley has a motto, if the word "beautiful" may be applied to mottoes. But it is hardly appropriate to the occasion. The facts do not bear out the assertion. Here are the facts: Ever since Mr. Hawley has been a member of congress he has been drawing a salary of $75 a month from the Woodmen of the World and $5 a day and traveling expenses every time he attended a meeting of the board of head managers of which he is a member.

Attends Two Meetings. The regular board meetings are held in Denver four times a year. During the past year the records show that Mr. Hawley has attended two meetings of the board at Denver when his constituents supposed he was serving them at Washington, the meetings at which he was present being one in November, 1913, and another in August, 1914. Here is something that looks suspicious. In the Congressional Record of August 8, page 14,699, we find this statement by Speaker Clark: "Yesterday morning the chair appointed the gentleman from Oregon, Mr. Hawley, on the committee of 48 to attend the funeral of Mrs. Wilson. The chair has just received a telegram from him saying he has gone to Oregon and cannot be here." Mr. Hawley's managers have been telling us that he was busy in the capital all summer working in the interests of his people. But on August 8 he sent a telegram to Speaker Clark saying he had "gone to Oregon." But he did not come to Oregon; he went to Denver on a little vacation trip. There is absolutely no doubt about it, for on page 13, of the September issue of the official organ of the insurance organization of which Mr. Hawley is one of the directors, or managers, we find: "August 9, 1914. At 9 a. m. the board of head managers met pursuant to adjournment. Present: John Pattison, head manager; W. C. Hawley, head manager; John H. Altom, head manager." So much for that. Then we turn to page 14 and find this in the expense account: "W. C. Hawley, railroad fare Washington, D. C., to Denver and return and sleeper, $100.42. W. C. Hawley, 9 days, per diem, $45." Now, does this look as if Mr. Hawley has "No interests to serve but the public interests?" It takes a lot of nerve for even a hardened politician to make such an assertion in the face of such an array of facts. Why did he tell Speaker Clark that he was going to Oregon? Was he ashamed to have the speaker and his colleagues know he was going off to Denver for five days to attend a board meeting? What right has Mr. Hawley or any other congressman or senator drawing a monthly salary from insurance or any other organizations? He should be satisfied with the $7500 a year he draws from the federal government, for it is much more than he would be able to earn in any other capacity. Besides a man cannot serve two masters and do justice to both. Do the people of Oregon hire Mr. Hawley to attend board meetings at Denver? Perhaps. We shall see on the third of November if they approve his course. A. M. DALRYMPLE.

Storm Strikes Woodland. Woodland, Wash., Oct. 10.—The most brilliant electrical storm seen here in many years visited the community late yesterday afternoon, and for more than half an hour there was almost continuous lightning and thunder, and a deluge of rain. No serious damage to property in the vicinity has been reported, but the electric light line was put out of commission.

Will Loan Slides Free of Charge

After months spent in quiet preparation and assembling of slides, the Pictorial Instruction association with consists of Samuel Hill, T. B. Wilcox, Henrietta E. Failing, G. F. Johnson, A. S. Benson. The slides illustrate subjects that have to do with industry in and development of Oregon, educational lantern slides to illustrate lectures given before civic organizations throughout Oregon.

Oregon Normal Has Annual Reception

President J. H. Ackerman in Address of Welcome Tells of School's Progress, and Students' Work. Oregon Normal School, Monmouth, Or., Oct. 12.—The annual reception given by the faculty members of the Oregon normal school was held in the new gymnasium here today. President J. H. Ackerman of the school delivered the address of welcome, in which he cited the progress the school is making, and something of the students' previous education. This morning there are 216 students enrolled, of which 154 have completed a four year high school course, 29 have finished a three year high school course, and 37 a two year high school course. The others came with a teachers' certificate, on which they receive credit.

Clackamas Jury Has Busy Session

Oregon City, Or., Oct. 10.—The grand jury has been in session in Clackamas county just one week and late this afternoon six matters had been disposed of. Four indictments were returned and not true bills were found against two men. Raymond Stelmets and J. A. Hogan were indicted upon statutory charges, William Hansman, who it is alleged, broke into the Denver meat market in this city some time ago, will have to stand trial in the circuit court, and Fred Haines was indicted for theft of a gun. Charles Muhl, of Milwaukee, charged with embezzlement, and Tohl Nichol, on a charge of threatening to kill, were not indicted. The grand jury will continue its session next Tuesday.

Chehalis G. O. P. Meets.

Chehalis, Wash., Oct. 12.—Lewis county's Republican executive committee and the various legislative nominating committees met in Chehalis Saturday to further map out a plan of campaign. It is proposed from now on to the end of the campaign to conduct a series of meetings in various parts of the county.

Hendricks Will Speak.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., Oct. 12.—Leland Hendricks of Salem, a senior in English in the University of Oregon, will speak at the State Editorial association convention, which will be held in Oregon City, Friday and Saturday of this week. Mr. Hendricks will speak to the newspaper men on "What We Are Going to Do With It." "It" means the newspaper training received in the university.

Bedclothes Ropes Figure in Rescues at Hillsboro Fire

Building Damaged by Flames Sunday Was Once Washington Court House. (Special to The Journal.) Hillsboro, Or., Oct. 12.—Fire believed to have started in a defective wiring early Sunday morning gutted the building on Main street owned by Ed Lyons and spread so rapidly that roomers on the second floor were compelled to escape through windows in their night clothes. The first floor was occupied by the restaurant of Louis Stohler and a barber shop run by Lee of Wheeler. Loss to these is confined to damage by water. Furniture and fixtures on the second floor are a total loss. The fire originated in the room occupied by Stohler, who had risen early to serve breakfast to a party of hunters. Mrs. William Smith, the cook, was still in bed when a defective wiring discovered and her husband rushed up the stairs to awaken her. He was cut off from the stairs by stifling smoke and lowered from a rear window by an improvised rope of bedclothes. Ole Dahlheim, a roamer, threw his clothing from a window and followed it and the same means of exit was adopted by C. Lee of Wheeler, who had rented a room Saturday night. Lee lost all of his effects. The fire was quickly extinguished on the arrival of the department. The building was at one time the Washington county court house. It was of frame construction and was built in the early fifties. Many years ago it was moved from the court house square and has served many purposes. Prior to the victory of the "drys" at the local option election it was occupied by a saloon from which a high rental was received, and the building had a statewide reputation of returning the highest income in proportion to its value of any building in the state. The owner, E. J. Lyons, lives in California. When used for public purposes the building was the seat of government for a wide territory which included what is now Multnomah county. Journal Want Ads bring results.

Bloodhounds Unable To Find Missing Boy

Woods Around Sara, Wash., Thoroughly Combed by Sheriff Word's Party—Last Seen by Hunting Companion. Although the woods in the vicinity of Sara, Wash., were thoroughly combed by Sheriff Word, bloodhounds and a searching party of about 100 no trace could be found yesterday of Mathew Harris, the 11-year-old son of J. P. Harris, of Sara, who disappeared Saturday afternoon. Bloodhounds picked up the trail a number of times Saturday night and early Sunday morning only to lose it later. The boy had been hunting with Alvin Tower, but according to the story told by the latter the Harris boy left him to pick some popcorn, about 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. That was the last seen or heard of the boy. At dusk when the boy did not return the neighbors organized a searching party, which failed to find any trace of the lad, telephoned to Sheriff Word for bloodhounds. Sheriff Word left here immediately after receiving the call Saturday night and arriving at Sara at midnight immediately took up the search which continued through the night. He returned to Portland yesterday leaving one of his deputies to continue the search.

Receipt received of Booth-Kelly Company, $100. $5000 Timber claim.

HELPING HIS POOR RELATIVES!

almost continuous lightning and thunder, and a deluge of rain. No serious damage to property in the vicinity has been reported, but the electric light line was put out of commission.

Bedclothes Ropes Figure in Rescues at Hillsboro Fire

Building Damaged by Flames Sunday Was Once Washington Court House. (Special to The Journal.) Hillsboro, Or., Oct. 12.—Fire believed to have started in a defective wiring early Sunday morning gutted the building on Main street owned by Ed Lyons and spread so rapidly that roomers on the second floor were compelled to escape through windows in their night clothes. The first floor was occupied by the restaurant of Louis Stohler and a barber shop run by Lee of Wheeler. Loss to these is confined to damage by water. Furniture and fixtures on the second floor are a total loss. The fire originated in the room occupied by Stohler, who had risen early to serve breakfast to a party of hunters. Mrs. William Smith, the cook, was still in bed when a defective wiring discovered and her husband rushed up the stairs to awaken her. He was cut off from the stairs by stifling smoke and lowered from a rear window by an improvised rope of bedclothes. Ole Dahlheim, a roamer, threw his clothing from a window and followed it and the same means of exit was adopted by C. Lee of Wheeler, who had rented a room Saturday night. Lee lost all of his effects. The fire was quickly extinguished on the arrival of the department. The building was at one time the Washington county court house. It was of frame construction and was built in the early fifties. Many years ago it was moved from the court house square and has served many purposes. Prior to the victory of the "drys" at the local option election it was occupied by a saloon from which a high rental was received, and the building had a statewide reputation of returning the highest income in proportion to its value of any building in the state. The owner, E. J. Lyons, lives in California. When used for public purposes the building was the seat of government for a wide territory which included what is now Multnomah county. Journal Want Ads bring results.

Bloodhounds Unable To Find Missing Boy

Woods Around Sara, Wash., Thoroughly Combed by Sheriff Word's Party—Last Seen by Hunting Companion. Although the woods in the vicinity of Sara, Wash., were thoroughly combed by Sheriff Word, bloodhounds and a searching party of about 100 no trace could be found yesterday of Mathew Harris, the 11-year-old son of J. P. Harris, of Sara, who disappeared Saturday afternoon. Bloodhounds picked up the trail a number of times Saturday night and early Sunday morning only to lose it later. The boy had been hunting with Alvin Tower, but according to the story told by the latter the Harris boy left him to pick some popcorn, about 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. That was the last seen or heard of the boy. At dusk when the boy did not return the neighbors organized a searching party, which failed to find any trace of the lad, telephoned to Sheriff Word for bloodhounds. Sheriff Word left here immediately after receiving the call Saturday night and arriving at Sara at midnight immediately took up the search which continued through the night. He returned to Portland yesterday leaving one of his deputies to continue the search.

Oregon Normal Has Annual Reception

President J. H. Ackerman in Address of Welcome Tells of School's Progress, and Students' Work. Oregon Normal School, Monmouth, Or., Oct. 12.—The annual reception given by the faculty members of the Oregon normal school was held in the new gymnasium here today. President J. H. Ackerman of the school delivered the address of welcome, in which he cited the progress the school is making, and something of the students' previous education. This morning there are 216 students enrolled, of which 154 have completed a four year high school course, 29 have finished a three year high school course, and 37 a two year high school course. The others came with a teachers' certificate, on which they receive credit.

Clackamas Jury Has Busy Session

Oregon City, Or., Oct. 10.—The grand jury has been in session in Clackamas county just one week and late this afternoon six matters had been disposed of. Four indictments were returned and not true bills were found against two men. Raymond Stelmets and J. A. Hogan were indicted upon statutory charges, William Hansman, who it is alleged, broke into the Denver meat market in this city some time ago, will have to stand trial in the circuit court, and Fred Haines was indicted for theft of a gun. Charles Muhl, of Milwaukee, charged with embezzlement, and Tohl Nichol, on a charge of threatening to kill, were not indicted. The grand jury will continue its session next Tuesday.

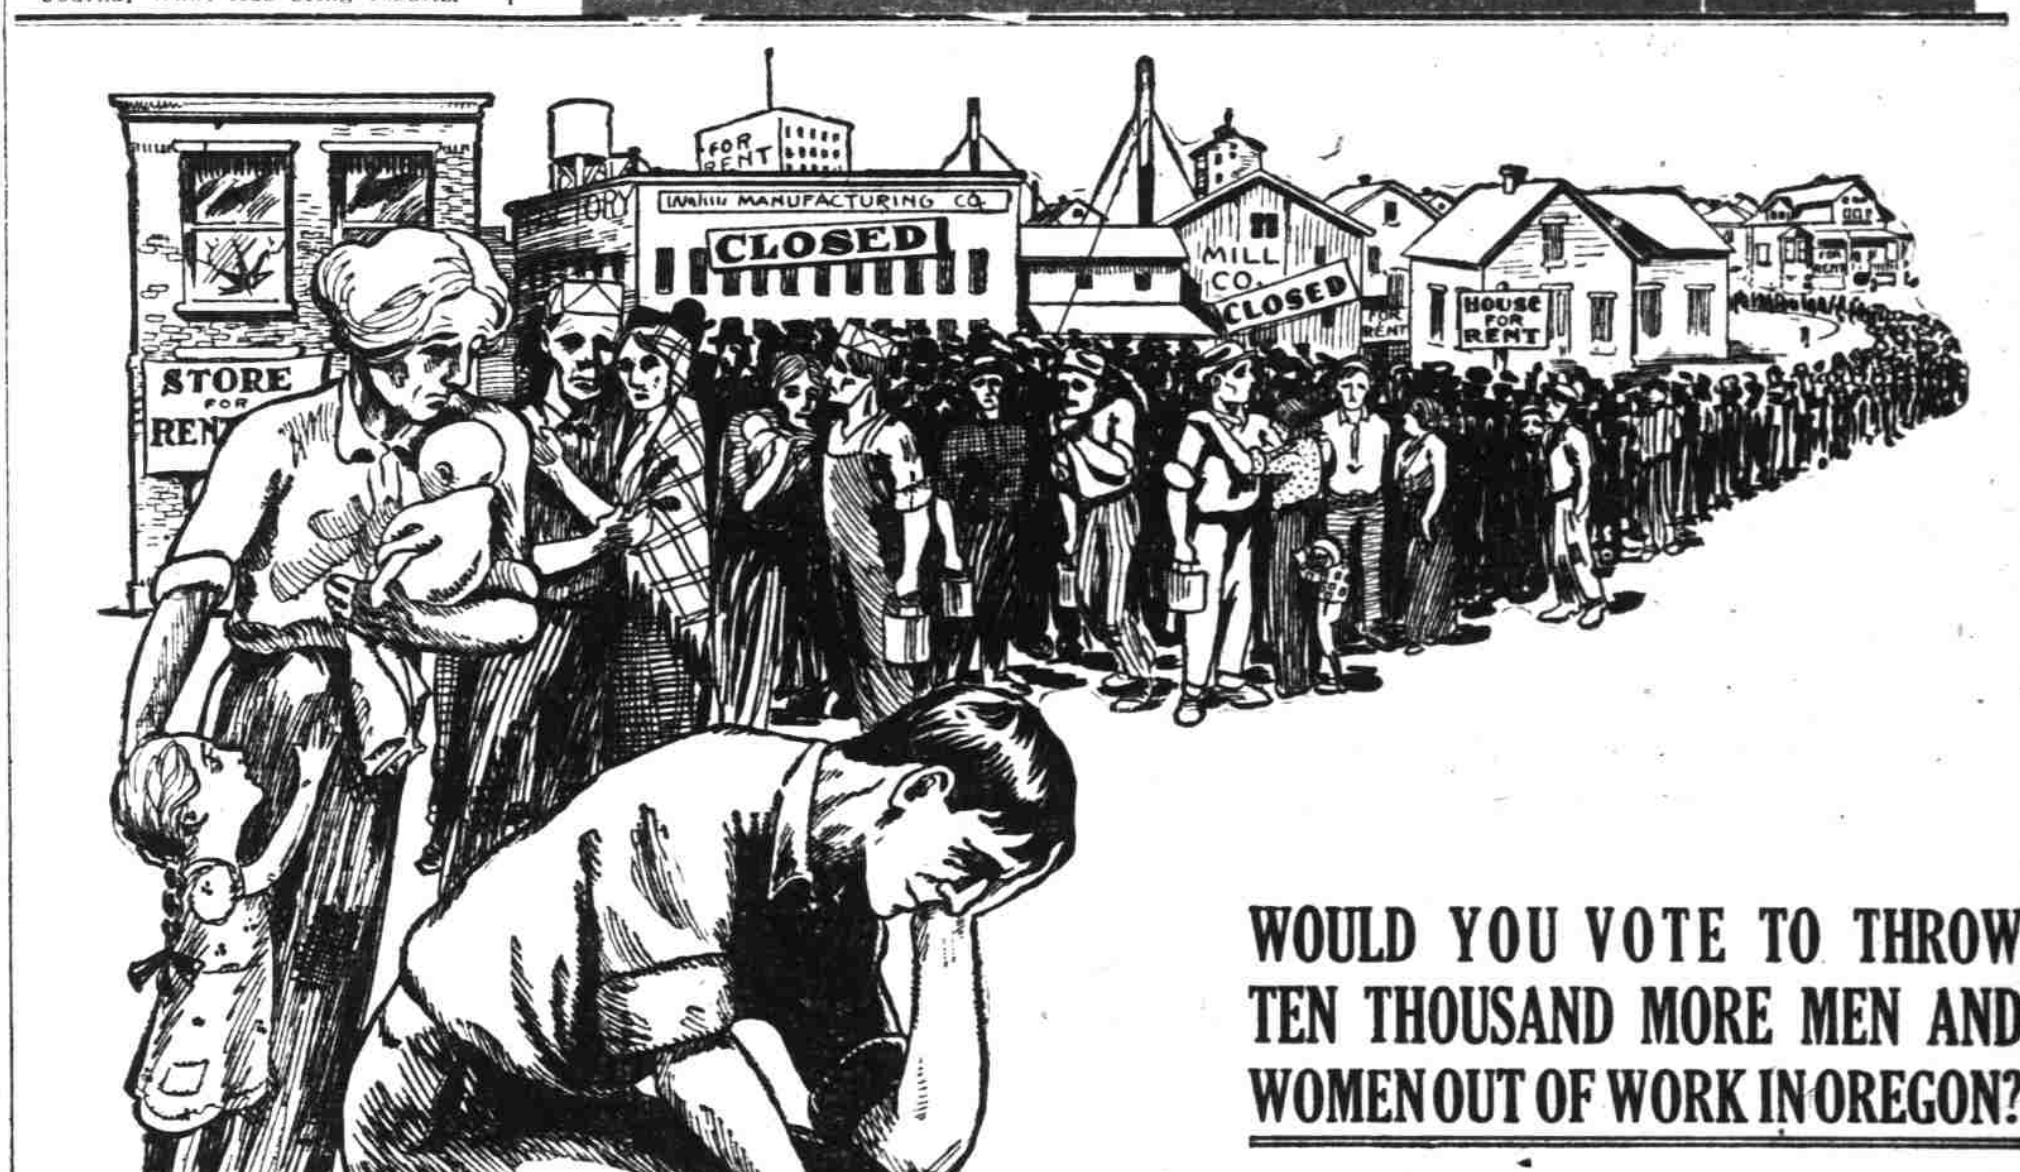

Chehalis G. O. P. Meets.

Chehalis, Wash., Oct. 12.—Lewis county's Republican executive committee and the various legislative nominating committees met in Chehalis Saturday to further map out a plan of campaign. It is proposed from now on to the end of the campaign to conduct a series of meetings in various parts of the county.

Hendricks Will Speak.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., Oct. 12.—Leland Hendricks of Salem, a senior in English in the University of Oregon, will speak at the State Editorial association convention, which will be held in Oregon City, Friday and Saturday of this week. Mr. Hendricks will speak to the newspaper men on "What We Are Going to Do With It." "It" means the newspaper training received in the university.

Advertisements for Moyer clothing, featuring illustrations of men in suits and coats, and text promoting 'Moyer $15 Overcoat, Raincoat, or Balmacaan' and 'Moyer $15 Suit'.

Large advertisement for Stein-Bloch clothing, featuring the text 'The Stein-Bloch Label' and 'A SOLEMN DUTY RESTS ON YOUR CONSCIENCE Register Before Thursday, October 15'. It also includes a call to 'VOTE 333 X NO AGAINST PROHIBITION'.

Advertisement for Edell Brew, featuring a bottle illustration and text: 'Strengthening! There's a tonic influence in good beer—Beer that is scientifically brewed and properly aged. Edell Brew is the standard of beer excellence. It's brewed for your table. Phone your grocer or PORTLAND BREWING COMPANY'.