

NEARLY ALL PAPERS REGARDLESS OF PARTY SUPPORT HOLLISTER

Republican Publications as Well as Others Want Real Congressman.

PEOPLE SEEK RESULTS

Man Big Enough to Get Something Done Is Almost Unanimous Cry, Says Edgar McDaniel.

That the newspapers of the Willamette valley, including nearly all the Republican papers, are supporting Frederick Hollister for congressman from the first district, is the statement of Edgar McDaniel, for eight years proprietor of the Coos Bay Harbor, a Republican paper published at North Bend. He says they are supporting Mr. Hollister, and against Congressman Hawley, because they want a representative in congress who will have ability to get results.

Mr. McDaniel is in Portland, completing the last lap of a trip through the Willamette valley in the interest of a special coast edition of his paper, which he will publish about October 25. The edition will be devoted to the development of the Willamette valley and the coast counties.

In speaking of Frederick Hollister's candidacy for representative to congress, Mr. McDaniel said: "I find everywhere in the valley and along the coast a growing enthusiasm for Mr. Hollister. There is not a single coast paper raising its voice against him. Willamette valley papers are supporting him almost to a man."

Hollister Man for Job.

"As a Republican and the owner of a Republican paper, I am doing all I can for Mr. Hollister. I believe he is the man for the place. His aggressiveness and absolute dependability will be a pleasing relief after the inactivity of the present incumbent. I have nothing against Mr. Hawley—he has done nothing to merit either commendation nor condemnation. We want men in congress who do things—active men—big men, and Mr. Hollister is of this type. He has lived in North Bend since the incorporation of the city 12 years ago and has always been identified with those movements which mean bigger and better things, not only to the community, but to the state at large.

Salary Not Needed.

"Mr. Hollister does not want the office for the salary attached, being a wealthy man, having interests in Lane and Coos counties, besides a lucrative law practice. He will, however, devote his entire attention to the work required of a congressman, with the sole purpose of securing federal recognition in the district, which has long been neglected.

"He has a well-defined plan to lay before congress, touching upon the importance of the government paying its just apportionment of the cost of building roads and improving rivers and harbors. This plan is based upon the importance of utilizing the timber of the forest reserves, the loss each year being far greater than the amount required to make all federal improvements listed under the present project."

GRAFONOLA CABINET MAKING PLANT MAY LOCATE IN PORTLAND

Local Firm Now Completing Trial Order for Columbia Graphophone Company.

Portland stands a chance of becoming the center of a new Pacific coast industry—the manufacture of cabinets for grafonolas. At the present time such cabinets are all made in the east, but a Portland firm is now completing a trial order for the Columbia Graphophone company and if it succeeds in turning out a product that answers the requirements and fulfills the tests exacted by the company it is probable that the future will see all the cabinets needed for distribution west of the Rockies made on the Pacific coast. George W. Lyle of New York, vice president and general manager of the Columbia Graphophone company, was in Portland on his annual inspection

How to stop dandruff and loss of hair Shampoo with hot water, rubbing thoroughly into the scalp the rich, creamy lather of Resinol Soap

Resinol Soap so as to soften and stimulate the scalp, to remove the dead skin and cells, and to work the soothing, healing Resinol balsams well into the roots of the hair. Rinse in gradually cooler water, the final water being cold. Dry the hair thoroughly, without artificial heat. This simple, agreeable method almost always stops dandruff and scalp itching, and keeps the hair live, thick and lustrous. Resinol Soap leaves no stickiness or unpleasant odor in the hair. trip of Columbia branches, told of this potential industry yesterday afternoon.

"We are merely trying out the idea," he said. "If the experiment proves a success we may decide to have all our cabinets for use in this part of the country made out here. The company making the trial order is using mahogany and oak for the experiment and we hope for a finished article that will equal the product of the eastern manufacturers."

And this was not the only piece of good news Mr. Lyle has for Portlanders. "Business conditions," he said, "are rapidly improving all over the country. I, of course, am better posted on my own line than others. The United States business of the Columbia Graphophone company has increased materially during the past year. The volume of business of the Portland branch is double what it was in 1913.

"Our salesrooms in the Washington hotel building contain double the floor space we had in the Columbia building, our previous location, and our business has well warranted the move." Inasmuch as grafonolas may be considered more or less of a luxury, Mr. Lyle's statements may be taken to knock flat some of the stories of business depression.

"Portland seems bigger and better every time I come here," he remarked. "And I am always especially impressed by your new building. He will leave tonight for San Francisco. Walter S. Gray, of San Francisco, Pacific coast manager of the Columbia Graphophone company, is with him.

ROYAL VICTIMS DIE AS RESULT OF INJURIES RECEIVED IN BATTLE

The Dalles Postoffice.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The postoffice department has notified Senator Lane that pending the construction of a new building to replace the postoffice building at The Dalles, the building temporarily occupied will continue to be occupied.

Farewell to Pastor.

Pleasant Valley, Or., Oct. 13.—A farewell reception and harvest social will be held tomorrow evening at Pleasant Valley Baptist church in honor of Rev. J. A. Hoey of Portland, who will discontinue his services at the church after having occupied its pulpit for nearly a year.

Chalmers "Light Six"

$1650

If you were an automobile expert and had thoroughly examined this car before we announced the price you would have unhesitatingly judged it a big value at $2,000.

The Biggest Motor Car Buy of Any Year

In our automobile experience we have never seen any year in which one car stood as far above its price class as the 1915 Chalmers "Light Six" does this year.

All things considered, we honestly can say this new Chalmers "Light Six" gives greater dollar for dollar value in motor essentials than any car we have ever sold.

We know that it is simply impossible for you to get the full value of these statements merely by reading them. That is why we are anxious to have you take the Chalmers "Real Test" Ride over every sort of roads. You can't doubt the proof then.

Beyond Our Expectations! "Sewing Week Sale"

—Announcements to the public made by this store are reasonably certain of generous response. The good housekeeper, wife and mother is generally interested in Lipman, Wolfe & Company Store News. The inauguration of SEWING WEEK SALES far exceeded all calculations, and was far beyond our expectations. Not the slightest sign of the slackening of interest. Counters crowded—additional help—everything to serve you promptly and intelligently in every section affected by Sewing Week Sales. The timeliness—the economies—the plans we have made to place before you the newest, the most fashionable and the most desirable materials are of intense importance to every shopper.

—Wednesday, a real feast of economies awaits shoppers, for additional merchandise just received has been impressed into this sale. Coupled with the economies is a hearty welcome. You are never obligated to purchase.

—Latest fashionable silks that provide uncommonly beautiful qualities needed for Winter gowns at prices admitting of real economy. Silks from a stock that is as "clean as a whistle." Where the best examples of both the American and foreign manufacturers are always found. Silks that are getting scarcer every day, controlled beyond the power of man, by trade conditions. Satins, crepe meteor, chiffon, taffeta, crepe de chine, charmeuse, printed, striped, embroidered and crepe faille silks are but a few of the fabrics on sale. Prices range from 44c, 79c, 89c, $1.33, $1.59, $1.79 to $3.15 a yard.

—The representatives from two factories which made many of the fine dress goods on sale, informed us yesterday that they would not be able to send out more for many a day. For this reason, and because materials themselves are rich and beautiful, and because of Sewing Week Sale Prices, women are sensibly taking advantage of dress goods economies. Wool fabrics of foreign and American origin, in distinctive weaves, of sturdy, honest, standard qualities, are offered, one and all, at Sewing Week prices. It is a privilege, therefore, for dressmakers and home sewers to select just the special material for which they have need. The prices start at 44c, 79c, 89c, $1.10, $1.33, $1.59 to $2.19 a yard.

—Foremost, of course, laces for trimming gowns and wraps, for beautifying waists, for embellishing party dresses; laces for fancy work and decorative work of all kinds make up this vast assortment that is being featured in Sewing Week Sales. Every style of lace that the French dressmaker has set the seal of approval on is to be found here in great assortment. Trimmings, too, in wonderful variety.

—Of course, you know when you buy your millinery trimmings here and your untrimmed hat, also, that we place at the disposal of our patrons expert milliners, who trim your hat free of charge. The economies offered in this sale were of sufficient attraction to make this sale a great success, but as an added inducement, the free trimming announcement is bound to win recognition from a vast number of women who are not gifted with the knack of trimming their own hats. Polite saleswomen are here to assist you in making appropriate selections for individual tastes.

—The scientific corseting of women has become an art in this store, well worthy of consideration. A corset must fit perfectly, must give entire satisfaction, before a sale is made. In this corset store we would much rather lose the sale of a corset than a customer. For this reason, we have experts trained in every corset requirement. The immature, the average, the stout figure is treated for its particular need, so that by careful corseting its beauty may be enhanced and defects carefully concealed. While we have established a reputation for the most exclusive styles in high-priced corsets, we have not been oblivious to the fact that many women are desirous of wearing the latest models in the more medium-priced corsets. To this end you will find corsets at every price. We fit free from $2.00 up.
