

CHRISTMAS SHIP IDEA
TAKES HOLD OF CITY AS THOUGH BY MAGIC

Journal Office Deluged With Thousands of Packages
From Kind Hearted People

COUNTRY IS REPRESENTED

Cash, Clothing and Toys Go to Make Up Contributions to Cheer the Hearts of Europeans.

By Vella Winner.
There are no words, no combination of superlatives equal to telling the story of the Christmas Ship.

Portland has always done things for its own poor and for the unfortunate of the state and has never failed to respond to famine, flood and earthquake sufferers, but it remained for the Christmas Ship idea to sweep the people completely off their feet, to put everybody to work, the wealthy to writing checks and the poorer ones to buying and sewing, and the children to running errands or doing whatever they could to earn something for the great cause.

The Journal is simply deluged with the thousands upon thousands of packages that are pouring in from all over the northwest, by mail, by steamer, by messenger and by the donors themselves, they come, beginning the first thing in the morning and lasting into the night.

Today it was necessary to open The Journal auditorium and place in charge a special corps of clerks in order to take care of the people and their contributions.

Christmas Ship Crazy.

Nothing like it has ever happened before in the history of the city.

Portland is Christmas Ship crazy.
Two rooms on the third floor of The Journal building are already filled to the ceiling with contributions, extra large boxes are temporarily stored in the basement and still they come.

That Portland will have a carload of contributions for the ship is assured.

The day's contributions contained no more interesting incident than the arrival by steamer of two enormous boxes of clothing and a crate containing 150 pounds of dried prunes from the congregational church of Wash-ougal. Clothing of all kinds, shoes, stockings, sewing materials, etc., are included in the boxes and, best of all, nearly all of the things are brand new.
The response of the church and church people is highly gratifying. Two large boxes of clothing and toys and cash contributions were brought yesterday by representatives of the Academy of the Holy Child Jesus, St. Philip's school and St. Rose's school. These contributions were all from the children of these well known Catholic institutions.

Extremely generous were the donations of H. Liebes & Co. and Charles Jenning. The Liebes company sent up 14 new cloth coats, satin lined, and two boxes of sweaters, while Mr. Jen-ning brought 15 sets of black fur coats, from individual and from churches, schools and clubs of neighborhood towns come in by every mail and by express. I would like to give a paragraph to every contributor, but lack of space forbids.

Donors Are Named.

For a great array of generous and practical gifts, cash, food, clothing and toys The Journal is indebted to: The
