Sunday Closing Law Given Knock-Out

Judge Morrow of Multnomah, Sitting at Eugene, Declares Old Statute Is Unconstitutional; Will Not Appeal.

Eugene, Or., Oct. 28.—Judge R. G. Morrow of the circuit court of Multnomah county, who is sitting on the bench here in place of Judge L. T. Harris, yesterday afternoon declared that the state law which compels the closing of nearly all classes of business on Sunday is unconstitutional on account of its being class legislation and discriminatory.

This was a decision of the case recently instituted to test this law, which was passed in 1864, and which has seldom been enforced in any city during late years. Lee Nichols, proprietor of a cigar store, agreed to sell a cigar on Sunday and allow himself to be arrested, for the purpose of bringing the law into the courts. This was after County Attorney Devers had ordered that all places of business except those that the law says shall remain open, be closed. Nichols pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty by the justice of the peace and fined $25. The case was taken to the circuit court upon appeal, and Judge Morrow yesterday declared that the law is in contradiction to section 20 of article 1 of the state constitution and in violation of the constitution of the United States.

The case will not be appealed to the supreme court by County Attorney Devers. Last evening, after the decision of Judge Morrow was announced, he said: "If the law is not a good one the people or the legislature can repeal it. I will not put the county to the expense of appealing it to the supreme court when the legislature meets so soon."

In giving his decision Judge Morrow declared: "I have been waiting five years to get a knock at this law, and this was my opportunity."

Youthful Burglars On the East Side

Four Houses Entered and a Small Amount of Money and Two Watches Taken.

Boys are believed to have committed four house burglaries yesterday afternoon on the east side. At the home of V. L. Livesay, 1311 East Thirty-first street, north, a watch, a quantity of trading stamps and a box of pennies were stolen. The detectives traced the burglars to the home of J. Lang, 1332 East Thirty-first street, where they entered, and stole another watch, leaving the one taken from the Livesay home.

Carter Lewis, 842 East Nineteenth street, north, reported his home was entered during the absence of the family. A Masonic charm and a gold watch were taken. Miss Murphy, 667 East Eighteenth street, north, reported $10 in cash taken from her home. J. W. Neville, 837 Division street, reported two suits of clothing were taken from his home. In the kitchen was found a copy of a woman's magazine, for which a boy had been soliciting subscriptions.

Hood River Heights Nominates a Ticket

Hood River, Or., Oct. 28.—At a meeting of the citizens of the Hood River Heights held last night, a complete city ticket was placed in the field for the coming election. Dr. H. L. Dumble was named as candidate for mayor; Mace Baldwin, recorder; John Otten, M. H. Nickelsen and James Carnes as councilmen. The voters back of the ticket will propose an amendment to the city charter making the offices of city marshal, street commissioner, water commissioner, city attorney elective, instead of appointive, as at present. An amendment will also be proposed to the city charter providing that all repairs to the streets and the upkeep of the paved highways shall be paid for out of the street and general funds of the city instead of being assessed to the abutting property.

MILLS PREPARE TO START

Centralia, Wash., Oct. 28.—The logging camps of the Eastern Railway & Lumber company and the Lincoln Creek Lumber company have reopened, preparatory to the two mills resuming operations. It is expected that the Lincoln Creek mill, located four miles west of Centralia, will reopen next Monday, and the Eastern in two or three weeks.

Tacoma Woman Is Drowned in Lake

Cook at Lakeside Golf Club Succumbs and Instructor Nearly Perishes When Canoe Is Overturned in Fog.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Charles Wood, cook at the Lakeside Golf club, was drowned in American lake early today while crossing the lake in a canoe with Alexander Leith, the club's instructor. Leith was rescued and the body of the woman was recovered by Manager Bert Finney of the American Lake hotel.

Leith and the woman tried to cross the lake in a heavy fog about 1 o'clock this morning and in some manner the canoe was overturned. Finney heard their cries and reached the couple just as Mrs. Wood was going down for the last time. Efforts at resuscitation with a pulmonary failed. Leith was unconscious when brought to shore, but it is thought he will recover.

Land Show Program.

Tonight—Jollification by the Knights and Ladies of Security. Music, motion pictures and special entertainment features.

Thursday afternoon, 2:00—Willamette Valley program. Addresses by M. J. Duryea, of Eugene, commercial club, and G. E. Freytag, of Oregon City.

2:00—Beginning of Linn and Lane county canning contests, which will run three afternoons.

2:30 to 4:30—University of Oregon celebration. Dr. Hodge talks on agricultural education.

Thursday night, 8:00—Royal Rosarians out in force. Will be accompanied by Queen Thelma and queens from other festival cities.

8:00—Half hour concert by University of Oregon Glee club quartet. Addresses by H. B. Miller, Portland Grocers and Retailers' association night.

The Manufacturers' and Land Product show at the Armory and in the temporary pavilions is now in full swing and from now on until its close, November 14, there will be something doing every minute from the time doors open at 1 o'clock in the afternoon until they swing shut at 11 p. m.

Yesterday's attendance was very satisfactory and throughout the afternoon and night great throngs of people crowded Agriculture Hall, and the Armory where the magnificent displays of field and factory are shown under the brilliancy of 10,000 electric globes.

Band Music Feature.

Aside from the splendid music furnished throughout the afternoon and evening by Campbell's band, hundreds spent the afternoon in the free theatre where moving pictures of Oregon industries and manufacturing plants are daily thrown on the screen and vaudeville stunts and musical programs are given.

Everything points to the best kind of a success in regard to the old-fashioned Baby show that will be the principal event of Saturday. More than 300 babies are entered already. A grand entry office is now open at Lennon's Glove store, opposite the postoffice.

Last night the East Side Business Men's club held high jinks at the exposition and from 8 to 11 o'clock the members made life merry for themselves and visitors alike. Headed by a big brass band the clubmen avalanched into the exposition halls in a body, and swarmed into the theatre where prizes were awarded the lucky ones in the grand march and David Dunne, president of the show, delivered a well-coming address. Then the East Siders sallied forth in a body with big bands bearing this printed request:

Many Wear Badges.

"Quality, price and service being equal, give each side preference. Help boost for a bigger, better, busier east side." And before the evening had passed few indeed were visitors who were not wearing one of the badges.

The first meeting in the free theatre was held in the afternoon when the Sunday School association gathered to hear the report of Superintendent C. A. Phillips. Then in the evening the State Aviators' Press club gave a special program under the direction of a special committee consisting of Mrs. L. B. Bartlett, Mrs. Theresa Hoppe, Mrs. C. D. Joslyn and Mrs. L. D. McCutcheon. The program:

One of the features of this afternoon's events will be a lecture on the Mackenzie river by M. J. Duryea, manager of the promotion department of the Eugene Commercial club. It will be illustrated by colored slides showing the splendid scenic country through which the river flows. In addition motion pictures and vaudeville features will make time slip past rapidly.

Special Feature Tonight.

Tonight the Knights and Ladies of Security will hold the center of interest. Members of the various councils will march from 8 1/2 Fifth street at 8 o'clock, up Washington and down Fifth to the Armory. The parade will march a brass band, drill teams and the general membership.

Colonel Dunne will welcome them at the show and following the response Miss Gettrude Hooper will sing. Then members of the order will begin high jinks of their own, which will include a contest to detect a certain knight and lady who will wear some designating mark.

Several new exhibits have been opened during the last 24 hours, and additions made to others, and now that everything is in shipshape and ready, the exposition is humming with activity and visitors are more than pleased with the artistic displays and the splendid entertainment features that have been thus far offered.

To Speak in Eugene Instead of Albany

Judge A. S. Bennett, who will deliver addresses the last three days of this week in support of Senator George E. Chamberlain and Dr. C. J. Smith and others on the Democratic ticket, will speak in Heaverton instead of Forest Grove on Friday night and in Eugene instead of Albany Saturday night. Announcements of these changes in speaking places were made today.

Judge Bennett, who is one of the most forceful and interesting speakers in the state, will deliver an address in Shevleidan tomorrow night.
