

GERMAN BUSINESS IN EXCELLENT SHAPE IN SPITE OF GREAT WAR

Panama-Pacific Exposition Commissioner Schultz Returns From Visit to Berlin.

Factories are Running

He Says Germans Expect War to Continue Until Spring, But Say They Will Hold Commercial Supremacy.

(United Press Licensed Wire.) New York, Oct. 30.—Optimistic reports of conditions in Germany were voiced here today by Walter Schultz, Panama-Pacific exposition commissioner to Germany, who recently returned to New York from Berlin. Factories, he said, were running and the nation's general business was good.

"The German empire," said Schultz, "intends to participate in the San Francisco exposition and will show the world that the war will not force her from the position she holds in regard to trade and commerce. The German generally expects the war to continue until spring but says they don't expect to encounter any difficulties in shipping exhibits to America."

There are 70,000,000 people in Germany. Possibly 5,000,000 are fighting. That leaves 65,000,000 to conduct the empire's business. Factories along the frontier are closed, of course, but the rest are running, excepting those manufacturing articles classed as luxuries.

"Mobilization was conducted in such a manner that enough men were left to keep the factories in operation. The German market is being kept open for American trade. The empire feels most friendly toward the United States and wants to make its trade relations even closer."

Schultz said German business men welcome competition and probably would favor the campaign to mark goods "Made in the U. S. A."

Many of the Berlin shops, he said, were displaying cards in their windows reading as follows: "This is an American house; patronize American goods; Americans are friendly to us."

Crabtree Man Is Home From Europe

Albany, Or., Oct. 30.—After a 30 day trip through Germany and Holland on the railroad and thence to America by steamer, Frank Bartu of Crabtree arrived home yesterday after a summer's visit at Prague, Bohemia, where he formerly resided. Mr. Bartu left Albany July 1 and arrived at Prague just three days before the war broke out.

When Mr. Bartu, after six weeks' effort, finally secured a ticket to Holland and was on his way, he says he thought he never would reach his destination, owing to the many stops and transfers to give army trains the right of way. He boarded the steamer September 27 and landed in New York October 7. Mr. Bartu says passage in any way, shape or form was in great demand.

Booth's Coup TO SEIZE DRY VOTE RESENTED

(Continued from Page One.) Indeed it excites my utmost contempt. For Mr. Stine to accept a nomination by a certain party and then use the favor thus conferred to aid in electing a candidate in another party is treason, and therefore, a course no man with a true sense of honor would pursue.

Making here the reference to the little that can be expected for prohibition from standard Republicans, the letter continues: "That class of men never did do anything and never will for the prohibition cause. When prohibition had become the law of Kansas the Republican party, in obedience to the behests of the national liquor organization, defeated John P. St. Johns, the Republican candidate for governor, because he had been enthusiastically active in having the constitutional amendment adopted, and special legislation enacted for its enforcement, and elected George Clark, who was a candidate on the anti-prohibition and resubmission platform."

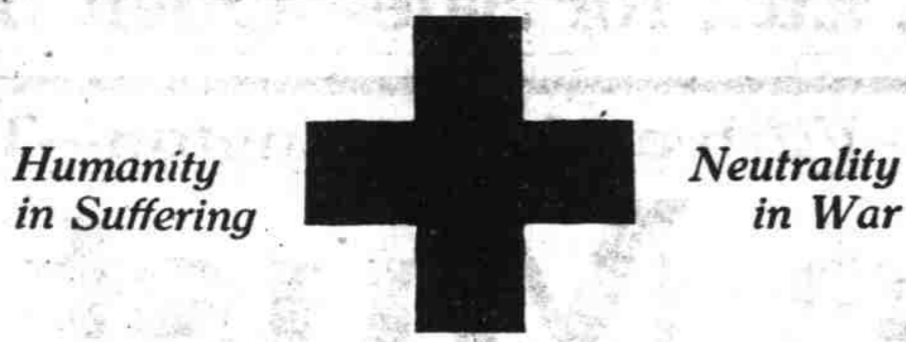

No Faith in Standpatters. "It is the people of Kansas in spite of the Republican party's subservience to the liquor power that have retained prohibition in that state. I was on the ground at the time and in the struggle and know whereof I speak. Standpatter Republicans would betray the Lord, the prohibitionists or any person or cause for votes. No hope for prohibition from standpatter Republicans."

Similar effort to induce Curtis P. Coe to withdraw from the race for congress from the first district in favor of Hawley, the Republican candidate, has been repudiated by Coe. He has written a letter to his would be advisers containing this statement:

"You further say that Hawley is hard at work, unquestionable as to his loyalty to the great measure." You are the first man who, to me, has said as much for Hawley. I have tried to find anything that would so indicate. In all his record at home or at congress."

Politics at Hood River. Hood River, Or., Oct. 30.—The office of county clerk is the storm center in local politics. J. H. Hazlett has announced through the press that if he is elected clerk he will appoint W. E. Hansen, incumbent, as his deputy. Hansen was the rival candidate for the office in the primaries against Ken Shoemaker, who won the nomination by a large majority. Friends of Shoemaker state that Hazlett is guilty of violating the corrupt practice act by announcing before the election who his deputy will be. Provided by section 5204 of Lord's Oregon Laws, and that the case will be prosecuted in the courts.

Stone on Board. Hood River, Or., Oct. 30.—A. W. Stone, manager of the Hood River Apple Growers' association, has been appointed to represent the Hood River district on the board of trustees of the North Pacific Fruit Distributors during the absence of J. F. Davidson, president of the distributors.
