

Social and Personal

NOTABLE affair of Saturday evening was the dinner dance given by Wirt Minor at the Wirt Minor country club honoring Miss Alisa MacMaster, the attractive debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster. Mr. and Mrs. MacMaster, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. Landon Mason assisted in receiving. Miss MacMaster and Mr. Minor stood in the large lounge room to receive their guests. The deep red costumes worn by the maids in the dining room afforded a most artistic background for the many beautiful costumes worn. Miss MacMaster was a lovely picture in her gown of beautiful flowers sent to her on the occasion. She wore a white satin draped in filmy iridescent beaded net.

The clubhouse was decked most elaborately with flowers. In the hall amid palms and ferns huge clusters of mauve pink chrysanthemums were used and in the dining room the festive spirit of Halloween was everywhere in evidence. The tables were centered with yellow chrysanthemums and festoons of ferns and smilax with favors of every description suggestive of Halloween, and they were illumined with glowing jack-o'-lanterns. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. MacMaster, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols, Mr. Minor, Mr. and Mrs. Landon R. Mason Jr., Misses Alisa MacMaster, Jean MacKenzie, Barbara Mackenna, Miss Olive Fellings, Mary Robertson, Mary and Jean Brownie, Clementine Lambert, Charlotte Laidlaw, Katherine Laidlaw, Isabella Gault, Isabella Macleay, Jean MacMaster, Edna Runyan, Mrs. Katherine Hart, Katherine Holbrook, Margaret Hewitt, Louise Burns, Margaret Voorhis, Margery Hoffman, Corinna Cook, Nellie Kelly, Mrs. Carey, Elizabeth Jacobs, Margaret Meara, Violet Erskine, Diana Erskine, Shanna Cumming, Alice Gillman, Shirley Eastham and Andrew Kerr, Jordan E. ### Governor West Urges Reelection of Chamberlain

Salem, Or., Nov. 2.—Governor Oswald West today issued the following statement:
"The people will not only be called upon to elect a senator tomorrow but to decide whether or a faithful public servant shall be endorsed or set aside for one who has not been faithful and whose activities have been prompted only by selfish desires."
"George E. Chamberlain has, as a public official, rendered invaluable service to the people of this state and should be defeated tomorrow his defeat would be notice to the world that in this state a faithful public servant need not expect reward, but must stand ready to step aside for the selfish representatives of organized greed."
"George E. Chamberlain has earned the support of every man and woman in the state of Oregon, and his election tomorrow will be a declaration of confidence in the people of Oregon are ever ready to stand by those who stand by them."
"OSWALD WEST."

Groskopf-Dickson Wedding.
On Sunday, November 1, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James A. O-W. R. & N. and S. P. Co. Make Deal
Willamette River Bridge Now Owned Jointly by Two Companies; Exchange in Contemplation

Half of the O-W. R. & N. bridge across the Willamette River now belongs to the Southern Pacific company, according to the terms of a deal closed in San Francisco late last week. In exchange, the Southern Pacific transferred to the O-W. R. & N. a half interest in its big freight house and numerous parcels of land scattered over the east side and in South Portland.

Judge Decides Case On Child's Advice
Taking the advice of an only child, a daughter, this morning, Circuit Judge Davis denied a divorce to either Fannie Sisley or Arthur S. Sisley. Mrs. Sisley sued for the divorce, saying that Sisley became indifferent several years ago. Sisley filed a cross complaint, alleging that Mrs. Sisley became grasping and asserted that she was the business manager of the house. Miss Alice Sisley, the daughter, was called as a witness in the case.

WILL 'TAKE-OFF' ELECTION
The regular Wednesday night dinner dance at the Portland Commercial club will be a "political" dance, and it will be in the nature of a takeoff of the campaign. The late election returns will be flashed on a screen and the Democratic monkey, the Republican elephant and the Progressive moose will be present in effigy. Candidates of the various parties have been invited to attend. A. L. fish is chairman of the evening.
