"The Correlation of Music and ancing" was the subject of an adms by M. Christenson, which he faced with the reading of cuttings several musical publications, all at music and the dance are so closeallied that it is almost impossible know or even think of one without other. He deplored the present abuses of the dance, but declared at such abuses were not arguments gainst the dance but in favor of its ligent interpretation.

Little Miss Mildred Keats captirated her audience with her exquisite cing; She gave first a Pierrot nme dance, "The Joy of the ose," arranged by Chalif, with whom youthful dancer has just been p. m. studying. Her second number was mer, from the Cycle of the Seans, also arranged by Chalif. Both iances were given with a finished artistry that might well be envied by professional dancers of many more years. Miss Mildred combines beauty, grace and a sense of rhythm rfectly trained. In her first dance he wore a saucy costume of white satin with pompons of black and in her ond number she typified summer from her diaphaneus pink and white frock with garlands of pink roses to the tips of her little pink satin slippers. In response to an insistent enshe danced with dreamy beauty he barcarrole from the "Love Tales of Hoffman." The charm of the dance mbers was enhanced by the beauliful music. Mrs. Keats was at the no; Mr. Christenson, violin; flute, Nelson: clarinet, A. Graves. Miss Georgia Wey gave an excellent address on "The Tendency of Modern Dancing Toward the Aesthetic." She traced the history of dancing and laid atress on the value of the splendid training offered at the imperial ballet schools in Russia, where so many of the fine dancers and dancing leachers have received their training and who are in turn doing much toward uplifting the art of dancing, which is now considered one of the fine arts. Following her address Miss Wey and Robert Krohn gave a beautiful interpretation of the Pavlowa Gavotte, an aesthetic ball room dance. The program was closed with another lance by Miss Mildred Keats, Petite Coquette, an aesthetic dance which the interpreted with her own peculiar grace and charm.

The next meeting of the club will he held at the home of Mrs. H. A. an "at home."

HOW GOOD THAT

It Gets to That Sore Spot Like Magic

A-a-h! That's delicious relief for those sore muscles, those stiff joints, that lame back. MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard and other home simples. It does the work of the old fashioned mustard plaster, minus the plaster and minus the blister!

You simply rub MUSTEROLE on the spot where the pain is-rub it on briskly-and the pain is gone. No muss, no bother. Just comforting, soothing relief-first a gentle glow, then a delightful sense of coolness. And best of all, no blisters like the old fashioned mustard plaster used

There is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Scre Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsilitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Mus-cles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet and Colds of the Chest (it often prevents Pneumonia).

Report by the State Bailroad Comm sion for Month of September Shows Number of Delays Decreasing. Salem, Or., Nov. 3 .- The number of delayed trains in Oregon in the month of September was more than 1000 less than in the corresponding month of 1913, according to figures compiled by the state railroad commission. The railroad commission states that putting it on a percentage basis, 85.67 per cent of the passenger trains in the state were on time last September, the ast month for which figures are availble, compared with 70.2 per cent on time in September, 1913. The commission also finds that comparison of the months of July and also shows improved service, the percentage of trains on time in July and August, 1914, being 87.47 and 87.11, compared with 80.9 and 77.9 for July and August, 1913.
