most every evening. Mrs. H. van Cleef and daughter of 1039 Third street, got off the same car with Miss Ulrich and saw Traunson run away from the scene right after the shooting.

One of the first to reach the house after the shooting was Miss Ann Schneider, a trained nurse who lives nearby. Miss Schneider has known Miss Ulrich ever since her birth and speaks very highly of her.

W. Roberts, a barber, with a shop next to the Smith residence, heard the shots and reached the lobby of the Lewis building and threatened her life with two revolvers. He was arrested and let off on a plea of insanity and with strict orders from Judge Stevenson to leave the city.

Traunson did not leave and continued to annoy the girl. She was continually encountering him and confessed to her employers that she was afraid he "would get her" some day. Some one of the men employes has been in the habit of escorting Miss Ulrich from the Lewis building to her car.

Last August Traunson brought events to a climax when he accosted Miss Ulrich in the lobby of the Lewis building and threatened her life with two revolvers. He was arrested and let off on a plea of insanity and with strict orders from Judge Stevenson to leave the city.
