Daughter of Railroad Man Uses Transportation Methods in Getting Votes.

Miss Myrtle Van Sickle.

"Why not make your bread from the Crown mills flour and use the maturity, both at the time of making Golden Rod Milling company's cereals for breakfast? You will have the senefit of the best kind of foods, and will get the votes these products pring in The Journal's Trade and Cirwistion contest."

This is the kind of argument that diss Myrtle Van Sickle of 607 Marthat street puts up to her friends, and explains why she is among the leaders in the big contest that will applications in before tomorrow to esend with the distribution of $5000 worth of magnificent prizes among many contestants on February 24. But she does more than argue the matter. Her father is a railroad man and has impressed on her the necessity of following a schedule.
