

COL. CLOUGH COMES IN, TURNS AROUND, AND GOES RIGHT OUT

Chairman of Northern Pacific Spends Two Hours on Official Visit Here Today.

NO SIGNIFICANCE TO TRIP

Conditions Improving, Though Actual Volume of Business Remains About the Same.

It took Colonel William F. Clough, chairman of the executive board of the Northern Pacific railway, just 2 1/2 hours to visit Portland today. It had been a year since he had been at this end of the system, and, although President Julius M. Hannaford had been here less than three weeks ago, the president went over the lines again just to show him.

Colonel Clough conferred most of the scant period of his visit with L. C. Gilman, president of the North Bank road. It is understood that the ordinary matters incident to the Northern Pacific's half interest in the S. P. & N. were discussed. At the present moment, however, upon W. D. Scott, general manager of the North Bank, and found time to look up one or two others.

Just Looking Over Lines. The chairman was graduated from the legal department of the system, and at one time was attorney-in-chief for James J. Hill. His headquarters are at New York.

"I'm here just to look at the line," explained Mr. Clough. "There isn't any significance to my trip at all. If we have good luck, we'll see the new Point Defiance cut-out at Tacoma this morning—that's why I'm in such a hurry. The road appears to be in fine shape and should be able to participate heavily in the 1915 tourist travel. So far as I can see, there is not much change in the general business situation. Conditions apparently are improving in tone, but the actual volume is about the same. This country is now all one unit, so that whatever tendencies develop in Boston will be felt in Portland almost immediately." Mr. Hannaford explained that the present trip is Colonel Clough's almost entirely.

Will Inspect Train Out-Off. "He wanted to come out, and so I came with him," said the president. "I made my trip, you know, just a short time ago. We are going back by way of Tacoma and will inspect the Point Defiance and the Point Defiance tunnel."

In the party were Colonel Clough; George T. Blad, vice-president; President Hannaford; E. M. C. Freytag, chairman of the board; W. L. Darling, chief engineer, and I. V. Richards of Tacoma, general manager of the western lines; W. L. Darling, chief engineer, and I. V. Richards of Tacoma, general manager of the western lines; W. L. Darling, chief engineer, and I. V. Richards of Tacoma, general manager of the western lines.

Commissioners Go to Prepare for the Fair

Clackamas and Benton Counties Represented at San Francisco in Conference to Discuss the Big Exposition. Salem, Or., Nov. 30.—O. E. Freytag, fair commissioner from Clackamas county, and W. F. Graves, fair commissioner from Benton county, left last night for San Francisco to confer with George M. Hyland, director of the Panama-Pacific exposition, and to measure space in the horticultural building and arrange the Willamette valley exhibit.

The committee on publicity of the Oregon Panama-Pacific commission has awarded the contract for the printing of 50,000 descriptive booklets to Low A. Bates of Dallas. Articles on hops, dairying, Oregon scenery, land values and other things will appear in the booklet, which will be distributed at the exposition.

One of the attractive displays promised is a collection of live pheasants from the game preserve of Silas Rich, residing near Seaside. They are now at December 10, ten carloads of products will be sent from here to San Francisco. One hundred and sixty-four boxes of apples are now on the way to the exposition. They will be placed in cold storage until the time is ripe for their display.

School Attendance Increases. Attendance at the new Beaumont school increased from four last Monday when it opened to 14 this morning. At the Alameda Park school opened the same date, the attendance dropped from 13 on the opening day to nine this morning. The schools are portable and the two lowest grades are taught in each.

Leonore Ulrich, who will be auctioneer at doll sale for charity's sake.

"Who bids highest for a doll that walks and talks, one of the handsomest dolls ever made, a gift that will make any child happy and rich. Who bids highest, now?" This is the way Miss Leonore Ulrich of the Bird of Paradise company may open the doll auction of the Muts (men united to serve) at the Benson hotel at 12 o'clock tomorrow. The doll in question is the finest of a large collection made by Miss Ulrich in her world travels. She offers it freely for sale, herself the auctioneer, in order that the money paid for it may swell the fund which the Muts are raising for the relief of poverty and sickness.

ONE LEG IS SHORTER THAN OTHER; VICTIM SUES HIS PHYSICIAN

John Kauppi Charges Dr. A. W. Stevenson of Yacont With Malpractice. Vancouver, Wash., Nov. 30.—Suit for $25,000 for damages, alleged to have resulted from malpractice, was filed Saturday in the superior court by John Kauppi against Dr. A. W. Stevenson of Yacont.

The plaintiff alleges that, while in the employ of the North Fork Logging company, he sustained a broken leg and that the defendant, in the employ of the company, failed to give him proper treatment. As a result of the treatment he did receive, he alleges, that the limb, which was broken, is about two inches shorter than the other. Since the time of the accident, in July, 1911, he alleges further, he has not been able to do any work, owing to the fact that the broken bones were allowed to overlap and were not properly set.

Kauppi recently lost a suit against the North Fork Logging company, in which Dr. Stevenson was named as a defendant, the action against him having been dismissed during the course of the trial at the request of the plaintiff.

City Engineer Injured. As the result of a fall sustained two weeks ago, Phillip H. Dater, city engineer, is walking around in crutches today. While on a trip at that time he slipped on a log, spraining his right leg, and this morning he awoke to find that it would not support his weight. He does not consider the injury serious, however.

WETS SEE CHANCE OF OBTAINING AN EXTRA 10 MONTHS ON DRYS

Grace May Be Obtained by Invoking Referendum Upon Legislative Measures.

PROHIBITION VIEW GIVEN

Backers of Drys Not Worrying in View of Number of Legal Ways Open, Say Attorneys.

Keenly alive to the fact that "it is a long, long way to California when Oregon goes dry," various persons in "wet" circles are discussing the interesting question as to whether prohibition could be staved off an extra 10 months by invoking the referendum against measures which will undoubtedly be enacted by the next legislature to make the prohibition amendment effective.

It is contended by these individuals that the prohibition amendment of itself is not effective. They point out that additional legislation, fixing penalties for various forms of violation of the prohibition law, must be enacted to put prohibition in force. Then if the referendum should be invoked against these measures, they argue that would hold them up until the next general election, which would be in November, 1916. This would give the saloons 10 extra months in this state.

Prominent attorneys, however, declare that the "wets" are engaging in "needless speculation as they insist that the penalties imposed by the local option laws for the selling of liquor in dry territory will apply under the statewide amendment until legislation imposing other penalties is enacted. They point out that the prohibition amendment repeals only such laws as are in conflict with it, and that the laws that the penalties provided in the old laws are not in conflict and therefore will not be repealed until new penalties are enacted into law.

Assuming, however, that the present penalties for selling liquor in dry territory would not apply under the statewide amendment, three ways are pointed out by the wets by which a move to stave off the time when the amendment goes into effect could be defeated. These are the use of the emergency clause on the bills enacted by the next legislature, which would make them immediately effective and prevent a referendum on the subject; provision for a special referendum election next fall, similar to the special election held following the last session of the legislature, or in case the referendum by calling a special session of the legislature just prior to January 1, 1916, and enacting the desired laws and putting them into effect immediately by using the emergency clause.

POLICE TIRE OF JOB

Boy Runs Away Many Times. Rescuers' Patience Exhausted. Coming for the "steenth" time in the last seven months, the police today finally tired of picking up Teddy Snider, a 5-year-old lad, whose mother resides at 467 East Ash street, and after being found on the Burnside street fire station, he was taken to the juvenile court.

Teddy runs away so often that his mother, the police say, does not worry about him any more, and often times he is picked up by the police before being claimed. He has been picked up three times during the past month and during April he was brought in three times. It is reported that those who are taken to headquarters shortly after the boy was taken to the juvenile court by an attaché of the department of safety, and that the mother, who bolted every time his mother turned her back on him. He is a chubby, blond youngster, and his many adventures with the police do not in the least disturb him. His parents, it is said, are willing that he be placed in a detention home, where he once spent several weeks.

Charity Case Is Puzzle to City

Aged Woman Arrives From Wisconsin and Local Friends Are Unable to Take Care of Her. Foisted on friends in Portland, who are unable to care for her, by city officials and others prominent in the city of Ripon, Wis., Mrs. Emma Adams, probably 70 years old, an almost helpless invalid, is a ward of the department of public safety for women, and Mrs. Baldwin is in a quandary as to what shall be done with her.

Mrs. Adams arrived in Portland last Thursday. She was well dressed, accompanied by a man who looked after her wants, a Mrs. Benbenick by name, and the party traveled in a Pullman stateroom. The friends to whom she had been sent were at the train to meet her, but are in such moderate circumstances they cannot care for her.

Mrs. Baldwin has learned that Mrs. Adams' only daughter is Mrs. W. F. Meyers of Red Lodge, Mont. She is said to be the wife of a state senator, and a dispatch received by Mrs. Baldwin from Wisconsin today asserted that Mrs. Meyers is worth almost a quarter of a million dollars. When Mrs. Regina Jahn, her Portland friend was in the east, Mrs. Adams became acquainted with her. Recently Mrs. Adams wrote and asked Mrs. Jahn to care for her. She explained she was getting a pension of $38 a month and this, she said, she would give to Mrs. Jahn. The latter felt that she could not afford to take Mrs. Adams, and made a non-committal reply. She was astonished last week to receive a telegram from Mrs. Adams on the train on the way to Portland.

It was learned that Mrs. Adams was sent from the Wisconsin town, apparently in an effort to make a non-committal reply that city to get rid of her. Instead of a pension of $36 a month, it is but $36 a quarter. Mrs. Baldwin is awaiting a reply from the daughter in Montana.

MISSIONARY BACK FROM JOLO ISLAND

Miss Virginia Young.

New York, Nov. 30.—Miss Virginia Young, head deaconess of St. George's church, New York, who, with Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, left wealth, the highest social standing, home, relatives and friends, to do settlement work in the Philippines last December, is home on a visit. Despite the suspicious attitude in which Americans are received by the Moros, the two daring women have overcome almost insurmountable barriers. A dispensary is established on Jolo island, with a trained nurse and a physician in charge, and the natives have not only discarded their feeling of animosity toward Americans, but are now showing that beneath the surface they are amenable to their kind influences.

WOMAN WHO KILLED TWO CHILDREN NOW IN CLACKAMAS JAIL

Mrs. Florence Sohn Has Recovered to Great Extent From Attempted Suicide. Alleged That He and Other Members of His Party Violated Game Laws.

Oregon City, Or., Nov. 30.—The player of her two children, Mrs. Florence Sohn, has recovered from her attempt at suicide and has been arrested by Sheriff Mass and put in the county jail at Oregon City. She will, in all probability, be held pending an examination for insanity. Mrs. Sohn killed her two children, Richard, age 1 year and 9 months, and Dorothy, age 6 months, at their home near Wallace station on the Oregon Electric, September 15, by shooting them.

Two bullets through her own body in the region of the heart failed to kill her. A coroner's jury held an inquest over the bodies of the children and returned a verdict of "death from gunshot wounds inflicted by Mrs. Florence Sohn with intent to kill."

Since then Mrs. Sohn has been watched carefully by Sheriff Mass and as soon as she was able to be brought to jail, she was arrested. District Attorney Hedges may file a complaint of insanity against her, or may hold her on a charge of murder to the grand jury. It will decide after further investigation.

Every indication points to temporary insanity, at least. Mrs. Sohn is perfectly composed about her crime. She has said since arrest that she is not sorry for what she did and thinks her children are better off dead. She says she could kill her child but could not attempt suicide again because she wants to live.

Constant brooding over the hardships of her own life it is thought has caused this mental condition. Dr. Giesy of Aurora, who has been attending Mrs. Sohn, said this morning that he thinks her insanity upon this subject, William Sohn, the husband, is in Oregon City with his wife.

North Yakima Man Takes Carbolio Acid

North Yakima, Wash., Nov. 30.—George B. Colman, an employe of Postmaster J. D. Medill on his ranch in Fruitvale, died within 15 minutes of the time he was found on the lawn about 9 o'clock last night. An empty bottle which had contained carbolio acid was found near by, telling the manner of his death.

Trouble with his family following a protracted period of intoxication is said to have been the cause of his act. He leaves a mother and two brothers.

Will Discuss Traffic Ordinance. A meeting will be held by Commissioner Daily at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning with taxicab and transportation companies for the purpose of discussing the new ordinance proposed for the regulation of taxicab rates. The ordinance now proposed allows the companies to fix their maximum rates instead of having the city fix the charges.

DETAILS OF DEATH OF MRS. H. RONNING ARE TO BE INVESTIGATED

Friends of Dead Woman Refuse to Believe She Killed Herself.

TO HOLD INQUEST TODAY

Rev. Perry J. Greene Holds Funeral Ceremonies and Announces Determined Demands for Facts.

In compliance with demands at the conclusion of funeral ceremonies Saturday over the body of Mrs. Hannah Ronning, Coroner Slocum will hold an inquest late this afternoon to settle all doubts concerning the cause of her death November 19. An autopsy indicates that she died from carbolic acid poisoning, which letters she wrote and testimony of C. F. Kirkland, who was in the room when she says she took it, goes far to prove.

Mrs. Ronning's friends, however, refuse to accept the evidence. While they make no charges, they hint that threats were made against her life, and on their insistent demands, Rev. Perry J. Greene, who officiated at her funeral, and John Ronning, her divorced husband, demanded the inquest at the conclusion of the funeral services. The body is held at the morgue.

A number of witnesses have been subpoenaed and Mrs. Ronning's friends have retained Attorney H. M. Sawyer to investigate the matter. The coroner's office scouts any other theory save suicide. Two slight bruises found on the woman's shoulders are accounted for by the fact that they could have been made easily by ambulance men in picking up the body. Kirkland was present in her room when he says she took the poison, but so quickly that he was unable to stop her. He summoned help but she died before a doctor could give first aid. Mrs. Ronning was a seamstress, and was of middle age. She belonged to the New Thought society of Truth, a religious organization that teaches suicide is no way out of troubles. Her friends say she had often spoken against self destruction.

A permit to kill one deer for mounting purposes was secured for Mr. Cresap from the State Game and Fish commission at request of County Game Warden Hoff, who is making a collection of animals and birds for Clarke county's exhibit at the coming fair at San Francisco. This permit entitled him to kill one deer, but witnesses from another hunting party, which arrived at the scene of activities about the day the season opened, claim that more than one deer was in possession of the party when they arrived. The season opened October 1, and Sheriff Cresap had gone to make some arrests of violators of the game laws and to secure one deer for Mr. Hoff.

Sheriff Gray of Skamania county, who served the warrant on all of the members of the party except Cresap, could not legally serve papers on Cresap, and returned the warrant over to County Coroner Limber.

The members of the party in addition to Sheriff Cresap, were Dr. C. C. McCowen, R. H. Avann and John Doe Winninners.

MUST MOVE ON

"Flosters" Arrested by Police Are Released With Instructions.

The largest number of vagrants accumulated in the city jail yesterday that has been seen by the police since the new building was opened. The large number of unemployed already here has caused the police to be unusually vigilant and the floating population is urged to move on as fast as possible. One hundred and one, including regular prisoners, had breakfast today with Jailer Ben Branch and of these the police classify 91 as being loaves. Most of them were turned loose today by Judge Stevenson with the instruction to get out of the city.

CITY'S FISCAL YEAR ENDS

This being the last day of the 1914 fiscal year, auditors began work this afternoon in checking up the books of the city. The 1915 budget becomes effective tomorrow, with the result that the numerous changes, mostly in curtailment of number of employees, will then be in force.
