afternoon. "In the prolonged battles around Lodz, by the defeat of the Russian line, west and southwest of the city.

No Details Are Given. "Lodz is now in our possession. Details are impossible to give owing to the extent of the battlefield.

"No fresh news has been received from the Mazurian lake region, in East Prussia, or from the western theatre of war."

GERMANS STRAIGHTEN LINE IN POLAND WITH THE CAPTURE OF LODZ

London, Dec. 7.—Having taken Lodz and advanced 25 miles with both their flanks, the Germans in Russian Poland were gaining control today of the main railroad lines leading to Warsaw.

They were also threatening the lines connecting the Slavs' southern front with its base. If these successes continued, British experts said, the campaign against Czenstochowo would have to be abandoned and the Russians might be compelled to withdraw to the Prussian region.

Lodz was said to have been partially destroyed by the German bombardment. German accounts said it was taken by bayonet charges.

The fighting for Lodz lasted about a week and was of the bloodiest character. Petrograd dispatches described the woods in the region about the city as filled with the unburied bodies of dead German soldiers.

"Mashers" Scarcely Now. The campaign of the police to keep "mashers" off Washington street is resulting in a great many arrests.

DISPUTE ON LOCATION OF IRRIGATION WORK IS FINALLY SETTLED

Harmony Develops in Central Oregon as Result of Joint Meeting Held at Bend

Harmony has developed in central Oregon over the location of such government irrigation work as would be undertaken with the $450,000 allotment promised by Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane...

In response to telegrams sent by C. C. Chapman as representative of the Oregon Irrigation congress, Oregon development league and the North Canal commercial club...

The resolution points out the fact that early in 1913 the department of the interior set aside a fund of $450,000 for cooperative reclamation work in Oregon.

Promises Quickly Broken. Scores of times the Moslems have broken their promises to him. The government has promised repeatedly not to interfere with the departure of trainloads of Europeans...

The government has apologized regularly for these delays, but the day after each apology the same thing happened again. The only explanation which has ever been forthcoming
