HUNDREDS OF KIDDIES WILL BE GUESTS AT 3 CHRISTMAS TREES

Muts Will Play Santa Claus at Big Function to Be Held at the Armory.

TOYS TO BE PRESENTED

Muts Matinee at the Baker Theatre Proves Big Success; More Than 1000 Toys Received.

Hundreds of kiddies will rejoice next Thursday, when they will gather around the Muts' three big Christmas trees at the Armory and take in their eager hands the wonderful toys presented by kindly Portland people who have warm homes and warm hearts. More than 1000 of these toys passed through the box office at the Baker theatre yesterday afternon as the price of admission to the Muts' matinee. Others were sent to Mut headquarters in the Pittock block and when the rooms were closed at 11 o'clock last night, they were still being received.

It was a great afternoon for the little orphans of all the institutions in and around Portland. For it is these fatherless and motherless tots who will profit by the toys turned in. Women in fine furs and men in chinchilla overcoats rubbed elbows with people of less apparent prosperity, but each passed some package through the window and got in return a reserved seat check.

Muts Get Real Money.

Manager Baker had tendered the stock company and the house to the Muts and many who had already seen the show, "Ready Money," pushed real cash across to the ticket men and told them to give their tickets to someone else. The cash, of course, went into the Mut treasury.

When everybody was seated, three truckloads of packages were pushed down the street to Mut headquarters and next week between 50 and 75 young women will dress dolls, string popcorn and sort toys and candy for the tree.

J. "Ed" Werlein and Alice Lloyd put on a stunt before yesterday's curtain rose, auctioning off a big doll. Miss Lloyd held the doll and Werlein's loud voice cried for bids. The doll finally was sold to Mrs. R. D. Inman for $10.

Girls Sell Flowers.

Girls wandered up and down the aisles during intermissions selling candy and flowers. Their gross receipts—also net—were $87, which went into the Muts' Christmas fund.

R. L. Adams is general chairman of the Muts' Christmas committee and subcommittees from Parent-Teacher associations, the juvenile court, the People's Institute and almost every other organization having to do with children, are assisting. Among these are 65 women.

The tree celebration will begin at 2 o'clock next Thursday and last until 5. Children from all the eleemosynary institutions will be brought in to enjoy the fun.

Will Ask Aid for Medical Building

Legislative Help for the First Unit of Building for Donated Site Will Be Sought.

Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, dean of the medical department of the state university, is preparing to ask the legislature for an appropriation for the first unit, at least, of a medical building to be erected on the 24 acres of ground donated to the school by the O-W. R. & N. railroad company. The ground is just off of the Terwilliger boulevard, and is declared to be an excellent site for a medical school and hospital center.

It is the plan to eventually assemble on the ground buildings for the medical school, and probably state, county and city hospitals.

Dr. Mackenzie has asked the Multnomah legislative delegation for an opportunity to discuss the matter with the delegation. He said he did not know just how large an appropriation would be sought at this time, but there should be enough to put up at least the first unit of a medical building. It is hoped to make this city a great medical university center, as there is a large territory from which to draw support.

Man Assaulted at A Chinese Funeral

Driver of Hearse Fined $10 for Hitting Young Man Who Sought Details for Story.

For interfering with one who was getting "local color" for a newspaper story, Walter Miller, driver of the hearse for the Holman Undertaking Co., was fined $10 in municipal court this morning.

M. C. Blaine was one of a crowd of white people standing about the altar at the Chinese cemetery, where a celestial funeral ceremony was in progress Saturday afternoon. The crowd was so thick that the Chinese mourners had to "wiggle" through, Miller said.

'I wanted to give the Chinese a square deal, so I asked them all to move back," Miller related. "They all went back but this fellow. I told him two or three times, but he stood pat, so I gave him a tap."

The "tap" landed in Blaine's eye, and caused a swelling.

"I wanted to be a newspaper reporter, and I was getting a story to write up and submit to the editors," Blaine told the court.

"Judge, I didn't know he was a reporter," Miller then explained. "If he had told me that, I would have given him a ringside seat."

Fails to Keep Promise.

A jury in Circuit Judge Kavanaugh's court yesterday returned a verdict for the Columbia Life & Trust company, which had been sued by Mrs. Elizabeth M. French for payment of two $2500 insurance policies on the life of her husband, James M. French, now dead. One was payable to her and the other to a daughter, Irene C. French. The company declined to pay because French had not paid his premiums, alleging that the policies became void for that reason.

Interfered and Was Arrested.

Holding that Joe Casey, a plasterer, had received enough punishment when he was knocked down by Patrolman J. M. McCullock after he had interfered with that officer while he was arresting Harold Bain, a clerk, for drunkenness, Municipal Judge Stevenson allowed Casey to go with a continued sentence last night. Huntington took Bain out of the Washington street crowd near Broadway last night, and was on the way to the station, when Casey directed the officer to turn Bain loose, and followed his order with a swing at Huntington. The latter swung back, and Casey went down.

New Surgical Hospital.

Articles of incorporation of the Portland Surgical hospital, capitalized at $10,000, were filed this morning with County Clerk Coffey by Nina Williams, Nellie M. Erickson and Robert C. Coffey.

Auto Turns Turtle; Occupants Unhurt

Machine With Five Passengers Aboard Skids Into Curb in Attempt to Dodge Wagon.

No one was seriously hurt as a result of the automobile accident at East Fifty-fifth and Stark streets yesterday, when the machine owned and driven by W. H. Hamilton, an undertaker of 107 East Eightieth street, in which four others were riding, turned turtle.

The machine skidded into the curb after the driver had attempted to avoid an auto delivery wagon. The occupants were left in a heap on the street. The injured were placed in the delivery truck and taken to the office of Dr. A. W. Botkins, at East Sixty-second and Stark streets. Afterward they were taken home.

Mrs. L. A. Meeker of Ridgefield, Wash.; Mrs. D. T. Smith of 66 East Seventy-eighth street, north; W. H. Hamilton, his son, A. E. Hamilton of Klamath Falls, and Edward Enneberg of Milwaukie were in the machine.

Fail to Keep Promise.

Three days ago Carl Johnson was before Municipal Judge Stevenson for drunkenness and promised to do better if given a chance. Yesterday he took three pairs of trousers from a north end second-hand store. Judge Stevenson sentenced him to 30 days this morning.
