EATON LAUNCHES HIS FIGHT HERE AGAINST SELLING FOR SPEAKER

this morning: elected speaker. My chances have steadily improved since the state at large has been apprised of the efforts of the Portland coterie of politicians to organize the house. The country is thoroughly aroused and alarmed at he disproportionate interest which E.

B. Piper, editor of the Oregonian, and
N. Day, and a few of their faithful cohorts are showing in the contest for the speakership and the organization of both branches of the legislature,

People Are Distrustful. The people are especially distrustful d Grey of some of their schemes which they protest are urging under the guise of economy. It is my intention shortly to explain to the people, in a series of public meetings, the plans and purposes of these men and their measures.

Although I have been excluded from the columns of the Oregonian, I am glad to say that the country press, with scarcely an exception throughout the whole state is calling attention to with scarcely an exception throughout the whole state, is calling attention to the efforts of these few men to capture the legislature for their own purposes. The proposal of the Oregonian to increase Multnomah's representation in the legislature from 17 to 30, or one third of the whole membership, created anxiety and dismay throughout the state. I notice that the Oregonian, in a recent issue, has been compelled to back water on this outrageous proposition, so great was the protest

As to Mr. Selling, many people think well of him, but they have come to realize that if elected he will not be in that independent position necessary to give the people the best service. It is generally recognized that he is the Organiza's candidate that the Selling, many people is the Oregonian's candidate, that the Oregonian forced his selection first on the Multnomah delegation, and by the same process of false claims and intimidation is attempting to force his selection upon the house.

I am not opposed to Mr. Selling personally, but I am opposed to the scheme of the Oregonian and two or three of its henchmen organizing the legislature in advance parcelling out Business Outlook Will Be legislature in advance, parcelling out the committees, and having the legis-lative business of the state transacted before the legislature convenes.
