MISS HELEN BALDWIN, the attractive niece of Mrs. J. C. Costello, who has been visiting at the Irvington home of Mr. and Mrs. Costello since last spring, has made her departure for her home in Denver, Colo. Miss Baldwin is a charming girl and has left a host of friends in Portland. During the last few weeks she has been extensively entertained at informal affairs; bidding her adieu, Mrs. Costello had a number of her most intimate friends in for tea Monday afternoon. The afternoon was passed in sewing. Those present were: Miss Viola Barenstocher, Miss Ruth Dunne, Miss Helen Putnam, Miss Frances O'Brien, Miss Mabel O'Brien, Miss Gladys Dunne, Miss Marguerite Sheehy, Miss Mary Manning, Miss Ruth Halston, Miss Hazel Halston and Miss Hazel Johnson.

Engagement Announced. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Grunwaldt announce the engagement of their niece, Miss Helene Butzlöf, to Mr. Herman J. Hucke of this city. Miss Butzlöf is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Butzlöf of Milwaukee, Wis., and has spent the past year in Portland with her aunt. She is a soprano soloist at the First Lutheran church and was formerly soprano soloist in one of the large Methodist churches in Milwaukee. She has sung at a number of local centers of the direction of John Clair Monteth, with whom she has continued her vocal studies, and she is best known in German Lieder work, and as a choir soloist. Mr. Hucke is a popular and well known clubman and has been for many years chief accountant with the Southern Pacific railway.

Engagement a Surprise.

An unexpected engagement announcement of this week was that of Miss Frances Schade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Schade, and Charles Englehart. It was announced at a delightful luncheon given by her sister, Mrs. Raymond Hinkle, on Wednesday afternoon at her home in Rose City Park. Covers were laid for 12 of Miss Schade's closest friends. The table decorations were suggestive of Christmas, and the center arrangement was strikingly original. A dainty doll bride was the center of a large holly wreath, and tiny envelopes containing the announcement were caught at the ends of the long ribbons strung from the shower of roses overhead and marked the places of the guests. The room cards were enjoyed, card honors falling to Mrs. August Schade. Those present were: Mrs. Raymond McCullough, Mrs. Charles Englehart, Mrs. Ralph Haddley, Mrs. Joe Block, Mrs. Robert Pickard, Mrs. August Schade, Mrs. J. P. Annual Ball.

The annual ball of the Cotillion club will be given this evening by Montrose M. Brien at the hall in Fourteenth and Burnside streets, marking the closing of the first year in the splendid new edifice. The eccentricities of the dance craze will be particularly noticeable, as the dances presented last year at the opening of the hall are now all relegated to the past and new and still more interesting steps which have taken their places will be shown this evening by Mr. Ringler. A waiting tournament and a serpentine dance will be features of special interest.

Christmas Party.

A delightful event of the week was the Christmas party and tree given by little Maxine Lee Barton Ray, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. D. Ray, of number 1020 East Seventeenth street North, Monday evening, complimenting her visiting cousins, Miss Helen and Herbert Diver. A color scheme of red and green prevailed with clusters and streamers of holly and mistletoe artistically arranged throughout the various rooms.
