FARNAM DECLARED GUILTY AS CHARGED

Prisoner Breaks Down for the First Time When Parents and Sister Show Emotions

(Special to The fournal) Roseburg, Or., Jan. 9 .- After deliberating for nearly six hours, a jury in the circuit court here late last night returned a verdict of guilty against Roy Farnam, who was charged with a statutory crime against his former sweetheart, Edna Morgan, whose charred body was found in the ashes of a burned barn near Glandale on the norning of December 9. Farnam will probably be sentenced Monday. Farnam also faces a charge of mur dering the girl and burning her body by setting fire to the barn of a neighbor. Farnam is 23 years old. This was his third trial on this charge in three weeks. In the first two trials the juries disagreed, the first standing nine for acquittal and three for conviction, and the second eight for conviction and four for acquittal. The murder charge probably will not be tried before the February term of court.

Miss Morgan, who was 15 years old was motherless. It is alleged that via she was about to become a mother blance that he was still alive.

Clackmannastire, British slip, Captain She was about to become a mother Herbyson, 102 days, in ballast to Kerr, Gifford her condition, and it was to conceal this fact, it is also alleged, that she circumstances the body was burned.

Farnam had kept company with the

"I'll soon be out," he said to his mother at the jail door, "as soon as they get the right man." Farnam alleges that when he purchased and borrowed drugs and asked a doctor's advice last summer for a girl who was 55. in trouble he did so for a man named Snider, who lived near Canyonville. It is understood the jurors stood 11 to 1 for conviction on the first. ballot. District Attorney George Neuner had charge of the prosecution. Attorney General Brown being unable to attend, Neuner was assisted by Elbert Hermann.

Attorney Cardwell, for the defense, said today that he would file a motion for a new trial on the ground of errors, and the discovery of new evidence favorable to the defense, He said he would demand an immediate trial on the murder charge against Farnam

Farnam refused to comment on the verdict.

A resumption of fighting along practically the whole of the western battle front was announced in the war office's official communication. South of Ypres it was stated that the French artillery had demolished row of German trenches and silence the Teutonic mine throwers in that district. Several German batteries were said to have been silenced also between Arras and Amiens.

Soissons was reported to have been bombarded by the Germans in revenge for their failure to retake positions which the French had wrested from them there, and the local palace of justice was destroyed.

Allies Gain 650 Yards.

In the Soupier region, hill 132 was said to have been captured by the Gallic forces, with three German trenches, the gain amounting to 659 yards. The Germans tried to recover this lost ground by a counter attack but were repulsed with heavy losses. French' artillery successes were claimed in the Laon-Craonne region. At Perthes very severe fighting was reported, without any material gains
