

AMATEUR ATHLETIC UNION'S BIG DRAGNET GATHERS IN ANOTHER BATCH

FOUR ADDITIONAL ON BLACK LIST BECAUSE OF UNSANCTIONED GO

Ten Is Secretary Dunne's Toll in Cleaning Up Ranks of Amateur Boxers.

Pending investigation of the charges that they appeared under assumed names in an unsanctioned boxing meet last Wednesday night, four other local boxers were placed on the "black list" by T. Morris Dunne, secretary of the Pacific Northwest association, who is determined to rid the local amateur ranks of the tainted amateurs.

Those placed on the suspended list today are: Ralph Underwood, 115 pounds, unattached; Jimmy Moscow, 125 pounds, Western club; Billy Mascot, 118 pounds, Western club; Oliver Hill, 118 pounds, unattached.

According to information received from a reliable source, Mascot boxed Jimmy Moscow under the name of Bill Maxey in the Moose lodge Wednesday night. Moscow's assumed name was Jimmy Morris. Whether Hill, who boxed a three-round exhibition with Underwood appeared under an assumed name, is not known.

The blacklisting of this quartet of milt slingers brings the list of suspensions to 10, six boxers being declared professionals yesterday.

The news that Ralph Underwood appeared in the meet was a real surprise, as Underwood said that he did not appear in any but sanctioned tournaments. He also stated that he could show prizes for all the bouts that he has won.

The investigation is causing no end of talk in the amateur boxing circles, and it will likely result in practically every boxer being blacklisted.

The Pacific association, which has its headquarters in San Francisco, has started an investigation in San Francisco and a number of prominent boxers of the Olympic club will be called on the carpet to explain why they appeared in an unsanctioned meet.

T. Morris Dunne stated this morning that the investigation would probably last for one or two months and that practically every boxer in the city would be involved.

"WINGED M" WILL TAKE ANNUAL DIP IN PACIFIC

All Preliminary Arrangements Completed by Frank E. Watkins Today.

Frank E. Watkins, chairman of the swimming committee of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, today completed preliminary arrangements for a mid-winter trip to Seaside, Or., on February 23, 21 and 22.

According to present plans, a special train will leave here at 1 o'clock on Saturday, February 20, and will leave Seaside on Monday night. There will be an informal dance in hotel Moore on Saturday night, and the natatorium will be opened on all three days.

A committee of ten live members of the Multnomah club will be appointed by Watkins to handle the event. In order to get a special train, it is necessary that 100 make the trip.

Attack Rates On Beer.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Representatives of the Omaha Commercial club appeared before the interstate commerce commission and attacked the existing freight rates on alcoholic beverages between Nebraska and points in Montana, Oregon, Washington and California.

The anatomical construction of a baseball player is a funny thing, if we are to believe Willyum Rodgers, the Daniel Boone of Portland. This tale concerns our late and in some quarters lamented outfielder, Buddy Ryan. Coming up on the train from California last summer Rodgers and Rube Evans got into a wrestling match in the car, just to shake out their muscles. Both went down in a heap and Ryan struck out his limb, to keep their heads from striking a seal. He miscalculated and the two struggling athletes fell across his knee, which immediately stiffened. Buddy couldn't straighten the thing out and it troubled him all last fall and during the winter.

Buddy toted the knee up to a surgical person who looked gravely, pinched the knuckles, shook his head and presented a bill, as is customary with those people. Buddy despaired of it ever getting well. It seemed as if some cartilage was out of place. Several weeks ago Ryan, who was in the hunting party that depopulated eastern Oregon of its gray streaks, left Rhea Sidins for Arlington on an errand. It was a cold morning and he snuggled up to the coal burner in the station office. He stood on one foot and kicked the other gently against the stove to influence circulation in the limb. Suddenly something snapped in his knee and Bud did a Brodie, bellowing 'like a branded calf. The train crew sprang to the prostrate athlete, inquired the reason for the hullabaloo, and then lifted Bud to the car.

The knee had performed a physical freak, the cartilage being snapped back into place. It was mighty sore for a couple of days but after that it was as good as of yore, and Rodgers predicts that Bud will have a good season with Salt Lake.

Baseball headquarters was given the surprise of the season yesterday afternoon, when in walked none other than Maxey Kameyer, left handed thrower, who is now living a bucolic existence in Clatsop county, state of Washington. Maxey looks a little thinner than of yore, but admits that his feet still have a little on Sindyrella for size.

He stuck out a calloused paw to acquaintances, yawned apologetically and remarked that he was a regular farmer on an 80 acre farm with lots of chickens, cows and pigs. After tipping Walter Doane off to a fine 80 acre by adjacent to his quarter, Maxey opined that he must get back to his herd. He fed the cows at 3:15 a. m. yesterday in order to have time to come up to the city.

"You see," said Maxey, gravely, "the usual feeding time for the cows is 5 o'clock, and I fear some of them may be suffering a little indigestion because of the early breakfast."

Some of these flip young baseball celebrities had better have a care this summer. They may not be the lone star that has been adorning Concessionaire Metzger's left breast. Metz has been taking boxing lessons this winter and he admits having the kick of a mule in either paw. He also admits that he is becoming quite proficient at the art. We mention this merely as a warning to whom it may concern.

VANCOUVER HOCKEY TEAM AND VICTORIA WILL PLAY TONIGHT

Pete Muldoon Believes Rosebuds Will Be in Lead After Next Friday's Game.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 29.—The Victoria and Vancouver teams of the Pacific Coast Hockey league will meet tonight in the local ice arena. Manager Frank Patrick of the local sepiet is confident that his players will break their losing streak. Captain Si Griffin, whose leg has been bothering him considerably during the past 10 days, and Cyclone Taylor, who was injured in the match against Portland last Tuesday night, will be in the game.

Portland will be in first place in the Pacific Hockey league next Saturday week if the Victorians beat the Vancouver team. The opinion of Pete Muldoon, manager of the Rosebuds.

Victoria's team work is much better than it was during the first three weeks of the season, whereas the Vancouver players are in a big slump.

The Rosebuds will travel north to meet Victoria Tuesday night and should have a little trouble winning. On Friday night the locals will clash with the Millionaires.

The Vancouver papers in their writings on the Pacific Hockey league last Tuesday night stated that Captain Si Griffin of the Vancouver team was in the game but a few minutes. If our eyesight didn't fail Si was in the match from beginning to end and so was his famous hook check. Tobin can testify to that. It was probably a desire to explain away the 10 to 4 defeat administered by Portland.

Frank Patrick, owner of the Vancouver Hockey team, paid a remarkable tribute to a Portland player when he was here last. After watching the Portland team outskate, outcheck and outgeneral his Millionaires, Patrick said: "Eddie Oatman is the best forward player I have ever seen. The Portland captain and forward certainly played a remarkable game last Tuesday.

Furthermore, Patrick, when someone remarked on the great dodging of Cyclone Taylor, observed: "Portland fans haven't seen Taylor play a good game of hockey. Somehow he can't get going down here. I hope he will be himself some night on the local floor so that the public may know what a really great player the baldheaded one is." Pete Muldoon, manager of the local club, attests to what Patrick says of Taylor. "However," asserts Pete, "our men refuse to chase Taylor. If they did he would tire them out. When he gets the puck they just let him go and begin to back check. By the time he gets down in front of the goal, there are five or six men on defense and he is finding it pretty hard to score. The Victoria players chase him and he shows them up."

Officers of the Ice Hippodrome yesterday fixed February 12 as the night for the first big masked ice carnival. Manager George Keller announced that everybody will have to be masked and in costume to win a prize. Ice. Masks will come off about 9:30 o'clock. Suitable prizes will be given for the winners.

In the Amateur Ice Hockey league the game that was yesterday called off for tonight will be played between the Multnomah club and the Harriman team. It will be the first game of the finals for the Farrell cup. The game will start at 7:45 and the winner will meet the Rowing club next Tuesday night for the city championship. An attempt was made to change the drawings so that Harriman and the Rowing club could meet tonight, but the latter would not consent.

The line-up of the teams will be: Multnomah. Pos. Harriman. Irvine goal Adams
Herrman lift defense Kilance
Gore right defense Shore
Uksila rover Hood
Fors center Robinson
Kearns right wing Fleming

AGGIE TOSSERS ON SECOND TRIP OF THE SEASON

Corvallis Team Hopes for a Repetition of Work Three Years Ago.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Jan. 29.—The Oregon Agricultural college basketball quintet left Corvallis yesterday afternoon on their second conference trip of the season, during which four hard games will be played. Tomorrow night they are scheduled to meet the University of Idaho at Moscow, and Saturday night Washington State college at Pullman.

Two non-conference games are scheduled for this trip with Gonzaga college at Spokane Monday night, and the Y. M. C. A. at Walla Walla Tuesday night. Negotiations are at present under way for a contest with the Multnomah club five at Portland on the Aggie's return from the north, but nothing has as yet been decided.

These games practically complete the Beavers' traveling schedule, with the exception of two games with the University of Oregon at Eugene.

In regard to the coming games with W. S. C. and Idaho, Captain King said: "There is no such word as lose. We have simply got to put everything possible into these two games and tuck them away on the winning side of our percentage column. The University of Washington did not have as easy a time beating us at Seattle as they expected, and with the rest of the games after these two in our own territory, I believe we stand as good a chance as any conference five of winning the title."

Three years ago when O. A. C. won the northwest championship, they lost the first three games and won all the rest. Only two have been lost so far this season, and the team has apparently been working far under their normal speed. With such men as King, Dewey and Seibert's, all-Northwest material without a doubt, there is no reason why "Doc" Stewart's boys should not pull a big surprise before the present basket tossing period is over.

Eight men accompanied by the coach, made the trip north. They are Captain King, Sieberts, Dewey, Blagg, Ray, Phillips, Mix and Jordan. They will arrive back at Corvallis either Wednesday or Thursday of next week.

Rossmann, it is said, will leave for Eugene tomorrow night and will turn out with Hugo Bezdek's basketballers Monday afternoon.
