

GREAT SLAUGHTER IN MAY
 Most stupendous struggle in the history of the world is predicted when the great armies clash in Europe in the spring. Both sides have been preparing all winter long for the sanguinary struggle that is expected to end the war.

Oregon Daily Journal

WITH HER TRENCH WITH HER OWN WINGS SHE FLIES

LAST WEEK OF LEGISLATURE
 The Oregon legislature is nearing the end of its session. Many bills of major importance have yet to be disposed of and the prospect of night sessions is apparent. The legislators can draw pay for five days more.

Crown Princess Cecelie of Germany Says Women Suffer More Than Men in the War Grocers From All Parts of Oregon Gather in Portland for 'Three Days' Convention

SLEIGHS USED AS AMBULANCES IN POLAND
 In the heavy snows of Poland, the Germans have been forced to use these rough sleighs as ambulances in order to transport their wounded to the hospital bases near the front.

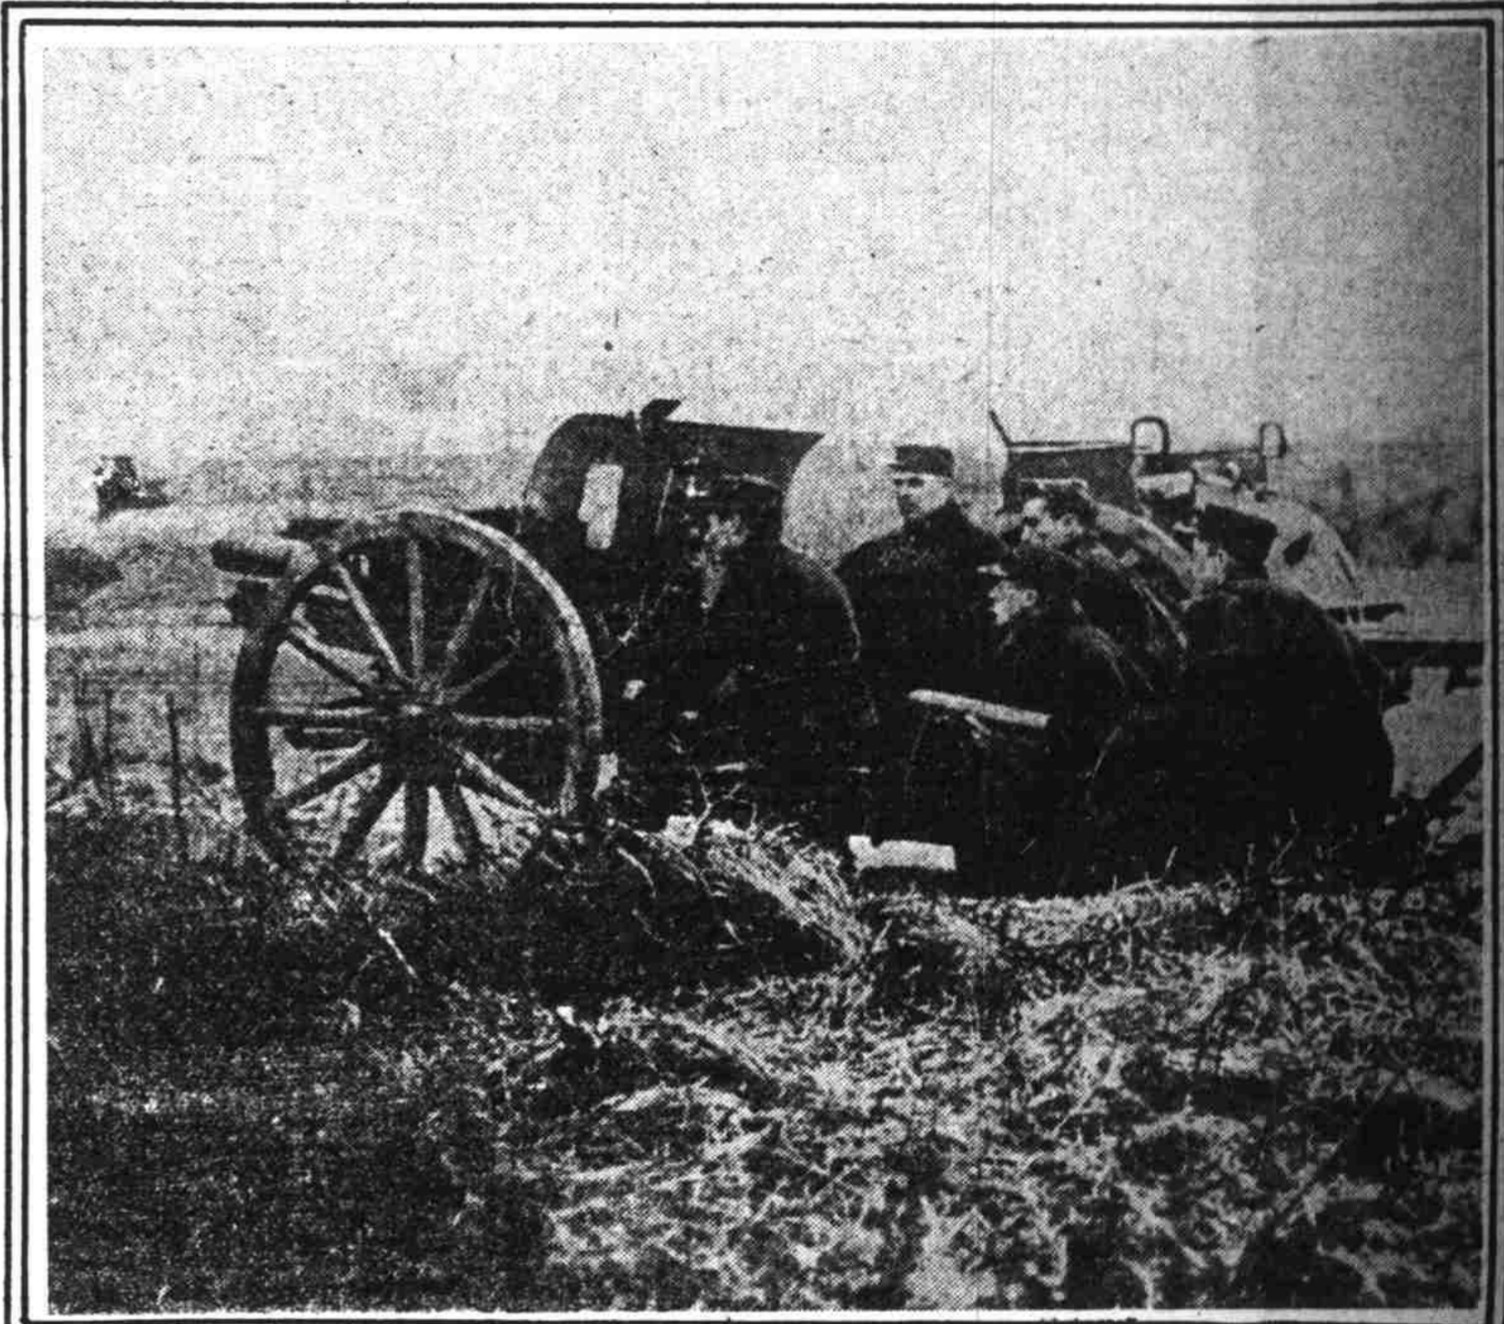

GERMAN GUARDS ON THE DUTCH-BELGIAN FRONTIER
 This photograph was taken on the frontier between Holland and Belgium. The Dutch trader in provisions is having the contents of his cart examined by German guards on the lookout for contraband.

PROMINENT AMERICAN WOMAN HEADS WAR HOSPITAL
 Lady Frances Hadfield, daughter of Colonel Samuel Wickersham of Philadelphia, who is in charge of the Anglo-American hospital at Wimereux, France, lighting a cigarette for a wounded soldier.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM GERMAN AERIAL BOMB
 The old lady in the picture had a narrow escape from death during the German aerial raid on the British east coast.

BELGIANS ARE STILL FIGHTING
 Belgian gun in action against the Germans near Dixmude. The Belgians have but a small piece of land left, but they are hanging on to it, with the aid of the allies.

RESIDENTS OF SOISSONS FLEEING FROM BOMBARDMENT
 After the terrific bombardments at Soissons many of the residents have left their homes for safer quarters. The picture shows French women, with such household possessions as they are able to carry, hurrying away during a cessation in the firing.

WITH THE INDIAN WOUNDED AT BRIGHTON
 Wounded Indian soldiers in an English hospital at Brighton, where they have been transported from the battlefields of France and Belgium. The man at the left in the chair has lost both his legs.

—Photographs copyright 1915 by the International News Service.