

PORTLAND, OREGON, SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 21, 1915.

IN SOCIETY

News for publication in the Sunday society pages must be in the journal office by Friday afternoon

By Nona Lawler.
L ENTEN quietude has cast its shadow over things social, but with so many splendid reasons for entertaining, particularly for charity or European relief funds, it is not likely to be as dull as usual during this penitential season which started with Ash Wednesday and will close with the dawn of Easter Sunday, April 4. Society has always recurred to music and concerts will no doubt be numerous. An event much anticipated by those interested in the British Red Cross society is the concert to be given at the Masonic Temple March 16 under the auspices of the English and Scotch societies of the city. The proceeds will go to swell the fund which is being maintained here for relief of suffering abroad. A program of English, Scotch, Welsh and Irish songs will be given by a group of prominent local singers. This relief society has already sent over to England from Portland about $8000 which was realized from various sources, including concerts, private subscriptions and the chain of teas given by the women. This last raised about $1500.

One of the most interesting events of the past week was the military ball given by Troop A, O. N. G., at Cotillion Hall, Friday evening. A large gathering of prominent society people made the event reminiscent of the old popular military balls given prior to the Spanish-American war when membership in the Oregon National Guard was quite the vogue among the prominent young men of the city. The dress uniforms added the gay array of handsome and colorful evening gowns of the various colored evening gowns of the women made the scene an unusually colorful and delightful one.

With the opening of the San Francisco fair at hand the big events scheduled to take place are of especial interest to Portland people. The polo match beginning March 15 will be attended by people of note from every corner of the globe. A list of the box holders up to date is: Paul D. Hamlin, Chicago; E. W. Rollins, Three Rivers Farm, Dover, N. H.; George I. Cochran, Los Angeles; Charles W. Clark, Burlingame; C. W. Penoyer, San Francisco; Henry Clarence Breeden, Burlingame; H. W. Leadbetter, Portland, Or.; Walter S. Martin, Burlingame; Henry L. Corbett, Portland, Or.; Frederick McLaughlin, Chicago; Lawrence Waterbury, New York; Walter S. Hobart, Burlingame; F. B. Baldwin, Honolulu; Mrs. H. Bartlett, Vermejo Park, New Mexico; George N. Armsby, San Francisco; Carlton F. Burlingame; Herbert Fleischacker, San Francisco; Challen R. Parker, Piedmont, Cal.; R. T. Crane Jr., Chicago; Charles Templeton Crocker, San Francisco; George Pope, Burlingame; Mrs. Edward R. Barron, Mayfield, Cal.; John S. Drum, San Francisco; Joseph Sadoe, Robin, San Francisco; Edward L. Doherty, Los Angeles; Mrs. Cyrus Walker, San Francisco; Mrs. John F. Boyd, San Francisco; William A. Sproule, San Francisco; M. H. DeYoung, San Francisco; Delmar S. Clinton, Mill Valley, Cal.; J. V. DeLaveaga, San Francisco; C. Frederick Kohl, San Francisco; Mrs. Samuel Knight and Mrs. George A. Newhall, Burlingame, Cal.; Frederick W. Sharon, San Francisco; Frank J. Mackey, Beverly Hills, Cal.; E. H. Simmons, St. Louis, Mo.; Charles K. Butters, San Francisco; J. Chester Cowdin, San Mateo, Cal.; Mrs. Rudolph Spreckels, San Francisco; Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt Jr., New York; F. J. Keeshling, San Francisco; W. H. Watson, San Francisco; John Gallio, San Francisco; and J. A. Fogler, San Francisco.

Miss Claire Wilcox, of Portland, who, with her mother, is the house guest of her cousins, the Joseph D. Grants, at their beautiful home on Broadway, San Francisco, was recently entertained at a luncheon by Misses Cora and Frederica Otis, charming members of the ultra-exclusive smart set of the San Francisco. Among those who greeted the charming visitor were Mrs. Lovell Langstroth, Mrs. Millen Griffith, Mrs. Ernest Stillman of New York, the Misses Henrietta Harrison Smith, Harriet Pomeroy, Isabel Beaver, Lillian Whitney, Gertrude O'Brien and Miss Helen Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett gave one of their delightful informal dancing parties at their Park street home last Monday evening. About 40 guests of the younger married set were present. The Corbetts have given a number of like affairs during the season.

At the Portland Heights club Friday night a colonial dance was given for a large gathering of the members and their friends. Dancing was enjoyed until 11:30 o'clock, when southern refreshments were served. Mrs. D. A. Pattullo was chairman of the committee of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Jay Smith, Mrs. E. E. Beach, Mrs. John Keating and Mrs. James Ewing. The hall was most effectively decorated with cherry blossoms and branches of bamboo. The supper room on the lower floor was gaily arranged with long tables decked with branches of the cherry blossoms and pussy-willows and pink shaded candelabra. One of the matrons of the club, in colonial costume, presided over the coffee urns at the head of each table. About 20 guests were present.

Appearing for the first time publicly, the Madrigal club will be heard in concert Tuesday evening at the Multnomah hotel. There are 16 mixed voices in the club, and they have been working together since October, 1913, under the direction of Robert Boise Carson. The past two years' work has covered an extensive field of the best in choral work, including many old Madrigals now seldom heard. Musical people of the city are much interested in hearing their initial concert. Miss Kathryn Ensey, lyric soprano, and a trio, William R. Boone, Carl Grisson and Bruno Coletti, will assist in solo numbers on the program. The patronesses are: Mrs. Joseph N. Teal, Mrs. William D. Wheelwright, Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Thomas Carrick Burke, Mrs. Ralph Walker, Mrs. W. A.

Bushong, Mrs. C. J. Smith, Mrs. H. W. Corbett and Mrs. William C. Alford.

Exposition Is Sole Topic in San Francisco

Saturday Was Realization Day for the Loyal Californians Who Long Have Looked Forward to Fair.

By Marion Mac Rae.
San Francisco, Feb. 20.—This has been Realization Day for San Francisco. Culminating two year's herculean labor, the opening of the Panama Pacific International Exposition "On time" gave to the populace as well as of the whole state, a satisfaction that would not have been possible through any other medium. This long looked for opening started last night with a typical San Francisco street celebration throughout the city, and many of the celebrants had not gotten to bed before the bells and whistles of the city and bay were blaring in congratulating that the all important day had dawned, and reminding everyone that it was time to be up and doing and ready to "get into the grand march to the fair grounds."

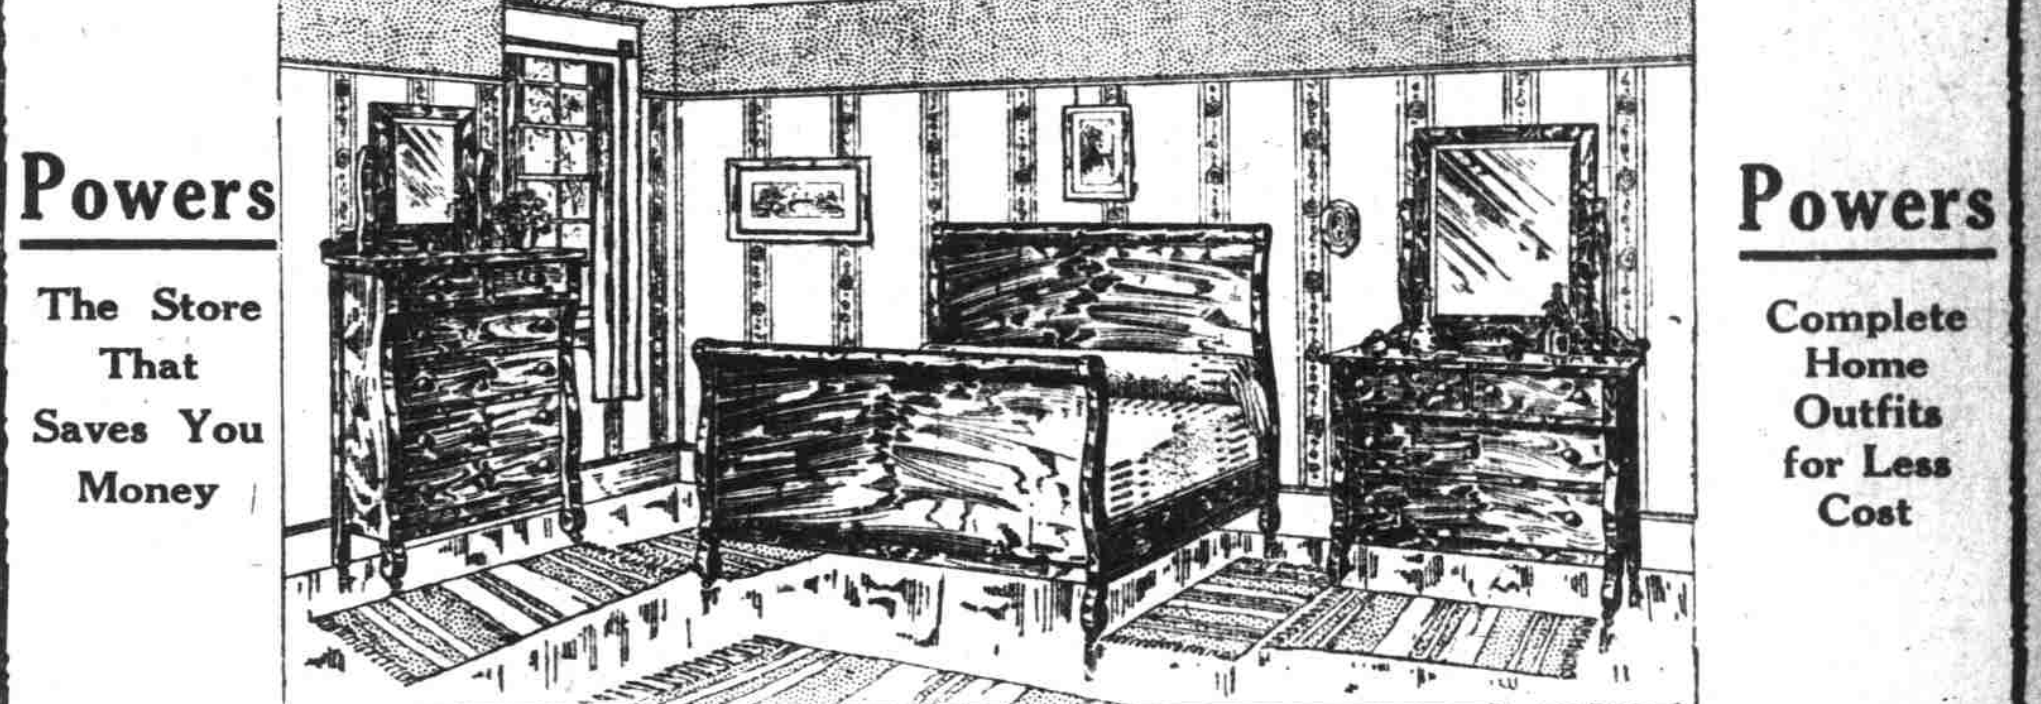

After the exercises there was a constant stream of visitors at the Oregon building, which was warmly greeted by the official hostess, Mrs. Thomas G. Hatley, Commissioner O. M. Clark and Secretary George Hyland of the Oregon commission. The new Oregon will have the distinction of being first in the state line to hold a celebration, several hundred guests being prepared to lunch at the big log palace. George Hyland will act as host. Mr. Staley will exhibit views of the Columbia Highway and other portions of Oregon. Commissioner C. Brown of the Washington commission will serve Yakima apples just to show Oregonians what his state can do in that line, and Charles Loesch, president of the Portland Building company, has volunteered to donate a feast of cake, just because he admires the Oregon spirit. "I like people who do things," said Mr. Loesch, and the Oregonians have promised to let him see and admire them "eat things."

Commissioner P. L. Lively, who will officiate as chairman at the 1915 Get Together supper dance at the Inside Inn next Saturday night, has secured as speakers, the following: Chief Justice John G. Taylor, well known fine arts; J. G. Stallsmith, agriculture; Alvin E. Pope, educational and social economy; Blythe Henderson, transportation; H. E. Davenport, machinery; Charles E. Van Buren, mines and metallurgy; Charles H. Greene, manufacturers; Theodore Harder, liberal arts; Dennison, horticulture. Mr. Lively has charge of the Polo tournament, and states that the entries and box reservations indicate it will be one of the most sporting events during the exposition year. The Gerald Fitzgerald, whom I mentioned as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lively last week, has his incoincto penetrated before the Earl of Pembroke.

The tea and reception rooms of the California building opened today to all members of the women's auxiliary board and their guests. Membership in this auxiliary gives admission to these private rooms during the exhibition period, the proceeds being used on furnishings for the building. A number of Portlanders have already joined and the board has asked me to notify all Oregon women that the Journal that such membership is open to them. The membership fee is $2, and the souvenir pin, which half the women of the Pacific Coast are now wearing, costs $1 additional. Oregon women desiring to avail themselves of this privilege are requested to address Mrs. F. C. Todd, 2319 Broadway, San Francisco. Mrs. Todd, who is a former Portlander, is a sub-chairman of the auxiliary and issues memberships.

Shrove Tuesday, which generally closes the social season for the lenten period, when the annual Mardi Gras ball, and like its predecessors, it was an imposing and artistic affair. A French garden setting gave opportunity for unusual lighting and lighting effects, and under the masterful direction of the many artists who are now here, the scene was a dream of loveliness. One of the court ladies in waiting on the queen, Miss Beatrice Nickel, who is well known in Portland.

Our "AZ-IZ" Department

A new "AZ-IZ" department has just been installed for the disposal of shopworn floor samples and goods marked in transit. It will display at all times underpriced merchandise of good quality at a generous saving to the purchaser. Shopworn pieces from the various departments will be shown only in the space provided for goods of this character, and as "AZ-IZ" prices mean the very lowest prices, this announcement is of great importance to those who desire to economize.

This Is the Gas Range That Is Now Being Used in Over 5000 Portland Homes

A-B Sanitary

Do not make the mistake of putting an ordinary gas range in your kitchen, for it costs less to operate a good range than a poor one. The patent burners of the A-B Sanitary consume 25 per cent more air than most gas ranges and the air costs nothing. Then again they are so easily cleaned—no blanking is required, just wash with a damp cloth. The polished steel body will look as bright and as new as ever. The sanitary base, the rustproof oven and the porcelain linings are all features you cannot overlook.

From $16.50 to $125 Terms $1.00 Weekly
