New Cancer Serum Proves Successful

New-York, Feb. 27 .- Results of the work of nearly a year by physicians, surgeons and the laboratory staff of the General Memorial hospital of this city, tending to show the success of a new cancer serum, are expected to be published soon in an official report of the medical board of the institution. The report will contain the name of the discoverer of the serum, its composition, the details of the preliminary laboratory work and the individual medical histories of the patients treated in the hospital. The announcement forecast this report as one of the most important contributions to science emanating from the medical profession in this country. Dr. James Ewing, professor of pathology at Cornell medical college, is chairman of the medical board of the hospital, which has been administered San Francisco Friday night to meet by members of the faculty of the Cornell medical school, with which it has been associated since last May, when Dr. James Dougles gave a large sum, n addition to a considerable amount of radium, to be devoted to the treatment of cancer.
