Mr. Hilton will show original and striking pictures taken by him- lf in all parts of Europe and Engnd, and especially in the countries w at war. The pictures to be shown ll be supplemented by pictures seed after the great war commenced. ceding the lecture several special usical numbers will be given under rection of Professor W. M. Wilder. e meeting is under the auspices of e men's organization of the church. e public is invited.

Editor Files Answer.—Editorials attcking "Painless" Parker during Parr's campaign for a law against the ental trust," as he called those opsing him, which were printed in the pectator, were privileged editorial mment, according to the amended nswer filed by Hugh Hume, editor of e magaizne, yesterday in Parker's bel suit for $10,000 damages. Hume so alleges that the editorials were ue. The case is to come before Cirdit Judge Gatens for trial in the near ture.

Receiving Congratulations.—J. L. ichards, secretary of the Abstract & itle Co., is smilingly receiving conratulations on the birth of a daughr, his second child. The young lady eighed 8 pounds. Mother and daughr are reported doing nicely at their ome, 1068 East Eleventh street north.

Jitney Measure Opposed.—Yesterday oon the Royal Arcanum luncheon at he Hazelwood was attended by a umber of leading members of the rder. J. H. Page spoke on the ques- tion of jitney regulation. He opposed the Daly ordinance, charging that it is essentially unjust, and that it is an attempted evasion of the referendum. The promise to place the measure before the people after it was in effect and operation he declared to be vague, and to be a promise to lock the stable door after the horse was stolen.

Released on Bail.—John Keefe, the federal prisoner whose plan to escape was checked by the discovery of a letter to a woman prisoner recently, was released from jail yesterday on bail pending action by the grand jury. He is charged with using the mails to defraud. Keefe hoped to obtain the release by means of aid of the woman to whom he wrote, as he believed she was about to be released on bail.

Accused of Non-Support.—J. W. Osgood admitted that he had not worked since he was married in November. He was bound over to the grand jury yesterday by District Judge Jones on a charge of non-support. During the hearing the testimony was to the effect that he had but $8 when he was married, while his wife had $295. This money was paid out for living expenses, it was asserted.

Automobiles in Collision.—In an automobile collision at Third and Columbia streets late yesterday machines belonging to K. Onishi of 243 Fifth street, and Zeph Murphy of 4112 Seventy-third street southeast, were considerably damaged, although neither of the drivers was injured. So great was the force of the collision that the machine driven by Onishi was hurled 30 feet across the street.

Engineer's Hand Scalded.—C. A. Osterdahl, an engineer for the Northern Pacific, residing at 354 Grand avenue, was badly scalded about the hand this morning about 2 o'clock in the terminal yards. The water gauge on his engine broke and the boiling water streamed over the hand that was clutching the throttle. He was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital.

New Stevedoring Company.—Articles of incorporation of the Griffiths Stevedoring company, incorporated, capitalized at $10,000, were filed this morning with County Clerk Coffey by James Griffiths, G. C. Frisbie and Charles E. McCulloch.

STATE CAPITAL NEWS

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)

Salem, Or., March 2.—Photographs of the unknown burglar, slain at St. Paul, were taken at Woodburn before the burial of the man, with a view of establishing his identity. Frank Undermeyer and James Grady, alleged confederates of the dead man, were arraigned on a charge of burglary yesterday afternoon. They waived examination and were held to the grand jury.

Governor Withycombe yesterday afternoon wired Congressmen Sinnott, Lafferty and Hawley urging them to make every effort to secure the passage of the Columbia river fish hatchery bill.

Secretary R. B. Goodin, of the state board of control, is seriously ill with pneumonia. However, his condition has shown some improvement since Sunday.

The fact that the Tumalo project bill was badly "pied" in passing will not invalidate its terms according to Assistant Attorney General Van Winkle. He also says that the fact that in the last paragraph of the amendments to the compensation act, reference is made to section 6, when it should be section 4, will not make any difference, as section 4 was section 6 before the amendments were made, so it is easy to get the intent.

Homeless, penniless and jobless men were given 2250 free lodgings at the Salem Men's club from the time it was established, December 1, to yesterday, when the club was closed, according to a report just made. A total of 4875 meals of the 5 and 10-cent variety were served, and of this number 1015 were worked out at the club. The club was maintained by private subscription and was of great assistance in caring for the poor and securing employment for them.

FOUND MOTHER'S BODY

Spokane, Wash., March 2.—With both feet cut off, the body of Mrs. Mary Butler, 73, was found late last night on the high Great Northern trestle. Mrs. Butler wandered away and was struck by a fast east-bound mail while her son and neighbors were searching for her.

RUBLEE PASSES MUSTER

Washington, March 2.—A favorable report was made yesterday on the nomination of George Rublee to be a member of the federal trade commission by the senate committee on commerce.

Northwest News

Linn Finances Good.

Albany, Or., March 2.—The first turn over of tax money was made yesterday by the Linn county tax collector. It amounted to $13,393.39, collected since February 11.

One of the shortest terms on record was held in department No. 1 of the state circuit court, presided at by Judge Kelly, here yesterday. Three cases were to be tried, each concerning assaults, the accused being out on bonds, but in each case the complaining witnesses failed to appear. The cases were then dismissed on motion of the district attorney.

Linn county is one of the few counties in the state that is in good shape financially, according to the state accounting department's report just issued for the close of business December 31. It shows that Linn county is among the 11 counties of the state that have a surplus on hand.

To walk about 45 miles since Sunday morning because he missed a train, in order to be present in court when a case against him was called for trial and then to find that the case against him was to be dismissed, was the experience of Frank Steingrandt, over 6 feet tall, a rancher residing about 13 miles above Sweet Home.

Michael Hoflich, a resident of Linn county for about 28 years, died Monday morning at his home near Gray station, five miles south of Albany, at the age of 78 years. He was born in Germany and came to the United States when he was 20 years of age. He lived in Iowa and Nebraska before coming to Oregon. He is survived by the following children: G. A. Theodore, William, Max and Fred, all of Albany; Carl of Portland, Herman of Butte, Mont.; Mrs. W. H. Berres of Wasco, and Mrs. Lena Caldwell of Linn county.

New Town in Umatilla.

Pendleton, Or., March 2.—Vincent is the newest town in Umatilla county, the court having just filed a plat as submitted by Lou Hodgen and other residents. The town is located in the east end, near the Washington line, and as a community has been known as Vincent for a number of years.

A dog, presumably mad, was killed at Holdman Sunday night after it had bitten several hogs and other dogs and had snapped at a number of children. The animal exhibited all the symptoms of rabies, and excitement was at a high pitch until a shot ended its career. The head has been sent to Portland for examination.

"Cyrus Noble," one of the Round-Up bucking horses, caused the downfall of Clyde Simms yesterday. A complaint was filed against him charging him with the larceny of the horse from the Round-Up Bermuda, north of the city. Simms, it is alleged, stole the horse from the winter pasture, brought it to town and sold it to James Huston, a buyer for a Denver firm which is riding the ranges for cavalry horses for Europe. Sheriff Taylor, who is president of the Round-Up, and Livestock Director S. R. Thompson got wind of the theft and located the animal before it was shipped. The arrest followed.

Roseburg Gets Industry.

Roseburg, Or., March 2.—Mrs. Walter Criteser of West Fork, accused of shooting at several women who were bathing in a pool near her home on July 26 last, was found guilty in the circuit court here yesterday on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

An enterprise that will mean much to Roseburg through the development of a large sand and gravel bed south of Roseburg is to be established soon. A gravel bar of about 45 acres has been bought by the Roseburg Sand & Gravel company. A spur track will be built from the main line of the Southern Pacific railroad to the gravel bar, and apparatus installed for loading the gravel.

Believing that his son, Roy Farnam, is innocent of the assault on Miss Edna Morgan, his sweetheart, for which he was convicted and sent to the state penitentiary, and the crime of murder, a charge of which is still pending against him, F. A. Farnam of Cow Creek, the boy's father, has employed a detective to come to Douglas county to search for evidence which may vindicate the accused.

Cornelius Veteran Dies.

Cornelius, Or., March 2.—Robert McNutt, a pioneer resident and veteran of the Civil war, died here this morning after a lingering illness, aged 69 years. He is survived by his widow, Sarah McNutt, and two sons, Carroll McNutt of Forest Grove and Leslie McNutt of Grants Pass.

Alleges Husband Is Her Cousin

Pendleton, Or., March 2.—Alleging that she and her husband are first cousins and that their marriage has in consequence been void from the beginning, Mrs. Minnie Gregory has started suit for divorce against her husband, Jesse Gregory, and for the restoration of her maiden name, Minnie Wade. She alleges that her mother and her husband's mother were sisters.

Noted Presbyterian Dead.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 2.—Rev. Thomas McCurdy, aged 74, a member of the judiciary committee of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, died here yesterday of heart disease.
