POULTRY SUPPLIES ARE | MORE CALIFORNIA BELOW REQUIREMENTS OF THE LOCAL TRADE

Receipts of Chickens Have Been Very Small of Late, While Call Has Been Insistent-Higher Values Forced All Around.

The scramble for poultry is today ne of the greatest along the street. The extreme scarcity of offerings of The extreme scarcity of live birds during the last 10 days, to-gether with the increased call, has forced values to about as high point as they usually go here.

With ordinary lots of hens selling quickly at 16½c a pound, and with a premium available for heavy hens for the Jewish trade, conditions are un-usually favorable for a continuation of extreme values during the present Week.

The call for turkeys is much more pronounced than at any time during the last two months. Only extremely limited arrivals are shown at this time and sales are reported for selected stock as high as 23c a pound for dressed. stock as high as 23c a pound for dressed. Most of the limited arrivals of turkeys recently have been of very inferior quality but even then have found a good demand at excellent haps for the cheaper class trade. Spring chickens are coming forward slowly and for these the demand con-tinues urgent at full values.

EGG SENTIMENT IS MIXED

While generally speaking sentiment in the egg trade indicates a slight low-ering of values here, some of the trade is still inclined to hold for last week's MEAT OUTLOOK IS BETTER

FRUIT OUTLOOK IS GOOD

Hood River, Or., March 29. — The warm weather of the past week has thrown all of the peach and cherry ort chards in the Hood River valley into full bloom, and present indications point to a record breaking crop of peaches and cherries for the vall y. J. R. Nunamaker, the cherry king of the valley who has a block of 20 acres in cherries, expects to harvest approxi-mately 100,000 crates. Several buy-ers have been in the valley attempting to close contracts for all of the Royal Anns grown here, but no deals have been closed.

Chehalis, Wash., March 29. — The final steps for the completion of the organization of the Lewis County Canning association were completed at a big meeting of farmers and business men held here Saturday. The total stock subscribed aggregates close to $22,000, and it is confidently expected that this will reach upward of $25,000 before the books are closed. The nine trustees chosen to manage the business of the organization are Dan W. Bush, T. M. Donahoe, James A. Urquhart, H. W. A. Tramm, C. E. Leonard, T. C. Rush, Charles Gessel, J. T. Alexander and L. J. Sticklin. It is proposed to build a fruit and vegetable cannery at Chehalis and the trustees will rush matters just as rapidly as possible, with the intention of being able to handle the crop for this season. While No Open Attempts Are Being Made at Present to Purchase Fleece, Mill Representatives Are Looking Over Situation.

While operating under cover be-cause of the fear of exciting growers to hold for still more money, eastern woolen interests are inquiring more generally for wool at Pacific north-west points. vest points.
Although surface indications are that the market is somewhat depressed. with mili interests not inclined to even consider the values asked by Pacific northwest sheepmen, there are some reports of strong bidding on the part of the milis.

Sharing operations have started in Shearing operations have started some sections of the interior, but will not become general for some time. Weather conditions will become a strong factor in this. In a special advice from Bradford, England, United States Consul Augustus E. Ingram writes regarding the "Owing to the embargo no raw woo! was shipped from Bradford during November and December, but in January a few licenses for merino wool and noils were granted, the exports of which in January amounted to $26,711, as contrasted with $878,113 in $26,711, as contrasted with $878.113 in January, 1914. The number of licenses granted and of shipments made is slowly increasing. The delay in granting licenses, which has seriously affected shipments to the United States, has been caused in part by the large number of applications; but it is understood that a new department is to be opened in Loudon especially to deal with such matters. No Wool Tops Exported.

"The embargo still affects the exportation of wool tops to the United States. None have been shipped since last October, although many applications have been made for licenses to ship merino tops. The exportation of woolen yarns which was stopped last October by the embargo, was resumed at the close of the year, so far as merino yarns are concerned. In January the exports amounted to $62,610, which is a big reduction from the business done prior to the outbreak of the war. In July the shipments amounted $179,017. "The exportation to the United States of woolen cloths (worsteds and woolens) and of woolen dress goods fell off in January, amounting to $181.731 and $236,278, respectively, as compared with $238,888 and $404,068 in December last. Exports to United States. The exports of all articles from this district to the United States in January amounted to only $1,121,815, as compared with $2,687,234 in January 1914 1914, and $3,580,432 in July, 1914. ary, 1914, and $3,580,432 in July, 1914.

"Merchants state that the dress goods trade with the United States goods trade with the United States has been of late generally below normal. Shippers have been working mostly on old contracts; fresh orders have not been coming forward freely. One merchant remarked that the American demand lately had been the poorest for 12 or 15 years. The same conditions are present in the lining trade, both in cottons and wool and cotton, or "stuff," linings, as they are tremely busy on government orders, so that one hears frequently of the boom in the textile industries of the West Riding of Yorkshire and the great difficulty of getting deliveries. This boom, however, is irregular, and some firms who have devoted them.

WOOL RECEIPTS HEAVIER

Boston, Mass., March 29.—It has been a quiet week in wool, save for the activities attending the turning over of foreign clips. The primary domestic markets also are quiet, as growers generally are asking more for their clips than eastern buyers are prepared to pay.

In Nevada growers are reported to have refused 22c for the new clips. They are holding out for 25c, which, on the basis of average shrinkage, would mean from 80c to 85c clean laid down here.

There's a difference of at least 3c a pound between buyers and sellers in Montana, as well as in Nevada, while in the fleece wool sections the growers' ideas are really prohibitive.

Chicago, March 29.—Wheat closed 1% c higher for May, 2% c for July and 2% c for September. Market opened unchanged for May, % c off for July and % c up for September.

Short covering was responsible for the late advance in all options.

Considerable short covering was in evidence. Many traders believe that a period of liquidation is at hand, and bulges which come from time to time as the result of an oversold pit condition will not be sustained. They believe that all bullish conditions have been discontinued. The peace talk has a tendency to discourage holders.

Mr. Seaborg has agreed to build the wharf for the city if it is authorized. He has made a contract with the gasoline schooner Randolph to carry his product from Rogue river to Portland and to bring his supplies down from Portland.

Mr. Seaborg has made contract with many of the Rogue river fishermen to take their fish and will pay 75 cents each for chinook salmon. He says that the Rogue river salmon are of the finest quality and that he will be able to can a superior product. He has also contracted with those who own the fishing grounds on Pistol river to take their fish which will be transported 20 miles over the wagon road to Gold Beach.

transported 20 miles over the wagon road to Gold Beach.

The new concern will employ a large number of men and will bring added payroll to the Rogue river country. With both of the companies operating this season will see more activity in that section of Curry county than ever before in its history, even more than during the most prospectus; times of during the most prosperous times of R. D. Hume, who was known for years as the "King of Rogue River." Mr. Seaborg is an old timer in the cannery business. He started years ago as a fisherman on the Columbia ago as a hisherman on the Columbia river and has built many canneries in different localities and has always made money at the business, he says. Recently Mr. Seaborg has been living in Josephine county where he had some timber holdings, but he will hereafter make his home on Rogue river.
