BENSON GIVES SECOND APPROACH TO TRAIL UP LARCH MOUNTAIN

Second Path Will Be Around Gordon Falls, Joining First Route on Cliff's Top.

LITIGATION NEARLY OVER

Court Involving Multnomah Falls Property's Title Is Expected in Next Few Days.

That there will be a double approach to the Larch Mountain trail. one from Multnomah, the other from Gordon Falls, now called Wakeena, was made known to the Larch Moun-tain Trail committee of the Progressive Business Men's club during an interview with . E. E. Coovert, repre senting S. Benson, yesterday.
Mr. Benson will pay the cost of the trail around Gordon Falls, said Mr Coovert, and it will join the main Larch Mountain trail on the summit of the cliffs above the Columbia river Certain property near Multnomah Falls is in litigation to quiet title. favorable decision within the next few days from the Oregon supreme court will mean that Mr. Benson will complete the purchase on behalf of the city, so that Portland may obtain the property forever under a decree of ondemnation without spending a cen of public money

The cost to Mr. Benson will be $5000 the same time effort will be made to have the government dedicate the land in the vicinity which was withdrawn from entry as the Multnomah Falls national monument. But the latter transfer will not in any way affect the building of the trail to the summit of Larch mountain.

Mr. Benson proposes that the city build the trail from the Benson bridge at Multnomah Falls up over the cliff. an interview with vesterday evening, Commissioner of Public Affairs Brewster stated there would be no question of the construction of the trail after the city has acquired title.

Among the committee members who interviewed Mr. Coovert and Commisoner Brewster yesterday were H. R. Hayek, chairman; G. F. Peek, Jacob Kanzler, Chester Hogue, J. P. Jaeger, Thomas H. Sherrard, supervisor of the Oregon National forest. Mr. Hogue. io is one of the architects of the Oregon building at the Panama-Pacific exposition, has consented to make the
