

What Society is Doing

BY NONA LAWLER

REVELING in the fascinating art of terpsichore, society danced last night at the cotton ball given for the benefit of Seaside house. The entire mezzanine floor of the Hotel Multnomah was turned over to the guests of the ball. Society in all her "sets," circles and angles was there, all enjoying a delightful evening and helping splendidly a worthy charity. Cotton gowns proved a success, too, and many a discriminating critic who sat among the spectators remarked that Portland women with their fresh complexions and marked good looks wore the more simple evening gowns with becoming advantage. There were pretty prints that had been fashioned at home at a cost of a very few dollars in their crisp newness, making altogether charming dancing frocks. The young and old attended, the school set vying with their grandparents in the keen enjoyment of the new dances. The men, too, conformed with the "informal" decree and many appeared for once entirely comfortable in their white flannels and soft shirts. Why men should ever dance in formal evening dress is beyond understanding, anyway.

The group of prominent women who have assisted in arranging the affair acted as escorts to the dancing. They included: Mrs. Thomas Honeyman, Mrs. Donald Green, Mrs. Arnold Rothwell, Miss Cornelia Cook, Mrs. Henry Russel, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Mon Hirsch, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mrs. William D. Wheelwright, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. James E. Davidson, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox.

Week End at Gearhart.

Miss Draper Entertained Informally

The presence in the city of Miss Ruth Draper of New York has been the occasion of much informal entertaining. She is a well known and has accepted only informal entertainment. She is a most interesting girl, the daughter of an old and prominent New York family. Her father was an eminent physician of that city and her mother a noted philanthropist and a patron of art and music. Her support for years of the New York Harmonic through its years of struggling endeared her to the music loving people of the city. Miss Draper as a monologist stands uniquely alone. She began her study in that line as an amateur and gradually drifted into the professional field in her love of the work. Her selections are original and show the keen insight into human nature that she has gotten through being the daughter and sister of physicians, and following them in their work, especially among the poor. She has another brother who is before the public as a successful leader singer, Paul Draper, and her mother, Mrs. Draper, is a well known pianist.

Birthday Celebration.
Mrs. Eva Hamilton celebrated her fifty-third birthday Tuesday afternoon, when a number of old-time friends called to congratulate her at her home, 1031 East Twenty-second street.

The tea was given in honor of the mothers of the girls of the sorority, following a custom which is observed by the eastern chapters of the sorority. Several delightful vocal solos were rendered during the afternoon by Miss Elise Cramer, Miss Mari-Ann Atwater and Miss Emma Sorenson, with Mrs. E. A. Reals accompanying. Miss Marjorie Read and Miss Laura Korell presided at the samovars.

Home Wedding.
At early morn Monday, April 12, at 1191 Maryland avenue, the home of the bride, George F. Pool and Miss Helen Borgeson were married by the Rev. J. Bowersox. Miss Mildred Ryan and Elmer F. Eckert attended them, and the wedding was witnessed by the relatives and friends. The young couple took passage on the steamer Rosa City for San Francisco. After several days they will leave for Chicago, and after a short visit proceed to Greensburg, Penn., and near there make their new home.

Coal Problem Troubles Nations

Italy Said to Be Facing Fuel Famine; Certain Countries Dependent on Germany and United Kingdom.
Washington, D. C., April 14.—Certain countries of Europe have been dependent on Germany and the United Kingdom for their coal supply. Denmark and Sweden purchase almost all their coal from the United Kingdom, and distance and high freight rates will handicap the American shipper in competing for this trade when conditions return to normal. But Sweden has bought some American coal during the last few months and has recently turned to Germany for coal and coke. France stands ready to purchase in the United States if prices can be arranged. Italy is threatened with a coal famine, and it is reported by cable from Madrid that Spain offers a market for American coal of all grades.

South American coal supplies have come chiefly from the United Kingdom, Australia and Germany, but the United States had more of a foothold on the southern continent than it had in European markets, and American exporters have already begun to take advantage of present conditions to increase their sales.
