Pitcher's Battle With Tiny Leonard Ends in Eleventh With Spencer's Run.

BEAVERS FAIL IN PINCH

Errors by Piercey and Bayless. Mac Has Large Sized Grouch,

By R. A. Cronin.

Bill Piercey extended a dirt be-grimed paw to Walter Carlisle at the close of the teuth inning yesterday, slipped a grapevine on Joe Wilhoit in the first half of the eleventh, and wafted a sardonic snicker at the Portland bench when Speas made the last out in the eleventh. And the slender fellow from the south had a perfect right to display his emotions, for he not only won the first extra inning game of the season here, but by far the best. It was a pitcher's battle against Tiny Leonard and had the cornucopia of horseshoes been turned Portland way in the late stages of the game instead of into the lap of H. Hogan, the aforesaid Tiny might have had a chance to display just as much of the weepy stuff as Mr. Plercey, who is an artist in his class.

The score was 2 to 1.

It was a game in which both pitchers had perfect control and neither walked a man in all the 11 innings. Five hits were made off Piercey and seven off Leonard. Back of Piercey were four errors, one of which he injected into the game himself and which was directly responsible for the lone ace of the locals. The great though losing like this: "We've ahelluvaball team. roll between his pins, and all the while When the pitcherserrotten the method good; when the pitchin's good the hittender when the pitchin's good the hittender when the pitchin's good the hittender when the pitcherserrotten the method good in the tenth, Lover smote what looked like a sure double to the left center field fence. Charley Graham Writes That Amateur Game Would Like Champion.

There is a possibility of the champions of the Portland City Baseball league participating in a series of games for the amateur championship of the Pacific Coast with teams from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Tacoma and Sacramento to be staged in Sacramento next fall, following the receipt of a letter from Charles Graham, one of the directors of the Sacramento |* Amateur Baseball league.

Secretary Grayson of the local league announced that the matter would be taken up at the next meeting of the directors. In the meantime he will answer Graham's letter, notifying him of the intentions of the Portland league.

Graham's letter follows: Sacramento, Cal., April 13, 1915.

In the second the Oaks connected up for a couple, but a double play ended the chance, and there really wasn't any time that Hall looked to e in danger.

In the meantime Sir Harry Ables, earl of Terrell, Texas, another of our bluebloods, did some good pitching of his own. He kept the hits well scattered—so well scattered, in fact, that in the fifth inning young Mr. Hall of Salt Lake became extremely apprehensive. So to make things just a little more certain for himself, Mr. Hall hit the ball over the fence for the only run of the day.
