FERGUSON

News for publication in the Sunday society pages must be in the Journal office by Friday afternoon.

By Nona Lawler.
PLEASANT weather, enjoyable social functions, interesting visitors in the city, have combined in the week just past to dispel all feeling of ennui that sometimes comes with spring and flowers. Maids and matrons of society have been kept in a whirl of gaiety with the lesser luncheons and teas which have been given, as well as the more notable events of the week. The cotton ball Wednesday evening was the occasion of many dinner parties that evening. Miss Sullivan, with Mrs. Wheelwright, Miss Draper at the honor, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett and Mr. and Mrs. Philister Proctor, the guests of Mrs. Margaret Burrell Biddle, all have inspired much entertaining of an informal nature among the married set, and Miss Renee duPont, the guest of Miss Ailsa MacMaster, has been feted by the younger set.

For Miss Sullivan of Washington, D. C. the house guest of Mrs. William D. Wheelwright, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson gave a luncheon Thursday afternoon. Circling the table were Miss Sullivan, Mrs. C. E. S. Wood, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mrs. Wheelwright, Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Winslow B. Ayer, Mrs. George S. Young of Vancouver barrettes, Mrs. Joseph Nathan Teal, Mrs. Charles H. Martin, Mrs. John G. Edwards, Mrs. Robert W. Lewis, Mrs. Frank E. Hart, Mrs. J. Andre Foulhoux, Miss Failing, Miss Hirsch and the hostess.
Wednesday Mrs. J. Andre Foulhoux presided at luncheon at the Waverly Country club for the pleasure of the visitor. Her guests were Miss Sullivan, Mrs. Wheelwright, Mrs. Winslow B. Ayer, Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, Mrs. Thomas Scott Brooke and Miss Flinders.
Mrs. C. S. Jackson will entertain with a bridge tea in her honor Thursday afternoon of this week.

The debutante set here entertained extensively for Miss Renee duPont Saturday Miss Rhoda Rumelin gave a luncheon of 12 covers. Friday Miss Margaret Mears had four tables at bridge and one at dominoes, a number of additional guests coming in later for tea. Miss Maise MacMaster, Marjorie Hoffman, Miss Rhoda Rumelin and Miss Jean Mackenzie presided at the tea table, which was adorned with scarlet tulips. About the rooms were white and lavender lilacs.
Thursday afternoon Miss Nan Russell entertained at her apartments in the Benson hotel, having luncheon for eight. Pink syringa and lilacs of the valley decked the table, at which were seated the Misses Maise and Ailsa MacMaster, Elizabeth Jacobs, Rhoda Rumelin, Margaret Mears, Louise Burns, Claire Wilcox, the honor guest and Miss Russell.
Mrs. H. C. Wortman entertained

SARAH McLEOD
FLOWER GIRL

Tuesday for the visitor, asking girls of the younger set for luncheon to her home. Killarney roses formed an effective center for the table. Later the guests were entertained on the Wortman yacht, Sea Otter, and passed a delightful afternoon on the river, having tea during the afternoon. Mrs. Wortman's guests were the Misses duPont, Maise and Ailsa MacMaster, Rhoda Rumelin, Elizabeth Jacobs, Nan Russell and Mary Stuart Smith.

Reveling in the fashioning art of terpsichore, society danced Wednesday night at the cotton ball given for the benefit of Scadding house. The entire mezzanine floor of the Hotel Multnomah was turned over to the guests of the ball. Society in all her "sets," circles and angles was here, all enjoying a delightful evening and helping a worthy charity. Cotton gowns proved a success, too, and many a discriminating critic who sat among the spectators remarked that Portland women with their fresh complexions and marked good looks were the more simple evening gowns with becoming advantage. There were pretty prints that had been fashioned at home at a cost of a very few dollars which in their crisp newness, made altogether charming dancing frocks. The young and old attended, the school set vying with their grandparents in the keen enjoyment of the new dances. The men, too, conformed with the "informal" decree and many appeared for once entirely comfortable in their white flannels and soft shirts. Why men should evade dance in formal evening dress is beyond understanding, anyway.

The group of prominent women who have assisted in arranging the affair acted as hostesses during the evening. They included: Mrs. Thomas Honeyman, Mrs. Donald Green, Mrs. Arnold Rothwell, Miss Cornelia Cook, Mrs. Henry Russell Talbot, Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mrs. William D. Wheelwright, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. James E. Davidson, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox.
The presence in the city of Miss Ruth Draper of New York last week was the occasion of much informal entertaining. She is in mourning and accepted only informal affairs. She is a most interesting girl, the daughter of an old and prominent New York family. Her father was an eminent physician of that city and her mother a noted philanthropist and a patron of art and music whose support for years of the New York Philharmonic through its years of struggling endeared her to the music loving people of the city. Miss Draper as a monologist stands uniquely alone. She began her study in that line as an amateur and gradually drifted into the professional field in her love of the work. Her selections are her own and show the keen insight into human nature that she has gotten through being the daughter and sister of physicians, and following them in their work, especially among the foreign colonies. She has another brother who is before the public as a successful leader singer, Paul Draper, a pupil of Jean de Reszke. She was in Portland under the patronage of the Drama club and appeared before them at the art museum Friday evening in a series of most eloquent including "The Scottish Immigrant," "The German Governess," "Three Generations in the Domestic Relations' Court," and others.

Among the social affairs featured in her home was a luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Henry L. Corbett, a luncheon Thursday at the Waverly Country club given by Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, a tea Thursday afternoon given by Miss Failing, and that evening Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett had a few guests at dinner in her honor. Friday Mrs. C. E. S. Wood had a luncheon and in the afternoon she went to Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox's for tea.
Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett are receiving messages of congratulation on the arrival Tuesday of a little daughter.
"Alice in Wonderland," the charming fairy story, will be given by local talent about the middle of May under the direction of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae for the Scholarship Loan Fund. Miss Frank Towles, a member of the association, is staging and drilling the affair. The dramatization being used was written by Pauline Sherwood Townsend of Ward Belmont college, Nashville, Tenn. She has become noted through her connection with the "Municipal Pageant" of that city. The performance will be fantastic and colorful, with about 100 people in the cast. The members of the association are taking the grown-up parts and prominent children are to be cast in other leads. There will be 35 speaking parts, including the prominent figures in the deck of cards which will bring 52 children onto the stage. Miss Mayo Methot will take the leading part of "Alice." She is well known as a child actress to Portland's theatre going public through her work with the Baker Stock company. Miss Mildred Keats will do fancy dancing and other prominent children in the cast are Bobbie Lewis, Richard Nunn, Billie Hawkins and Billie Warren.

Rehearsals have been in progress for two weeks and the affair already gives promise of rivaling the kermesses which have been given so successfully in the past.
Mrs. Chester G. Murphy and Mrs. Ralph C. Matson were joint hostesses at the home of Mrs. Murphy in King street Wednesday afternoon, when nearly 100 women called for tea. The pretty spring frocks of the guests appeared in the lovely setting of flowers which decked the rooms. White and lavender lilacs were used, with sprays of the delicate rhododendron blossom. Mrs. James A. Dougherty presided with her sister and Mrs. Matson. In the dining room Miss Ella Hirsch, Mrs. George A. Warren, Mrs. A. J. Glenn and Mrs. Morris Whiteside presided at the tea table, which was gaily arrayed.

| The Kroehler Has Led the Way | Its Simplicity of Operation Assures Lasting Wear | Instead of Moving in a Larger Flat, Move in a Kroehler |
| Whenever an improvement in Bed-Davenports was announced it was the makers of the Kroehler that made the announcement, and in this Kroehler Bed you will find the very latest features brought out by the makers. When you place this Bed in your home you will have the satisfaction of knowing that there isn't a Bed-Davenport made that operates more simply than this one. | The more complicated anything is the more liable to go wrong in some way. The extreme simplicity with which these Davenports operate greatly lessens any chance of them getting out of order. They are designed for service, and no matter whether you use it as a bed every night or one night a month, it's always ready, never out of order—changing from a beautiful piece of parlor furniture to a comfortable bed, smoothly and silently. | When you rent a house or an apartment your rent is based largely on the number of rooms desired. With a Kroehler you combine two rooms in one, lessening your monthly rental. You have a handsome piece of parlor or living room furniture by day and a comfortable sleeping room at night. It is the only piece of furniture in your home that will give you continuous 24-hour service. |
