

ALDERMAN TO WIDEN WORK OF TEACHING WHITE ILLITERATES

Scheme Is to Carry Education to the Adults; New Idea Is Gained at Meeting.

WOMEN ORIGINATED PLAN

Moonlight School as Carried on in Kentucky Said to Have Achieved Good Results.

An effort will be made by City School Superintendent L. R. Alderman to reach and teach all the adult white illiterates in Portland. He is going to broaden the work of the public schools in this direction, if possible.

His decision to do this comes from his attendance at the meeting of the Inland Empire Teachers' association, which was held at Spokane last week. One of the speakers there was Cora Wilson Stearns, of the county, Kentucky. She is the originator of the moonlight schools for adult illiterates.

When she was county superintendent she learned that her county had a greater illiterate population than almost any other county in the country. She established the moonlight schools. Then she met with difficulty in finding and getting in touch with the illiterates. She asked the census bureau for a list of illiterates, showing the names of the illiterates. These were denied her. She appealed to her congressman. Then she appealed to the Kentucky United States senators, and they too were unable to get the reports for her. Finally she appealed to President Taft and he issued an order to the census bureau to supply her with the reports. Since then she has been doing as reported.

Superintendent Alderman has already written to the census bureau for the reports on Multnomah county. The last census showed 282 adult illiterates in this county, and Oregon 10,000. This is a very low percentage.

"I expect to work out a plan for teaching the illiterates," said Mr. Alderman. "I want Portland to make the best record for literacy of any city in the United States when this next census is taken."

Over 2500 educators attended the meeting at Spokane. President Judd of Chicago university was one of the main speakers.

A. O. U. W. GRAND LODGE HAS CHANGED ITS CONSTITUTION

Most Important Action Is Decision to Admit Women to Membership in Order.

The grand lodge of the A. O. U. W., in convention at the Multnomah hotel, made two great changes in its constitution. The one that is the most startling to the fraternal world is the amendment admitting women to membership. The A. O. U. W. in this state, as well as in other jurisdictions, has steadfastly turned a deaf ear to all such proposals. Now Oregon, being an independent jurisdiction, takes a step that its delegates to the grand lodge consider to be in accordance with the times and the future benefit of the order. "It leaves the door open," said J. M. Dixon, grand recorder, "for the union of the Degree of Honor with the future degree of one lodge. There is no reason why in a short time the two lodges should not adjust their finances and risks and march forward as one body."

The Degree of Honor last night initiated a candidate in accordance with the most approved form of the ritual by the team of the Salem lodge and by Tabor lodge of Portland.

His sessions will continue today and officers will be elected this afternoon.

Jack Smith Faces Federal Complaint

Jack Smith, who was arrested several days ago at Eugene, is now in connection with the robbery of a boxcar at Albany, was turned over to the federal authorities in Portland last Wednesday afternoon and is given a hearing before Commissioner Drake Friday.

A complaint against him was filed yesterday in the federal court based on the fact that the car robbed was in transit from one state to another, which brings the case under federal jurisdiction.

Earl and Otto Barber, brothers, are under arrest at Eugene on the same charge. The evidence against them is said to be circumstantial. Smith was brought to Portland by Detective McShane of the Southern Pacific.

Stevens-Pierce Nuptials.

Oregon City, Or., April 21.—Edward A. Stevens, traffic manager for the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. in Portland, and Grace C. Pierce, were quietly married at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stevens, in Mount Pleasant, Monday evening, Rev. J. J. Lamborn officiating. The ceremony was a very quiet affair. Only a few guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens left Tuesday for Portland, where they will make their home.

Postoffice Receipts For State Show Gain

Local Receipts Decline for First Quarter of 1915, But Loss More Than Made Up by Smaller Offices.

Although there has been a decline in receipts of the Portland postoffice for the quarter ending March 31, it is apparently more than offset by the increased receipts of smaller offices throughout the state, according to an announcement by Postmaster Myers today.

Deposits of the Portland postoffice to the credit of the postal service, March 31, amounted to $232,582.65, against $199,842.18 for the first quarter of 1914. This shows a net gain to the credit of the postoffice department of $32,740.47.

"It should be borne in mind that the Portland postoffice is the depository of the postal funds of all the other postoffices in Oregon," said Mr. Myers, "and after taking care of the disbursements incident to the railway mail service, all the rural carriers of Oregon and the payroll of the Portland office, the balance is deposited to the credit of the service of the postoffice department. This balance has just closed, as indicated, for the quarter just increased."
