

What Society is Doing

BY NONA LAWLER

THE Cinderellas gave one of the smartest affairs of the season last night at the Waverly Country club when they glided to the society entertained by the men with a mask dance. Gay fantastic costumes were seen, some daring creations being worn with splendid success. There were Chinese, Japanese and Turkish maids and men and a medley of bright colors. The club house was bedecked with quantities of Scotch broom and ayringa and in the dining room where an elaborate supper was served yellow tulips were used to center the tables.

The dancers unmasked early in the evening. Mrs. Helen Ladd-Corbett, Mrs. William MacMaster and Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox were the patronesses. Among those present were: Miss Claire Wilcox, Miss Cornelia Cook, Miss Katharine Hart, Miss Evelyn Carey, Miss Rhoda Rummel, Miss Nan Russell, Miss Alice Gillman, Miss Margaret Mearns, Miss Isabella Gaud, Miss Malie MacMaster, Miss Ailsa MacMaster, Miss Eleanor DuPont, of Wilmington, Del.; Miss Katherine Holbrook, Miss Louise Burns, Miss Jean Morrison, Miss Polly Young of Vancouver, B.C.; Miss Jean Mackenzie, Miss Marjorie Hoffman, Miss Violet Reskine, Miss Elizabeth Jacobs, Miss Sarah McCully, Miss Mary Stuart Smith, Miss Helen Cummings, Miss Mary Brownlie, Miss Mary Robertson, Miss How Mills, Miss Clementine Lambert, Leslie Smith, Mrs. Hazel Blumauer Litt, Miss Shirley Eastham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hindman, Mr. and Mrs. Kurt H. Koehler, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Willis Kamm, Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Kamm, Mr. and Mrs. Landon R. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Crumpacker, and Charles Miller, Prescott Cookingham, Ray Small, John LaCourrette, Donald Sterling, George Stanley, William Wheeler, J. E. W. Stevenson, MacCormac Snow, Berkeley Snow, Harold Wells, Seaton Taylor, Paul Grey, Allan Grey, A. D. Wakeham, Leland Smith, Maurice Dooly, Ferdinand Smith, Philip Fry, Edward Clarke, Irving Wiley, Harry Wood, John Felling, Charles N. Holbrook, Lester Hodson, John C. Adams, James S. Huselton, William Howe, Aubrey Water and Varnum Beach.

A number of dinner parties were given prior to the dance, several at the University club and the Misses MacMaster had a party for 29 guests at their home, "Ardour."

Mrs. Koehler to Entertain.
Mrs. Kurt H. Koehler has asked a number of the girls of the younger set to lunch with her Friday when Miss Renee du Pont will be the honor guest.

Mrs. Burrell South.
Mrs. Walter F. Burrell is sojourning in Los Angeles at the present time. She has been south for two weeks visiting in San Francisco at the fair. Her mother, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, is motoring with her cousins, Mrs. C. B. Wood and Miss Mary Morgan of New York and Washington, D. C. and is now en route to San Francisco from the exposition at San Diego. They have been enjoying several months of travel together, visiting in Panama and the southern states. Their plans for returning to Portland are indefinite as yet. Mrs. Burrell will join her mother in San Francisco later.

School Boating Party.
The inter-school boating party will take place Saturday evening on the steamer Joseph Kellogg. Reservations for 200 guests have been made, much interest being taken by the school set in the event, the first boating party of the season. Mrs. C. C. Woodcock, Mrs. S. I. Guies, Mrs. A. E. Holcomb and Mrs. A. A. Wright will chaperone the young people.

Wedding a Surprise.
The marriage of Miss Winifred Alice Sloan to Frank S. Meagher came as a surprise to their many friends. The ceremony was performed this morning at West Park, Or., the home of the bride, by Rev. Father Hines. A wedding breakfast was served after which the young couple left on their honeymoon.

Auxiliary to A. O. H. Dance.
The younger set of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Ancient Order of Hibernians will entertain their friends with a card party and dance in the Hibernian hall Friday next. Card tables will be arranged in the banquet hall and there will be dancing all evening in the ball room.

Milwaukie Church Entertainment.
The St. Ann's society and the Young Ladies' Sodality will give a card party and dance at Gregory hall on Milwaukie and Center streets this evening.

Ohio State Society to Organize.
The Ohio society is to organize in room H, Central library, tomorrow night. All Ohioans are invited.

Skating Party.
The King's Daughters class of the White Temple will give a social skate at the Oaks rink Friday, April 23, at 8 p. m.

(Top)—Miss Metha Nichols. (Bottom)—Miss Nelle Preble, who will assist in the sale of flowers and candy at the Club Vaudeville Tuesday night at the Eleventh Street playhouse.

8 p. m. The invitations are original, bearing the verse: "Leave your studies and be care-free; come to the Oaks and skate with me."

Oregon Rose Camp Party This Evening.
Oregon Rose Camp, 1811, R. N. of A., has completed all arrangements for its annual Easter party to be given in Royal Academy hall, 85 1/2 Fifth street, this evening, April 21.

Flowers and Candy Sold at Club Vaudeville.
A bevy of attractive girls, a wealth of lovely flowers, hundreds of pounds of home made sweetmeats and a vaudeville at once clever and unique—these are some of the features of the big club vaudeville to be given next Tuesday afternoon and evening at the Eleventh street playhouse by the federated clubs of the city.

Mrs. Chester Deering is in charge of the sale of candy and Mrs. Lee Arnet heads the flower committee. These women have secured 50 or more of the city's prettiest and most popular girls to assist in the sale of the flowers and candy before the show and between acts. Wearing their prettiest frocks and carrying their flower and sweetmeats, the girls will be the delight of the audience. Among those already secured to assist in the sale are: MacDowell club, Miss Dorothy Moulton and Miss Ruth Jones; Shakespeare club, Miss Nellie Preble, Miss Metha Nichols, Miss Miriam Todd and Miss Marjorie Chalmers; State Woman's Press club, Miss Alys French, Miss Leta Dee, Miss Mildred Swagay, Miss Esther Merrill, Miss Lois Cowgill; The Coteries, Miss Anna L. Miller, Miss Grace Miller, Miss Frances Soden; Tuesday Afternoon club, Miss Elsie Brooke; Alberta Woman's Improvement club, Miss May Johnson; Corriente club, Mrs. Clinton Shorno, Mrs. Charles Billington, Miss Nina Killingsworth; Brooklyn Mothers and Teachers, Miss Ethel Luke and Miss Jessie Foster; Monday Musicale, Mrs. E. L. Pettis and Mrs. Rodney Herrick; Portland Woman's club, Mrs. Charles A. Steel; Woman's Overlook club, Miss Hella Berger, Miss Charlotte Paegler, Miss Ena Anderson; Psychology club, Mrs. J. H. Stanley.

Society Notes.
Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Black, who spent the winter in Portland, left Saturday night for their home in Great Falls, Mont. They had apartments at the Villa St. Clara while in Portland. Prior to their departure they were extensively entertained by friends.

Automobile Crushed; Occupant Not Hurt.
Fred W. Prael of American Can Company was narrowly escaped when struck by train.

When his machine was struck by a backing switch engine yesterday, Fred W. Prael, superintendent of the American Can company, had a narrow escape from death. The automobile was jammed against a telegraph pole and completely demolished. Prael was only jarred and scratched. He refused to go to a hospital.

The accident happened as Prael started to back his automobile up the driveway, alongside the can company's building on North Front street, across the tracks. A split train of freight cars was on the side of the roadway and started up just as Prael was squarely on the track.

Charging that the conductor of a P. R. L. & P. train at Island station started to back his train despite the fact that he did not desire to board the train, Byron B. Allison yesterday sued the company for $250 damages. Allison said he says that he could not catch the train and waited for it to pass him, intending to call to friends aboard suggesting that they wait for him at the next station.

He stood near the track, he said, and the conductor, apparently believing he desired to jump on, grabbed him by the neck, dragged him along for a short distance and was finally forced to drop him to the roadbed to his injury and great danger.

Conductor's Efforts To Aid Not Approved.

Circus Will Provide Fun Besides Thrills

Jarum & Bingham's circus at the Y. M. C. A. Friday and Saturday nights will be not all thrills, for fun is well scattered through the program that the 200 boy actors will present. There will be circus clowns, funny acts and plenty of comedy to drive away the blues from the most confirmed of grouches.

"DO YOU LIKE THIS SUIT I BOUGHT AT CHERRY'S?"

"Instead of going to a tailor and trusting to his word or reputation that he'll make my suit right, I like to BUY MY CLOTHES AT CHERRY'S. I saw this suit in an exquisite line of new beauties—I could examine it closely and see for myself how beautiful the workmanship and finishing were—most of all, I could TRY IT ON BEFORE A MIRROR AT ONCE, without enduring tiresome fittings and uncertainties as to whether I should like it in the end.

"And the price was so much lower! I have several $10 gold pieces tucked into my bank as my margin between Cherry's prices and the staggering tailoring bills I used to think necessary.

"AND I ALWAYS PAY A LITTLE EVERY WEEK for the Clothes I buy. It saves me from those old purple-emptings that let me 'broke' for weary stretches. CHERRY'S have the costume you want, too. See them and you surely will be pleased. Here is their address: 389-391 Wash. st., in the Pittcock block.—Adv.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mexican Currency Funny Thing.
"Mexican paper currency is the funniest thing in Mexico at the present time," remarked Dr. A. D. Parsons of Tampico, Mexico, at the Portland hotel this morning. "Every provisional leader is making it by the ream, and a paper Mexican dollar is now worth about 6 cents American gold." Dr. Parsons is in Portland on an extended vacation tour, hoping that things will become quiet ultimately in Mexico, that country having been his home for nearly 35 years. Dr. Parsons went to Mexico City originally for his health and stayed there in the practice of medicine, removing to Tampico when trouble became imminent about two years ago. He was at one time chief surgeon of the Mexican National railway and medical director of the American hospital in Mexico City.

Bishop Sumner Improving.
Bishop Walter Taylor Sumner who is undergoing treatment at the Good Samaritan hospital for throat trouble was reported as "feeling fine" by hospital authorities this morning. Bishop Sumner will be the guest of honor at a reception to be given at Trinity parish house tonight by the Episcopal Social Service league of which he is president. The social workers of Portland have been invited to meet him.

Puccini's Operas Are NOT TO BE SUNG ON COAST THIS WINTER

New York Firm in Control of Works Refuses Permission to Use Them.

Puccini opera will not be sung on the Pacific coast this season, for G. Ricordi & Co. of New York so announce in a telegram to George L. Baker of the Baker theatre, where the Lambardi Italian grand opera company is now playing a most successful season. Several requests came to the company for a production of "Tosca," "La Boheme" and "Madame Butterfly," and having the artists admirably equipped to sing the repertoire, messages were forwarded to Ricordi & Co. having control of these works in the states, asking for the use of the works. Here is the answer from the New York agency:

George L. Baker, Baker Theatre, Portland, Or.—Regret that under no circumstances can permission for our copyright repertoire be given this year for the production of the works you request. There has been an entire withdrawal of the repertoire till next winter.—G. Ricordi & Co.

This afternoon the company is singing "Rigoletto" and tonight "Il Trovatore" will be the bill. Last night "Faust" was the attraction, and was attended by a large audience.

Tomorrow the company completes its second week, with two and possibly three more weeks to run.

Young Women to Sell Tags for Aid of Belgian Red Cross

Under the direction of Miss Eva Anelon, an American daughter of Belgium, plans are being rapidly matured for the sale of Belgian Red Cross tags on the streets of Portland next Saturday.

Nearly 100 young women will sell the tags and from interest is anticipated that the total sales will make for a considerable fund to turn over to the Belgian Red Cross.

The idea of a tag day is Miss Anelon's and she points out that the Belgian Red Cross has aided the injured and suffering of all nationalities during the war.

Those wishing to help sell the tags should call Main 2808 or the Ritz hotel.

Sussnik Case Sent Back for Retrial

Supreme Court Reverses Judge Cleston in Action Against Alger Logging Company—Says Lower Court Erred.

Salem, Or., April 21.—The supreme court has reversed the judgment of Circuit Judge Cleston in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Joe Sussnik against Alger Logging company, and remanded the case to Multnomah county for trial. Plaintiff secured judgment for damages for personal injuries received upon his arrival at the camp of the defendant at Skamania, Wash., to start work. He alleged that the engineer of the defendant's train told him to get off, and while he was doing so the locomotive started without warning, and that he was thrown down and injured. Defendant claimed the plaintiff recklessly ran in front of the engine. The suit was based on the theory that at the time of the accident the parties sustained the relation of passenger and carrier.
