Bishop Sumner Meets Social Workers

TRINITY PARISH HOUSE was last evening the scene of a large and very interesting gathering the occasion being an informal reception given by the members of the Episcopal Social Service League to the social workers of the city to meet the Right Rev. Walter Taylor Sumner, bishop of the diocese of Oregon. Two hundred and thirty people took advantage of this opportunity of meeting the bishop, who was present to greet everyone notwithstanding his recent illness.

Those in the receiving line were: Rev. and Mrs. Henry Russell Talbot, Rev. Frederic K. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. C. Newell, V. E. Manning and Bishop Sumner. A musical program prepared by Miss Jocelyn Foulkes was one of the enjoyable features of the occasion. Waldemar Linn, Ferdinand Kora and Mr. Fraxley of the Portland Hotel orchestra played early in the evening and later vocal selections were given by Miss Ruth Johns, soprano; Miss Edith Clark Patterson, contralto; and Joseph Mulder, tenor. The accompanists were Miss Gessner and Miss Foulkes. Light refreshments were served. The table was graced with clusters of Japanese crane and apple blossoms. Those assisting in serving were: Mrs. F. A. Jacobs, Mrs. Thomas Pumphrey, Mrs. E. A. West, Mrs. Arthur King, Miss Ethelwynne Harris, Miss Harriet Thayer and Miss Marjorie Peterson. The assembly room of the parish house was much admired for its striking decoration of dogwood.

Benefit Card Party

The benefit card party yesterday at the Irvington clubhouses of the Willamette chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. Anton H. Bagley, regent, and the Portland chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. F. Joplin, president, was a social and financial success. The proceeds will go toward the entertainment fund of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, who will be hostesses to the National Federation Council in June. The committee in charge, Mrs. Anton Giebisch, Mrs. F. O. Miller, Mrs. E. A. Beals and Mrs. L. G. Multnomah Chapter Meets

The Waterways of the United States was the subject of a very able address given yesterday afternoon by and comprehensive address given yesterday afternoon by Joseph N. Teal at the meeting of Multnomah Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held at the home of Mrs. W. B. Gilbert, on Portland Heights. Mr. Teal traced the evolution of water transportation from the days of the crude canal boats to the present great steamers which ply our rivers and ocean. He said that water transportation is an asset to railroad transportation instead of a menace, as it furnishes a final outlet that would otherwise be impossible.

The reports of officers and committee chairmen were given showing excellent work being done in the chapter. Amendments were made to the by-laws changing the hour of meeting and opening the membership rolls. Heretofore the membership has been limited to 100, and this has been full.

To Celebrate Shakespeare's Birthday

Some of Shakespeare's most familiar and beloved characters will be seen in tableaux, with musical settings and dances, at Library hall tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, the occasion being the annual celebration of the birth of William Shakespeare, which is each year observed by the Portland Shakespeare club. This entertainment is free and is open to the public. A cordial invitation is especially extended to students of Shakespeare.

The hostesses for the afternoon will be: Mrs. E. P. Preble, Mrs. E. T. Taggart, Mrs. R. E. Jones, Mrs. J. C. Elder, Miss May Breslin, Mrs. J. C. La Burre, Mrs. E. Mackie and Mrs. John Karnopp. The ushers will be Misses Nellie Preble, Maram Todd, Helen Jeffers and Marguerite Thompson.

Roseburg Club Gives Entertainment

The close of the season of 1915 for the Roseburg '95 Mental Culture club occurred on Tuesday night. A laughable comedy, "Scenes in the Union Depot," was staged at the Antlers theatre by the club members, and several hundred people were present to witness the performance. These included members and guests. After the close of the performance a sumptuous banquet was served in the club's social quarters in the basement of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. J. A. Buchanan, retiring president, was presented with a handsome silver tea set, the gift of the members, in appreciation of her work during the past year.

Lecture on Religious Training

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in room 220 of the courthouse, Mrs. L. C. Phillips will lecture on the "Religious Home Training of the Child—The Sunday School." This lecture is to be held under the auspices of the Parents' Educational bureau of the Oregon Congress of Mothers, and there will be a special demonstration.

Fairview Parent-Teacher Meeting

The Parent-Teacher association will meet on Friday afternoon at 3:30. Mrs. Aristine Felts, president of the Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association, will be present and favor the association with an address. A musical program will be given by the pupils from Professor J. B. Lentz's room.

Bill Is Topped by The Stool Pigeon

The Star's blended bill for the remainder of the week is topped by "The Stool Pigeon," with J. Warren Kerrigan in the lead. It has to do with a young man out of work who is saved from suicide by a "gentleman of leisure," who gives him what appears to be a legitimate job, while in reality he is using him as a stool pigeon with one particular jewel robbery in view. The story is fairly well worked out with adventure and romance, and an opportunity for the popular Kerrigan to garb himself in everything from rags to the doublet and hose. "The Adventures of the Yellow Curl Papers" is a pictured magazine story of theatrical life, and a press agent "stunt" to lure back waning business. Violet Marcereau and William Garwood play the leads. Universal Weekly and a good Nestor comedy, "Two Hearts and a Ship," complete the bill.

Week-End at Lyric Pleasing in Variety

Devere brothers have a lot of fun, rough-and-tumbling each other about the stage, in the bill that opened yesterday for the remainder of the week at the Lyric. They are billed as "comedy acrobats," and they are both acrobats and comedians.

Billy Small, violinist, made a bit with the audiences yesterday. His imitation of the fiddling at an old-fashioned country dance is well done. Keith and Walker, singers, dancers, open talkers, had a pleasing variety in their act, although some of their jokes would be better in the scrap heap.

Harry Dickinson, late of "The Candy Shop" company, contributes a singing, dancing and piano playing stunt which goes well.

There are five film plays, for which George Jeffery, musical director, has selected expressive accompaniments. Tomorrow night is amateur night.

FRATERNAL NOTES

State Manager Thomas Will Be Chief Guest at Social.

Summer Campaign. The state manager of the Knights and Ladies of Security, L. M. Thomas, will be the chief guest at a social and dance in Salem next Friday night, April 23, given by the local council there. He is busy preparing for the summer campaign, for the Knights and Ladies of Security in Portland never take a summer vacation. The list, includes picnics, excursions, socials, ice cream parties, and "ladies" baseball games and other sports.

Odd Fellows to Celebrate. The Odd Fellows of McMinnville will celebrate the ninety-sixth anniversary of the order by a dance at Cottillon hall Monday, April 26, under the auspices of Canton No. 2, at 7 p. m., all the lodges in the city.

Little Stories for Bedtime BY THORNTON W. BURGESS

Old Mr. Toad Gives Peter a Scare. If you play pranks on other folks you will get the first chance that they will give you to play.

When Peter Rabbit had turned over the old board under which Old Mr. Toad had been changing his suit, he had not intended it as a prank. The fact is he hadn't known who was under it. But Old Mr. Toad was considerably put out, the more so as Peter had laughed and laughed at him as he struggled to get out of and swallow his old suit. Now he was getting even, while Peter's back had been turned Old Mr. Toad had disappeared. It was too much for Peter. Look as he would he couldn't see so much as a chip under which Old Mr. Toad might have hidden excepting the old board, and Old Mr. Toad had given his word of honor that he wouldn't hide under that. Nevertheless Peter hopped over to it and turned it over again, because he couldn't think of any other place to look. Of course Old Mr. Toad wasn't there. Of course not. He had wasn't his word that he wouldn't hide there and he always lives up to his word. Peter should have known better than to have looked there.

Old Mr. Toad had also said that he would not go three feet from the spot where he was sitting at the time, so Peter should have known better than to have raced up the Crooked Little Path as he did. But if Old Mr. Toad had nothing to hide under of course he must have hopped away, reasoned Peter. He couldn't hop far in five minutes, that was sure, and so Peter ran this way and that way, and he dealt farther than it would have been possible for Old Mr. Toad to have gone. But it was a wholly useless search, and presently Peter returned and sat down on the very spot where he had last seen Old Mr. Toad. Peter never had felt more foolish in all his life. He began to think that Old Mr. Toad must be bewitched and had some strange power of making himself invisible.

For a long time Peter sat perfectly still trying to puzzle out how Old Mr. Toad had disappeared, but the more he puzzled over it the more impossible it seemed. And yet Old Mr. Toad had disappeared. Suddenly Peter gave a frightened scream and jumped higher than he ever had jumped before in all his life. A voice, the voice of Old Mr. Toad himself, had said, "Well, now are you satisfied? And that voice had come from right under Peter. Do you wonder that he was frightened? When he turned to look there sat Old Mr. Toad right where he himself had been sitting a moment before. Peter rubbed his eyes and gaped very foolishly.

"Wh—wh—where did you come from?" he stammered at last.

Old Mr. Toad grinned. "I'll show you," said he. And right while Peter was looking at him he began to sink down into the ground until only the top of his head could be seen. Then that disappeared. Old Mr. Toad had gone down and the sand had fallen over his head. Peter just had to rub his eyes again. He had to. Then to make sure he began to dig away the sand where Old Mr. Toad had been sitting. In a minute he felt Old Mr. Toad who at once came out. Old Mr. Toad's beautiful eyes twinkled more than ever. "I guess we are even now, Peter," said he.

Peter nodded. "More than that, Mr. Toad. I think you have a little the best of it," he replied. "Now won't you tell me how you did it?"

Old Mr. Toad held up one of his stout hind feet and on it was a kind of spur. "There's another just like that on the other foot," said he, "and I use them with you. You go into a hole head first, but I go in the other way. I make my hole in soft earth and back into it at the same time, and I back out with my stout hind feet, and as he kicked the earth out he backed in at the same time. When he was deep enough the earth just fell back over him, and you see I was very loose and not packed down at all. When he once reappeared Peter thanked him. Then he asked one more question.

"Is that the way you go into winter quarters?"

Old Mr. Toad nodded. "And it's the way I escape from my enemies," he added.

Next story: "Peter Rabbit Becomes a Quaddy."

And right while Peter was looking at him he began to sink into the ground.

BUSTLING SCENE

Four Hundred Children Make Garden on Half Acre Plot.

"Hey, Mister, Gimme some lettuce seeds!"

"Got a onion seed?"

"Aw, an inch deep and four inches apart for beets!"

"Well, they grow big, Bill!"

No congressman getting solid with his constituents was ever so besieged by a crowd of children as City Supervisor of School Gardens Howard Everts Weed and Principal L. H. Morgan were Tuesday afternoon at Sellwood school. The riotous crowd of those 400 pupils ran riot over their half acre school garden on seed planting day would ever deem a back-to-the-land movement necessary.

"Everyone had a hoe or a rake or was scraping somewhere with something. Everywhere were writhing bodies, implements, seeds, bustling instructors. The riotous chant of the day was, "an inch deep and four inches apart."

RUTH USED TO BE A "TRAILER"

But Now She's in Step With the Latest Styles, Since She's Been Trading at CHERRY'S.

Ruth used to discard her winter clothes about the last of May. About a week ago, however, she might have been seen having a lovely time up at CHERRY'S pretty shop on Washington street. And her friends received something of a shock when they saw Ruth the next day in an unmistakably SPRING costume, exquisite, stylish and becoming.

It looked expensive—the clever little world-colored suit, and whose prices were what you'd class "moderate," and are to be paid in WEEKLY INSTALLMENTS. To her intimates Ruth confided that she's planning on one of Chery's swaggar new coats a little later on.

The number of their place is 289-291 Washington st. in the Pittcock Block, and don't forget to tell your sweetheart that they are supreme in Men's Clothes, too. (Adv.)

W. O. W. Booster.

The United W. O. W. Booster is a monthly magazine issued by seven local camps of the Woodmen of the World in this city and sent to every member. It contains in its April issue a number of portraits of prominent Woodmen of the World in Multnomah county, and special articles concerning the reception to be given Head Consul I. I. Boak next Sunday and Monday, April 25 and 26, in honor of the tenth anniversary of his assuming the office.

Odd Fellows to Celebrate.

Monday evening next the Odd Fellows of Sandy, Boring, Rockwood and Estacada will be guests of the Graham lodge, and receive Grand Master William Galloway. The occasion is the ninety-sixth anniversary of the founding of the order.

Sewing Circle Meets.

The Sewing Circle of the George Wright Relief Corps met at the court house yesterday afternoon. Next Wednesday, April 28, is the big card party at which the corps will be host to the G. A. R. post of the same name.

Veteran Steamboat Man.

Captain Charles R. Price, chairman of the permanent reception committee of the Portland Lodge, Royal Order of Moose, is a veteran steamboat man of the Snake and Columbia river.

Will Visit McMinnville.

The Knights of Columbus of this city plan to visit McMinnville Sunday, May 9, when a large class of candidates will be initiated.

Joint Teams Dance.

The joint teams of the W. O. W. gave a dance at the Woodman hall on the east side last night, which was well attended and greatly enjoyed.

Royal Circle, Women of Woodcraft.

paid a fraternal visit last night to Montavilla Circle. Mount Hood Circle paid a fraternal visit to Oregon Circle, Russell and Williams avenue, last night.

L. Carroll Day, a Portland singer and author, favored the social sessions of the A. O. U. W. and Degree of Honor with several solos. His accompanist was Miss Mae Moorhead.

The Spanish War Veterans have accepted the offer of the Elks for the Elks' band on Decoration day.

WHAT LABOR IS DOING

Interest in Course of Lectures to Engineers Increases.

May Seek Larger Quarters. Professor Fay H. Rosencrantz of the Oregon Agricultural college will give the next in his series of lectures to the steam and operative engineers on the night of May 1. His subject will be "Refrigeration," and the lecture will be delivered in Alisky hall.

Interest in the series of lectures were present last Saturday in the boiler rooms of the Multnomah hotel to listen to Professor Rosencrantz' lecture and demonstration of "Boiler Room Efficiency." A great deal of interest is being taken in this course of lectures, and if the number of those attending continues to increase there is probability that an invitation to use one of the halls of the central library will be accepted.

Monument to Labor.

Organized labor in San Francisco considers the Panama-Pacific exposition a monument to union labor, as practically all the millions spent in its erection went to members of labor unions.

Financial Aid Sought.

Efforts are being made among the labor unions to secure financial aid for Matt A. Schmidt, now under indictment in Los Angeles on a charge of being implicated in dynamiting the Times building.

Labor Temple Being Renovated.

The Labor Temple is being painted, repaired and improved in different ways this week. The new lockers built for the safe keeping of mechanics' tools are giving satisfaction.

MASON & HAMLIN CO., Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: A fine piano is a dear friend of every opera singer, and I take the greatest pleasure in writing of the unexcelled artistic qualities of the Mason & Hamlin pianos. They are unrivaled for richness and beauty of tone and must commend themselves to all musical people.

I sincerely wish you the great success your noble instruments deserve. Most cordially yours, (Signed) MARY BERNHOFER.

The whole musical world is rendering a similar verdict, and the reason can be found in the intrinsic merit of the piano. You are cordially invited to examine these remarkable instruments at our warerooms.
