Maplewood Man Receives a Letter From Friend Who Scores Neutral Policy.

ATROCITIES RECOUNTED

Does Noble Work, He Says, in Relieving Distress of War's Victim.

H. Denlinger, of Maplewood, Or., has received a letter from a friend in Glasgow, Scotland, that vividly illustrates the state of mind among the people of that country as to the war, It indicates that the United States is being criticized there for favoring Germany, while criticism to the contrary appears in nearly every letter received here from Germany.

"The war is a shameful thing," the friend writes. "How can anyone, in view of the fearful atrocities committed by the Germans, both in Belgium and France, feel the slightest sympathy for them? Let me say here that we in Britain are rather surprised at America, the land of liberty, holding aloof so much and not protesting against the rapine and murders shown by these 'apostles' of 'kultur.'

If Roosevelt had been in power, would have spoken out in defiance of the fear of hurting his political power. We do not need any assistance. I am only saying this because in future years the vacillation and hesitancy of President Wilson will always remain a stigma on America. Even the leading newspapers all have denounced the German mode of conducting war, It is not war, it is murder. Think of the slaughter of innocent children and women, not to speak of the murders in cold blood of civilians. It is wheard of; even your Indians had a certain code of right and wrong. But we will punish them and works them have dearly for them and make them pay dearly for what they have done. "America, through her representative, has done nobly in acting as gobetween, and has been of real service in helping the work of relief of the refugees, also in sending such hand-some contributions toward their sup-All I can complain of is the official attitude. Imagine Great

America sitting on the fence! 'It is a big fight, something colossal. I believe when this war is finished we will see a wonderful change for the better. The class distinction has got a shaking up and we will see bye and bye that Burns was right when he prophesied that 'Man to man the world o'er shall brithers be

ANNUAL BANQUET OF DEADY SENATE WAS A VERY BRILLIANT EVENT

Delta Theta Phi Is Largest Legal Fraternity in United States.

Van event of interest to the legal profession in general and fraternity circles in particular was the regular annual banquet of Deady senate Delta Theta Phi law fraternity, held in the Tyrolean room of the Benson hotel last evening.

Some of the most prominent members of the bench and bar of the Pacific northwest assembled with the active members of Deady senate to pay tribute to their fraternity.

Delta Theta Phi is the oldest and largest legal fraternity in the United States, having been founded at Centre college, Kentucky, in 1858. Its many chapters located in colleges and universities throughout the country are called senates, and are named in honor of prominent jurists of the state in which they are situated. The local senate, charfered in the law department of the University of Oregon, was named in honor of the late Matthew P. Deady, the first United States district judge for Oregon, Deputy District Attorney Thomas G.

Ryan presided as toastmaster. Judge Thomas J. Cleeton delivered an address on the life and accomplishments of Matthew P. Deady, and gave valuable advice to the younger attorneys and students on the duty which they owe to their profession. Senator Arthur Langguth spoke on "Early Fra-ternity History." Judge W. N. Gatens delivered an address on the benefits to be derived by the student and young lawyer through membership in a legal fraternity. Prosecuting Attor-ney Roscoe M. Wright of Stevenson, Wash., spoke on the growth of Delta Theta Phi. Clifford R. Meloney responded to the toast, "Fraternalism and Good Fellowship." August R. Wollenberg gave a short talk on "Reminiscenses of Delta Theta Phi."

Rose Festival's Fame Spreading; Banker Coming

Fame of the Portland Rose restival has spread over the land until it reached Galveston, Texas, where it lodged in the brain of a banker. The banker decided that he must see the parade. He accordingly wrote to the Chamber of Commerce and asked if he could at this time reserve a seat where he could get the best view of the parade. The banker was quite inquisitive about the Festival in the letter received today. What is the exact date of the parade, or is there a pageant every day? Over what streets will the parades pass? What will be the cost of reserving a place where the floats may be seen best?"

The banker will be supplied with all the information availhle on the subject, and encourred to time his visit accord-

Jesse L. Sunirall spoke on "Our Brothers of the South." Thomas B. Collins responded on "The Functions of the Alumni Senata" Harry W. Dahleen delivered "A Few Tips From a Tutor." Louis H. Streck Jr. spoke on "Experi-ences Before the Bar." Frank J. Streibig toasted "Our Senate." Ernst J. Magius Jr. save an account of his recent trip through Europe. The program closed with the recital by Seth L. Smith of his poem, "Dear Brothers All," written for the occasion. neth Bain.
